Elderly Man Hit By Auto

Frank Sopieray, 84, 303 Nevada Avenue, was struck and badly injured by a car as he attempted to cross the avenue from Fremont Grocery Store to his home Saturday evening. The car's driver, Orval Lee Johnson, 839 Lakeshore Drive, told city police Sopieray was wearing dark clothing in heavy rain. He said he didn't see the victim until too late. Officers did not cite him. Sopieray was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital by Peace Ambulance. He suffered a compound fracture of a leg. He was said to be in fair condition Monday morning. Another accident in the city Saturday noon produced minor injuries to Sharon Sue David, 22, Chiloquin. Her forehead was lacerated. She was treated at Klamath Valley Hospital and released. Police said she was a passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Sharon E. David of Chiloquin. The accident happened at the intersection of South Sixth Street and Shasta Way. Mrs. David was charged with driving without an operator's license. The other car was driven by Martha E. Fraley, Route 2, officers said. Both cars were damaged moderately. Police also investigated several other minor accidents in the city over the weekend. Aetha G. Shannon, a teacher, reported her car was struck and slightly damaged by a hit-and-run driver as it was parked over the weekend at Crescent Avenue and Canby Street. Jack S. Giffin Jr., 629 Jefferson Street, was cited for failure to leave his name and address at the scene of an accident Saturday afternoon. He struck three cars near the corner of Main and Broad streets around 2:15 p.m., police said. The damaged vehicles belonged to Kathleen L. Kriz, 700 Mitchell Street, Kenneth C. Duncan, Mount Hebron, and James A. Lawson, 109 North Broad Street. Damage was minor. Giffin's case was continued in municipal court Monday. Virginia Jean Johnson of Klamath Falls told officers she scraped a car slightly while parking on Klamath Avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets Saturday afternoon. She left her identification on the victim's windshield. Officers did not cite her. Joe E. Black, 2138 Arthur Street, was charged with reckless driving following a collision with another car driven by his wife Sunday at 5 p.m. at the corner of North Ninth and High streets. Officers said Mrs. Black was turning left as her husband was attempting to pass her. The two cars skidded side-by-side across a sidewalk and into the yard of a home at 304 North Ninth Street. One car hit a tree. Both received considerable damage, but no injuries resulted.

Indian Bureau Announces Reservation Timber Sale

The Portland area office of the Bureau of Indian Affairs this week will offer for sale 3,409,593,000 board feet of saw timber and 968,365 cords of pulp wood, all on the Klamath Indian Reservation, the Department of the Interior announced today. The saw timber, the pulp cordage and the land on which they are growing have a realization value of $68,716,691. They will be offered for sale in 10 different units and are being put up for bid in keeping with the terms of the Klamath Termination Act as amended. The sales, through sealed bids, are dated for April 1, August 1, and December 1. The December sale, involving the North Marsh, the Sykan and Modoc Point units which first were offered in a January sale, will be readvertised. The April 1 and August 1 sales will not be readvertised due to the time element involved. All sales will be governed by specifications and minimum requirements for sustained yield management under provisions of the Klamath Termination Act as amended. A requirement in the readvertisement for the December 1 sale is that the management plans of prospective buyers be received by the regional forester, U.S. Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, Portland, Oregon, not later than next September 1. The results of the Forest Service's consideration of those plans will be returned to prospective bidders not later than November 15. Land on which the timber is located, amounting to 525,743 acres, will be sold along with the timber. Units and quantities in the April 1 sale are: Chiloquin, 55,316 acres, 234,731,000 board feet of saw timber and 149,317 cords of pulp wood with a total realization value of $4,970,230; Yainax, 50,522 acres, 243,783,000 feet of saw timber and no pulp cordage with a realization value of $3,666,694; and Black Hills, 52,368 acres, 307,015,000 cords of saw timber and 37,953 cords of pulp wood with a realization value of $5,576,395. The August 1 sale includes the Yamsay Mountain unit of 34,982 acres, 548,531,000 feet of saw timber and 86,915 cords of pulp wood with a total realization value of $13,345,495; Skellock unit of 64,986 acres, 412,200,000 feet of saw timber and 231,585 cords of pulp wood with a realization value of $10,393,057; Saddle Mountain with 35,695 acres, 259,910,000 feet of saw timber and 4,009 cords of pulp wood with a realization value of $3,051,956; and South Calamus with 67,979 acres, 332,306,000 feet of saw timber and 79,699 cords of pulp wood with a realization value of $6,477,834. The units and quantities in the December 1 sale, the only sale that will be readvertised, are: North Marsh, 45,895 acres, 393,751,000 feet of saw timber and 174,890 cords of pulp wood with a realization value of $11,047,376; Sykan, 61,611 acres, 282,797,000 feet of saw timber and 204,217 cords of pulp wood with a realization value of $6,403,036; and Modoc Point, 56,389 acres, 374,569,000 feet of saw timber and no pulp cordage with a realization value of $3,784,618. The Bureau of Indian Affairs January 20 sold the Antelope Desert unit of 91,540 acres, 68,997,000 feet of saw timber and 464,399 cords of pulp wood for $1,642,182. Bids for the future sales will be received at the Klamath sales office of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Court Begins Assault Trial

The trial of Cleo Williams, accused of participating in an assault on a Chiloquin visitor last July 29, opened in circuit court Monday before Judge James M. Main of Medford. Mrs. Williams, 31, Klamath Falls, and Leon Pearson, 33, Chiloquin, are accused of attacking Carl W. Tomlinson of Portland on a Chiloquin street that evening, beating him, robbing him of $180, a watch, and a cigarette lighter, and leaving him lying in high weeds. Pearson's trial is scheduled to follow Mrs. Williams' trial on Thursday. Selection of jurors occupied most of the morning session. A tentative panel of two women and 10 men had been seated, and was being questioned by David R. Vandenberg Jr. and William Bradshaw, attorneys for the defense, and Deputy District Attorney O. W. Goakey for the state.

Sverre Munson Death Reported

Sverre Munson, 49, a former resident of Klamath Falls, died unexpectedly March 7 in Yakima, Washington. Mr. Munson and his family had moved to Yakima in 1958. He was a native of Norway and came to the United States in 1925 to live with an uncle in Minnesota. He came to Klamath Falls in 1937 and served as general manager of the Modoc Lumber Company until he retired because of ill health. He was a former member of Klamath Lutheran Church, later of Grace Lutheran in Yakima. He was a member also of the Sons of Norway, Order of Lodge, Yakima, and of the Oddin Order, Klamath Falls, No. 460, this city. Survivors include the widow, Caroline; a son, Paul Munson, student at Central Washington College, Ellensburg, Washington; a daughter, Mrs. Ken (Maryann) Ellis, Salt Lake City; two brothers and three sisters in Norway. Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. March 9 from Shaw and Sons Chapel, Yakima. Burial will also be in Yakima. Friends wishing to do so may contribute in his memory to the Grace Lutheran Church building fund.

County Observes 4-H Club Week

About 700 young people in Klamath County are observing National 4-H Club Week this week. The local youth, 9 to 21 years of age, are among the 2 1/2 million 4-H'ers of America who belong to some 92,000 clubs in rural, urban, and suburban communities. Oregon has a 4-H enrollment of 31,844; Klamath County has 700 members. Among the special 4-H Week activities in this vicinity are window displays and special programs. Nationally, 4-H Club Week will be highlighted in Washington, D.C., by six previously selected members who will present the annual 4-H "Report to the Nation." The report will summarize in story and pictures outstanding 4-H accomplishments and current projects. The three girls and three boys, while in the nation's capital, expect to review the report with President Eisenhower at the White House. They also plan to visit with the Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, C. M. Ferguson, administrator of the Federal Extension Service, and various senators and members of Congress on Capitol Hill. Four-H'ers everywhere will share honors with the 296,000 adult volunteer leaders who guide 4-H work in local communities throughout the 50 states and Puerto Rico. The main purpose of 4-H Club Week are to acquaint more young people with the opportunities available to them through joining or forming 4-H clubs, to assist new members in starting projects in farming, homemaking, community service, and other activities, and to inform the public about 4-H aims and methods.

Cow Succumbs

Lloyd Ross, Star Route, Chiloquin, told state police that a cow had been killed on Old U.S. 97 near Fort Klamath some time Saturday. Robert Sevey of Edwards Ranch, Swan Lake Road, said his cabin had been entered Saturday night and 30-06 Winchester rifle was stolen.

Death Claims Mrs. Dunbar, Pioneer Tutor

Mrs. Augusta Parker Dunbar, 74, this city, whose adult lifetime was dedicated to education in the field of elementary teaching, died March 5 in Hillside Hospital following an eight-week illness. Her long teaching career was begun in 1906 in rural schools of Josephine County in Oregon following her graduation from Southern Oregon College of Education in Ashland. Previously, she gained much of her formal preparation for teaching by attending summer sessions in other Oregon colleges. She taught for two years in Grants Pass before coming to Klamath Falls in 1912 where in the years until her retirement in 1950, she served under three school superintendents, R. H. Dunbar, whom she later married, J. Percy Wells and Arnold Gralapp. Her schoolroom work spanned 38 years in Klamath Falls schools. During that time she served as principal of both Fremont and Conger schools. Her other interests centered on youth of the community and on music. For many years she was a member and director of the choir of the First Presbyterian Church where she was a member. She was also a charter member and a founder of Delta Kappa Gamma, a member of the National Retired Teachers of America and a charter member of the Klamath Knife and Fork Club of Klamath Falls. Mrs. Dunbar was married in 1949 to R. H. Dunbar who died in 1955. She was born April 3, 1885, in Orange City, Florida, one of eight children of George H. and Lydia Saxon Parker who brought her to Oregon when two years old. Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Elbert S. Veatch, this city, and Mrs. William E. Holmes, Medford; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Charles Moore, Klamath Falls, and Mrs. Ernest Moser, Stony Point, New York; several nieces and nephews; four step-grandchildren and several step-great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, March 8, from the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Robert C. Groves officiating. Final rites and interment will be in Klamath Memorial Park. Active pallbearers will include Donald Veatch, Robert Veatch, Norman Parker, Lawrence Cooper, Robert Chilcote and James Rogers. Honorary pallbearers will be Arnold Gralapp, Gomer Jones, Bert Thomas, George McIntyre, Arthur E. Dye and Gordon Smith. Friends wishing to do so may contribute to a First Presbyterian Church memorial in her memory.

MRS. AUGUSTA P. DUNBAR

Fence Charge Trial Dated

Two young men accused of breaking down a fence while on a fishing expedition last December 17 pleaded not guilty in district court Monday. The defendants, Ben Mitchell, Klamath Falls, and Leland Ortis, Chiloquin, requested a jury trial. It was set for March 22 at 10 a.m. District Judge D. E. Van Vactor previously had denied a motion to dismiss the charges on ground an amended complaint filed by the district attorney's office left the court without jurisdiction. The youths are accused of breaking down a fence on property of Dayton Hyde at the head of the Williamson River. They are free on $100 bail each. English engineer George Stephenson invented the locomotive. His son, George, invented the tubular bridge.

Church Damage Tops Vandalism

The snow last week was not providential for the First Methodist Church at the corner of Tenth and High streets. City police believe vandals and snowballs were responsible for damage to two stained-glass windows in the church sanctuary. The damage was reported over the weekend by a custodian. Officers found considerable damage to the windows, but no object that could have caused the damage. They surmised the snowballs bounced off the windows and melted. Police also received several reports of thefts and attempted thefts over the weekend. Cage W. Grimsley, 2500 Montelius Street, said someone broke a window in his car as it was parked beneath the South Sixth Street viaduct Saturday evening and stole a blanket. J. R. Shunn, 2030 Garden Avenue, told officers a prospective thief jammed one lock on his station wagon and broke another in an attempt to enter his station wagon to get at a pair of tires. The car was parked across from 823 Walnut Avenue. The theft attempt was made Saturday evening. Lloyd Runyan, 2244 Reclamation Street, reported a thief siphoned about five gallons of gasoline from his car Saturday or Sunday as it was parked at that address. Dale Smelser, 408 Cameron, told police someone stole the hubcaps from his car Sunday morning as it was parked on South Sixth Street at Main Street. He valued the caps at $60. In other activity, police are investigating a report by Lorenzo Escobedo of Klamath Falls that a young man stepped out of his car as both were waiting for a light to change at the intersection of Eighth and Main streets Saturday night, and threatened him with a knife. Escobedo said the man opened his car door. Escobedo was not injured.

County Observes 4-H Club Week

About 700 young people in Klamath County are observing National 4-H Club Week this week. The local youth, 9 to 21 years of age, are among the 2 1/2 million 4-H'ers of America who belong to some 92,000 clubs in rural, urban, and suburban communities. Oregon has a 4-H enrollment of 31,844; Klamath County has 700 members. Among the special 4-H Week activities in this vicinity are window displays and special programs. Nationally, 4-H Club Week will be highlighted in Washington, D.C., by six previously selected members who will present the annual 4-H "Report to the Nation." The report will summarize in story and pictures outstanding 4-H accomplishments and current projects. The three girls and three boys, while in the nation's capital, expect to review the report with President Eisenhower at the White House. They also plan to visit with the Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, C. M. Ferguson, administrator of the Federal Extension Service, and various senators and members of Congress on Capitol Hill. Four-H'ers everywhere will share honors with the 296,000 adult volunteer leaders who guide 4-H work in local communities throughout the 50 states and Puerto Rico. The main purpose of 4-H Club Week are to acquaint more young people with the opportunities available to them through joining or forming 4-H clubs, to assist new members in starting projects in farming, homemaking, community service, and other activities, and to inform the public about 4-H aims and methods.
