Rajnus - Longhofer Wedding Vows Exchanged In Mt. Laki Church Rites

MALIN—Before an altar banked with basket arrangements of white stock and pink carnations and lighted tapers in floor candelabra, Margie Ann Longhofer and Jerry A. Rajnus were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon, February 20, at 2 o'clock in the Mt. Laki Community Presbyterian Church.

The impressive double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Andrew Jarvis in the presence of members of the immediate families and relatives.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Longhofer of Henley and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rajnus of Malin.

Escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was lovely in a bouffant gown of silk tulle over white satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and a rounded neckline edged in a ruffle of the tulle. The long sleeves tapered at the wrist. Down the back of the lavishly full skirt, which ended in a chapel length train, were tiers of ruffles.

A lace cap embellished with seed pearls held her fingertip veil of matching tulle edged with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and white carnations with accents of white satin ribbon. The bridal gown belonged to the bridegroom's sister, loaned for this special occasion.

Vocal soloist, Mrs. Bonnie Finchum, sang "At Dawning" and "The Wedding Prayer" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Eileen Herringshaw, who also played the wedding marches.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John Lilly and bridesmaids were Beverly Longhofer, the bride's sister, and Frances Schneck. They wore matching waltz length dresses of embroidered taffeta, the matron of honor in sky blue and the bridesmaids in pink. The full skirt was gathered onto a dropped waistline with the neckline outlined in a band of the same material, ending in a V in the back and trimmed with a soft bow. They carried bouquets of matching carnations with satin ribbon accents in the contrasting color. White shoes, gloves and velvet headbands complemented their pretty dresses.

Dainty little flower girl was Patricia Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Evans, and the bridegroom's niece. She wore a full skirted dress of pink nylon organdy embroidered in blue around the neck. Her hat was of matching material in a bonnet style.

Best man was Ron Kalina and ushers were Denny Holl and Jerry Longhofer, the bride's brother. The ushers were also candlelighters.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Longhofer wore an afternoon dress of deep blue and white print with matching jacket and white accessories. Mrs. Rajnus chose an afternoon dress of jonquil silk and matching accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages to match their costumes.

After the church ceremony a reception was held in the church social room. Cutting the beautifully decorated cake was Mrs. Clarence Christensen, sister of the bride, assisted by Mrs. Brooks Kendall, who also carried the guest book. At the coffee service was Sherrill Schiro and serving punch was Carolyn Coble.

Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Rajnus entertained the bridal party and relatives at a buffet supper at their lovely home in Malin.

After a honeymoon trip to San Francisco, Carmel and Squaw Valley, the young couple will be at home in Malin where the bridegroom is associated in farming operations with his father. For going away the new Mrs. Rajnus chose a gray and pink tweed suit with bone accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Henley High School. Her husband has attended school in San Francisco since his graduation from Malin High School.

The bride's relatives from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Al Longhofer, uncle and aunt, and their daughter, Barbara, from Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Longhofer, brother and sister-in-law, from Colusa, California; and Mrs. Clarence Christensen, sister from Petaluma.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Suzanne Goeller to Richard W. Smith was announced at a traditional Pi Beta Phi cookie-shine on the Oregon State College campus February 25. A silver and white color scheme was used for floral decorations and refreshments. A candle, encircled with white roses and holding the ring, was passed in the traditional manner. The bride-to-be, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goeller, is a sophomore at Oregon State College and majoring in science education. Her fiancé is a senior in social science at Southern Oregon College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Smith, also of this city. No date has been set for the wedding.
