Jury Picked; Takes Trip To Ranch

A murder trial jury of five women and eight men traveled to the Leibert Lang Ranch northeast of Chiloquin this morning to view the scene of two alleged murders.

The jury—who must determine the guilt or innocence of 32-year-old Michael Joseph—was finally selected at 4:42 p.m. Tuesday after two days of questioning.

Because the charge involved is first degree murder, Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg ordered a 10th, or alternate, juror be chosen.

Joseph, a former mason and general overseer on the Lang Ranch, is accused of killing a former employee, Harry Deman, 56, and another man, Okey Richards, 34, on the ranch last September 20. He is accused of killing the men with a 30-30 rifle.

For two full days, Defense Attorneys Freeman Murray and David Card and District Attorney Arthur Beddoe questioned a full panel of prospective jurors. The regular panel was augmented yesterday by 10 persons released from civil duty before Judge Edward Howell of Canyon City in the third-floor courtroom.

The court excused nine prospective jurors for cause. The defense exercised nine of 12 pre-emptory challenges, and the state exercised one of six allowed it.

Jurors chosen were Lucille Gray and Jimmie McVay of Malin, and Marie V. Dixon, Phyllis Kerns, Lois Casson, Katherine M. Amberg, Paul King, Paul Kincaid, Richard C. Clark, Lester Wells, Frank A. Schomer and Rupert Wolf, all of Klamath Falls.

Charles W. Davis of Klamath Falls was chosen alternate juror. He will hear the entire trial but will not join deliberations unless a regular juror is unavoidably absent or ill.

Car Looted Of Clothes

W. W. Hall who is staying in a local hotel, told city police Wednesday someone broke the right window on his car parked on Klamath Avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets Tuesday night and stole a suit and three shirts worth a total of $60.

Another theft was reported by Beverly Magallanes, 518 High Street, Tuesday. She told officers a small child's tricycle was taken from her front porch sometime over the weekend. The trike is red with built-up pedals and grips, she said.

Police also investigated a report by Felicio Cruz, 1831 Wardland Avenue, Wednesday that his wallet was stolen late Tuesday night.

Cruz said he ordered two men from his home and had to scuffle with them. Later, he discovered the wallet was missing, he said. It contained $25 and personal papers, he said.

Officers found the wallet, emptied of money, beneath the seat of a davenport in the Cruz home. Thieves also struck a coin changer in a laundromat operated by Joe Fales, 225 South Sixth Street, Tuesday night, officers said.

The coin changer had been picked apart. Fifteen dollars was taken, Fales reported.

Shooting Of Woman Under Probe

ASHLAND, Ore. (AP)—A farm slaying left police puzzled today. The body of Mrs. Lester Hamilton, 40, was found in her home, two miles southeast of Ashland, Tuesday afternoon. She had been shot nine times by a .22 caliber gun.

Police have not found the weapon or come up with any suspect yet. Sheriff Joe Walsh said her husband telephoned police at 2:40 p.m., reporting he had just come home and found her body sprawled on the living room floor.

There were no signs of a struggle in the room, and her clothes were not disarranged. An autopsy later, however, disclosed bruises that led to belief she had been in a struggle, Walsh said.

The sheriff said Hamilton said he had left the house at 8:30 a.m. and did not return until the afternoon, when he discovered the slaying. A friend reported telephoning the house at 2 p.m., getting no answer.

Mrs. Hamilton was alone when Hamilton left, Walsh said. Their oldest son, who is 22, is in Germany with the Air Force and two other boys, who are 9 and 14 years, were in school.

Walsh said eight of the bullets were lodged in the woman's body. A ninth was found in the floor. Police in California stopped several trains that passed through Ashland Tuesday afternoon, but found no weapon or suspect, the sheriff said.

He said the investigation by his officers was continuing, aided by state police and the state crime laboratory.

Neighbors, the family and friends were being questioned today.

Easter Seal Drive Slated

The annual Easter Seal sale of the Oregon Society for Crippled Children and Adults will open Thursday, March 17, in Klamath County and the rest of the state, and society officials aimed at a "record response to help meet the unmet needs of Oregon's crippled children."

Mrs. Douglas McKay of Salem, widow of Oregon's former governor and secretary of the interior, is the state chairman. Her late husband was the first president of the society. The 1960 Easter Seal girl is Susan Philip, Eugene, a student at the society's hospital school for crippled children.

"The society caters to no one disease," Mrs. McKay explained. "Its help and assistance is available to all who are crippled, whether by disease or accident. There is no duplication of service offered by any other agency, either public or private."

The state chairman urged parents who do not receive Easter Seals in the mail to send their contributions to Easter Seals, care of their local post offices.

In her letter accompanying the Easter Seals mailed to more than a half million Oregonians, Mrs. McKay urged persons not to approach the state's crippled children as mere statistics.

"They are not mere statistics," she has written, "they are children who need your help, and need it very much if they are to overcome their handicaps. Please think of these children as you would the children in your own block."
