Guild Pays For Surgery

PORTLAND (AP) — The $13,517 hospital bill for Siamese twins separated in a lengthy operation last fall was paid by the Doernbecher Children's Hospital Guild, a charitable organization which for many years has underwritten medical care for children. It presented a check Wednesday to the University of Oregon Medical School Hospital. The guild said the bill for Denett Stubblefield's 170 days in the hospital was $3,965. The 232-day stay in the hospital of her sister, Jeanett, cost $9,552. The surgeons who separated the twins, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Stubblefield, donated their services. The twins have left the hospital and are at the family's farm home near Parma, Idaho.

Mafe's Advice Aids Woman

NEW YORK (AP) — "Keep calm in emergencies. Don't get excited, talk in a normal voice." Joan Bianco, 22-year-old blonde secretary, used that advice from her detective husband Wednesday. Returning to her desk from an errand, Mrs. Bianco found a strange man there. She saw that her purse, left under the desk, had been opened. No one else was about at the time. Locking the office door, she told the man, using a normal tone: "Please give me back my wallet." The man hesitantly reached in his overcoat pocket, produced the wallet, and handed it over. When the man tried to flee, Mrs. Bianco grabbed him and called for help. Captured was Philip Palermo, 47, who was held in $500 bail on a petty larceny charge. Lima, the capital of Peru, frequently has dense fogs which make it seem damp. In contrast, there is little heavy rainfall.

New Sugar Law Planned As Weapon Against Fidel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-NC) said today the administration apparently plans to ask for a new sugar law which he said could be a "weapon of reprisal" against Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro. Administration sources confirmed that some changes, which Cooley opposes are included in a bill they intend to submit next week to the House Agriculture Committee, which Cooley heads. But they denied the administration measure is designed as a club against Cuba, which reaps a 150 million dollars yearly bonus under present law. They said their bill is merited for agricultural reasons, and would not hurt Cuba.

Sugar legislation is an especially hot issue this year because of Castro's attacks on the United States and seizure of American-owned property in Cuba. Some congressmen see the sugar bill as a golden chance to hit back at Castro. President Eisenhower has declared against retaliation. Cooley spoke to a newsman after conferring late Wednesday with Under Secretary of Agriculture True D. Morse and other officials on administration plans. Earlier, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told his news conference that the administration had not completed its sugar plan. "As you know," Herter said, "the President has said we are not going to take countermeasures." Cooley said Eisenhower's recent Latin-American trip apparently has made no change in earlier administration plans to seek a four-year extension of the sugar law, a slight juggling of sugar quotas which Cooley termed unfavorable to Cuba, and executive branch power to cut foreign quotas further. "That's their proposal," Cooley said. "But I don't think they should even submit the proposal. He added the President said 'he didn't want any reprisals. He shouldn't ask for the weapons of reprisal.'"

Cooley said the mere proposal by the administration of such a plan would set off wide anti-American feeling in Latin America. "Havana papers already have screaming headlines to the effect that the President is preparing economic aggression against Cuba," he said. Cooley said he favors a one-year extension of the law as is—without presidential power to avoid committee hearings because the bill "should not be considered under an emotional atmosphere." The present law expires at the end of this year. The basic aim of the sugar law, first passed early in the New Deal, is to protect the U.S. sugar industry from violent ups and downs. Quotas prevent an oversupply of sugar in the United States, and prices far above the world market rate are paid for imported sugar to keep it from undercutting domestic growers. Cuba sells about half her annual six millions ton production of sugar to the United States. Supporters of the administration plan said a four-year extension is logical because growers need time for their plantings. Previous extensions have been for four years, at a time. They pictured the administrative power to change quotas as and eastern U.S. refineries wanted a surer source of supply.

DOG CHASERS
WALTHAMSTON, England — (UPI) — Judges at Walthamston Greyhound Stadium declared a race void Tuesday night after two men leaped onto the track and started chasing the dogs, apparently in an effort to hurt up their favorite.
