Museum News Now On Sale

Benjamin Swartz, curator of the Klamath County Museum, announced this week the second issue of the museum research papers is published and on sale. He is editor.

This one deals with Samuel A. Clarke's papers, including historical accounts of the Klamath-Modoc Indians at the time of the Modoc War.

It sells for $1.15, is 33 pages in length. Price reductions are available to those who subscribe to the papers. The booklets delve into natural, ethnic, and written history of the Klamath Basin and the neighboring areas.

The papers are published occasionally—that is, they aren't weekly or monthly, but are published when the material is compiled. They vary in price.

Four subscription types are available. Interested persons may specify a general subscription, including all issues, natural history, anthropology or history.

Applications may be sent to the museum, Third Street and Klamath Avenue.

Selection Underway

The involved process of selecting a murder trial jury resumed in circuit court Tuesday morning. Shortly after 11 a.m. a tentative panel of 12 jurors—six men and six women—had been selected after more than a day of questioning by state and defense attorneys. Still to come were preliminary challenges. The state is entitled to six and the defense is entitled to 12.

On trial is Michael Joseph, a 32-year-old ranchhand accused of murdering two men with a 30-30 rifle on the afternoon of September 29. The current trial involves the death of Harry Deman, 56, on the Delbert Lang ranch 15 miles northeast of Chiloquin.

Following this first degree murder trial, Joseph is scheduled to go on trial on a charge of murdering Okey Richards, 34.

The defendant, wearing a broad, black handlebar mustache, sat silently beside his court-appointed attorneys, David Card and Freeman Murray, while questioning of jurors went on. The state is represented by Arthur Beddoe, district attorney.

A tentative panel of 12 jurors having been selected, each side began pre-emptory challenges. The defense first excused Charles W. Dearborn, a Bonanza farmer, but it had as many as 11 more challenges to be heard.

Upon selection, the jury is scheduled to leave for the Lang ranch to view the scene of the alleged murders. Trial testimony is not expected to begin before tomorrow.

Legion Post Holds Meal

LAKEVIEW—Members and families of American Legion Post No. 53 were entertained with an Italian dinner by ladies of the auxiliary Saturday evening, March 12, on the occasion of the 41st birthday of the legion. The affair was held in Memorial Hall.

Highlight of the evening was presentation of cash awards to the three students of the local high school junior class whose essays on "Why My Education is Important to the Future of America" were picked as winners in the Americanism contest sponsored by the auxiliary.

Winners were Kerry Adams, first; Marian Angele, second, and Terry Lincecum, third. Each girl read her essay and cash awards of $5, $3 and $2 were given in that order. Awards were made by Mrs. Helen Anthony, district president, who explained the workings of the Americanism program. Mrs. Helen Porter is Americanism chairman, and Mrs. Barbara Young is auxiliary president.

Delbert Milholland, Lakeview High School principal, was a special guest. He spoke on the American Field Service program and told of plans for the annual dinner which helps finance the program locally.

Mrs. Effie Frain Death Reported

Mrs. Effie Pearl (Gussie) Frain, lifelong resident of Klamath County, died at the family home on the Keno Road Tuesday morning. She was the wife of W. L. (Wren) Frain and mother of Mrs. Vera Clemmens, both of Keno Road. A complete obituary will be published in Wednesday's Herald and News.

OBITUARY WITHROW

Lonnie A. Withrow, 68, died in Phoenix, Arizona, March 13, 1960. Native of Charleston, West Virginia, resident of Phoenix for the past three months. Survivors include the widow, Ila, this city; daughters, Virginia E. Pynes, Helen Walters and Norma Jean Watkins, Klamath Falls; sons, Russell and Robert Withrow, Charleston, West Virginia; sisters, Stella Crookshank and Mrs. Ossie Thomas, Charleston, West Virginia; eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Funeral services will be announced by Ward's Klamath Funeral Home.

Battery Stolen From Garage

This helped themselves to a new auto battery and a new tire and tube and a wheel in a garage owned by Leonard McNabb, 3420 Lindenber Street, Sunday evening or Monday morning. McNabb said his garage is in the process of construction and has no door. He valued the stolen goods at $95.

Thieves also took two hubcaps from a car owned by Oren Kayser of Route 1, Saturday, as it was parked on Eighth Street between Pine and High streets, Kayser reported Monday.

Death Claims Vesta Boggs

BONANZA—Mrs. Lester V. (Vesta) Boggs, 66, who returned to her home in Bonanza on Sunday, March 13, from Klamath Falls, died at her home Monday, about 4:30 p.m. Death apparently followed a stroke.

Mr. and Mrs. Boggs had managed the Cascade Hotel in Klamath Falls for three years.

Mrs. Boggs was a native of Utah. She came to Bonanza in 1926 and was married in Carson City, Nevada, in 1942 to Lester V. Boggs.

Survivors include the widower, Lester, Bonanza; sons, Edmond Miles, Couer d'Alene, Idaho, and Ivan Miles, Lancaster, Texas; daughters, Wanda McHenry and Stella Howard, Salt Lake City, and June Abern, San Francisco; sisters, Jessie Thomas, Pocatello, Idaho, Ida Axtell, Grenada, California, and Ivy Coombs, Thatcher, Idaho; 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be announced by Ward's Klamath Funeral Home.

Swift Rider Sentenced

Justice was swift Monday for an 18-year-old motorcyclist who tried to elude pursuing city police Friday afternoon.

Merle Lee Tracy, 1017 Melhase Avenue, was sentenced to pay $50 or spend 10 days in jail for reckless driving, $25 or five days for driving during a suspended operator's license period, and $5 or one day for driving without a vehicle license.

With his nimble two-wheeler, Tracy got away from officers, but only by traversing a field impossible for a squad car to negotiate. The chase was long and fast.

A rookie patrolman spotted Tracy at the corner of Main Street and Esplanade Avenue. He noticed the cyclist did not have a license plate. He attempted to stop the cyclist.

Tracy ran a red light, drove through the Bud Cloake filling station lot and through an alley to Pine Street, drove down Pine to Tenth Street, from Tenth to Upham Street, to Sargent Avenue, Donald Street to Wilford Avenue, back to Upham to Prospect Street to California Avenue, and, finally, to an open field near Conger School, at speeds up to 60. Tracy ran five stop signs and the red light in the process, the officer said.

Once during the chase Tracy looked backward, and was recognized by the pursuing officer.

A witness of some of the pursuit reported later at headquarters that he would testify against the cyclist. Officers procured a warrant, arrested Tracy and jailed him.

Tracy has not paid the fines.

Scholarship Program Told

Starting today, high school students who will graduate in June from Klamath Union High School and Sacred Heart Academy are eligible to apply for a $500 Step To Knowledge Scholarship, sponsored by Oregon Nevada California Fast Freight, Inc. and Southern California Freight Lines, it was announced by Albert Lynch, manager of the firms' terminal at Klamath Falls.

The Step To Knowledge Scholarship program which opened in over 60 cities throughout Oregon, California and Nevada, will provide 23 students with $500 educational grants to any accredited college or university in the United States.

The grants will be awarded on the basis of scholastic standing, extracurricular activities and educational aptitude. Students interested in applying for this scholarship can receive full instructions and application forms from the principal's office at their high school.

All applications must be submitted through the applicant's school by May 16, 1960. Selection of the winners for this area will be made by a group of professional and business men.

4 Prisoners Sent To Jail

Four prisoners were sentenced Monday to the state penitentiary for terms ranging up to five years. Two of the four men were found guilty in trials; the other two entered guilty pleas.

Sentenced to terms of three years each were Charles Hood Jr. and Louis Gibbons, Chiloquin men found guilty of assaulting Cyril Bierie with a stove poker and a wine bottle during a drinking party last November 11.

Hood was found guilty of assault with a dangerous weapon, as charged; Gibbons was found guilty of a lesser charge, aggravated assault.

Lumber Firm Buys Site From City For $25,000

Property which the city of Klamath Falls purchased in 1910 was sold to the Modoc Lumber Company for $25,000 at the regular Monday night meeting of the city council.

The block in question, site of the present city garage and shop building, was purchased from Alexander Martin, Fred Mills and A. L. Leavitt 30 years ago.

Sale of the property paved the way for the city to construct a new garage and shop building just south of the South Sixth Street overpass.

Contract for construction of the new building was let Monday night to the Vik Construction Company for the sum of $35,157. Basic bid of the firm was $36,217 with a deduction of $1,060 for installation of a gas heating system.

Work on the new building is expected to start immediately. Leveling and grading of the site has been completed.

The council declined a request to enter into a contractual arrangement for the improvement and operation of a parking lot at the corner of Fifth and Pine streets.

A request had been submitted by the owners of the lot, asking the council to pave the lot, install parking meters and operate the lot.

In turning down the request, the council pointed out that a committee outside the council is working with the problem of off street parking, and that nothing would be gained by trying to do a piecemeal job of establishing parking lots.

It was also pointed out that the lot in question is already being used for parking, and such an arrangement, which would involve several thousand dollars of taxpayers' money, would not add to the off-street parking spaces.

Changes were made in the wiring code, with the council amending the wiring code to permit changes in fire zones No. 2 and No. 3.

Previously these zones had required that all wiring should be in metal conduit.

Under provisions of the amendment, wiring in these two zones would be amended as follows: (1) All commercial buildings shall be wired in metal conduit or raceway. (2) All motels, apartment houses and auto courts having more than four family units shall be wired in metal conduit or raceway unless each four units has a complete separation of not less than an hour fire wall. Such structures of more than two stories in height shall be wired in metal conduit or raceway.

The council approved the sale of lots 1 and 2, Block 35, Mountain View Addition, to Lloyd Porter for the sum of $1,450.

They also authorized the sale of lots 1 and 2, Block 23, and lot 1, Block 35, Hillside Addition, to Carol M. Kathey.

A proposal to purchase lots 5 through 12, Block 23, Second Addition, was discussed. A request had been presented by Lloyd Wilson to purchase the lots if they were put up for sale.

The park board agreed to selling the property, and an appraisal was made. The council was informed by City Manager G. S. Vergeer that, in addition to the appraisals, there were some sewer liens against the property which should be included in the sales price. The council approved the move, with the stipulation that funds received from the sale, exclusive of the sewer liens, should be made available to the park department for use in next year's budget.

Approval was granted for the increasing of parking fees for the city-owned parking lot at the corner of Fifth and Klamath. The new rate would raise the fee to $5 per month if paid monthly, or $5 per month if paid by the year.

Mrs. George Harper, 925 Donald Street, said someone threw a rock through a small window in her basement Sunday afternoon. She also reported that vandals let air out of her car's tires as it was parked at home Thursday. Neighbors have complained of similar acts, she told police.

Al Schmeck, 621 Main Street, reported vandals threw rocks through two large windows in the rear of his home Monday afternoon.

Art Students Classes Set

Mrs. Oscar Anderson will instruct the first art class to be conducted in the old Moore mansion in Maple Park since it became headquarters of the Klamath Art Association.

The class, weaving, will be offered beginning Tuesday, March 22, and for two hours each Tuesday thereafter for 10 weeks.

Students may rent table looms from the art association for $2 for the term. Fee for the course will be $17 plus loom rental for those who have none.

The class will be limited to 15 students. Registration may be arranged by appearance opening night or by calling Mrs. Anderson, TU 4-727 in advance.

Mrs. Anderson has studied under noted artists at the University of Washington and the University of Oregon. She is a qualified instructor.

Students may be beginners or advanced weavers.

Other classes in drawing, painting, ceramics and other allied arts will be offered soon, the association hopes.

The classes are for the public, not only for members of the association, its members stress. Association members, though, get discounts in fees and material.

If demand for a specific art course is heavy, the association will attempt to arrange it, members said.

Panes Belted By Children

City police believe children were responsible for nearly total destruction of windows in a home owned by vacationing Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Long, 2010 Van Camp Street, sometime recently.

Officers said 20 windows were shattered. The panes measured from eight inches by 10 inches square to three feet square. Some were double storm windows.

The damage apparently was done with rocks. Officers found a battery of pebbles around the grounds.

The vandalism was reported by a neighbor Monday. Long notified officers he is flying home to survey the damage. The couple expected to remain on holiday until May.

Police also investigated two other cases of window breakage reported Monday.

Mrs. George Harper, 925 Donald Street, said someone
