FRIED APPLE SLICES
NEW YORK (UPI)—Fried apple slices is an old-fashioned dish, but it's just as tasty as it ever was. Cut unpared, cored apples into thick slices. Saute slowly in melted butter until tender. When almost tender, sprinkle with brown sugar for a caramelized effect. Try it with bacon or sausage for Sunday morning breakfast.

Sharp Knives, Long Trips

TEMPLE, Tex. (UPI) — Edward Lee, 63, breezed into Temple recently for the first time in three years and observed that he found "much better highways" on this trip.

Lee is something of a highway expert although his business is sharpening knives and scissors. He does all of his traveling on a bicycle and averages about 10,000 miles a year.

The wiry, gray-haired native of Hot Springs, Arkansas, said he started cycling around the U.S. many years ago.

"I like to see the country," he said.

"I just stay around long enough to get a couple of dollars for food and then move on," he added as he pedaled away.

CROWDED SCHEDULE

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Penn State's football team will play the three major service academies — Navy, Army and Air Force—within a four-week period in the fall of 1962.
