Government Probes Leaks In Security

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government has been investigating "leaks" of classified military information after it has been secretly given to Congress by U. S. intelligence agencies.

The matter could lead to administration review of the whole question of how widely Congress should be briefed on secret military information, informed sources said today.

The investigation centered on a leak to the press of closed-door testimony by Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), before the Senate space-preparedness committees in January.

Dulles' testimony concerned estimates of Russian missile capabilities.

Security on the whole has been considered good. Publication of what purported to be Dulles' January testimony is regarded in some official quarters as the one major "leak."

But the incident prompted an investigation both inside and outside the CIA.

THE CAKE MISSES

The fourth meeting of the Cake Misses was held at the home of the group's leader, Mrs. L. E. Rodgers.

Deanna Springer gave a demonstration on plain cupcakes. While they were baking, a brief business meeting was held. The club discussed having a Valentine party and appointed members to bring refreshments.

After the adjournment the members made frosting and iced the cupcakes. They were then used as refreshments.

Not Even A Thanks

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A hitchhiker with a powerful odor sneaked a ride with Glen Schroeder of Moore, Tex., Monday.

The odor grew so strong Schroeder stopped to investigate.

The hitchhiker jumped from the car and scampered away.

"That skunk didn't even thank me for the ride," said Schroeder.

Won't Pay Fines, So Man Jailed

DETROIT (AP) — Charles W. Lewis, 37, chose to spend 90 days in jail rather than pay fines totaling $523 for 105 parking tickets dated in December 1958.

Lewis told Traffic Judge John D. Watts he had been walking since then.

A routine check disclosed the unpaid tickets after Lewis was arrested for jaywalking.

PHONE BOOTH GRUDGE

LONDON (UPI) — Mary Alesbury, 53, who admitted smashing the glass in a telephone booth, was jailed for two months Monday after a police sergeant told the court "she has some grudge against telephone booths."

SAFETY FIRST

TOKYO (UPI) — The Yamatake Taxi Co. took strong measures to protect its cabs from striking drivers Monday.

A crane hoisted 26 taxis to the roof of the firm's three-story headquarters.

Sgt. Elvis Bids Farewell To Uncle Sam

FRIEDBERG, Germany (UPI) —Sgt. Elvis Presley began his farewell to the U.S. Army today with a Hollywood-style press conference at which he said he liked Army life so well he was thinking of writing a book about it.

And girls: He said he liked his Army appearance so much he was never going to grow back the long sideburns that were his trademark.

The rock and roll singer leaves Germany Wednesday after 18 months as a soldier with the Army's 3rd Armored Division. During that time he rose from buck private to acting sergeant and won plaudits from all for his soldiering.

Klieg lights flared and flash bulbs popped as Elvis, trim in a uniform bearing his three new stripes, faced questions from more than 200 newsmen in a Friedberg barracks building. Some of the reporters had flown in from London, Paris and Rome for the proceedings.

"Great Experience"

Presley answered the questions fired at him with good humor and hardly a pause.

"The Army has been a great experience for me and I wouldn't have missed it," he said. "I'd like to write a book about what I've done in the service — maybe I will one of these days."

Military policemen wearing sidearms guarded the main gate to keep out teen-age gate crashers. They lined the quarter-mile route between the gate and the service club where the press conference was held.

Presley, who Monday received a certificate of commendation from his company commander praising his "cheerfulness and drive and continually outstanding leadership ability," said his first firm date in the United States will be a television show with Frank Sinatra May 1.

Cut Some Records

"I don't have any firm record commitments but I'd sure like to cut some records soon because I haven't made anything for 10 months, and people soon forget you in this business."

Elvis said he "wasn't ready for marriage," but that he had "met a lot of real nice gals" in Germany.

Discussion Set On Management

Management of the Klamath County Fairgrounds and operation of the Klamath County Fair Board will be discussed at a public meeting in the exhibit building of the fairgrounds at 8 p.m. Friday.

Kenneth Snyder, member of the group that called the meeting, said present county court members and all candidates for the county court were particularly invited.

Snyder said the meeting was called by fairgrounds users to review complaints, and policies of management and operation.
