

ANOTHER new family being welcomed to the city is that of Jack Kalinoski who arrived from Prineville this month. He is pictured with his wife, Patricia, and their children, left to right, Wendee, Julie and David. A pet of the household is Rabea, 6-week-old toy poodle. Jack Kalinoski, a graduate of the University of Washington, is the new Klamath County engineer. The family has moved into a home at 2030 Del Moro Street. — Photo by Kettler

SOCIETY

By HELEN BECHEN

Herald and News
Klamath Falls, Oregon

Sunday,
March 20, 1960

NEW to Klamath Falls since January are Dr. and Mrs. Donald Bauer and their five children pictured at their home, 602 Pacific Terrace. Pam, seated center at left, is a student at Klamath Union High School. Becky, seated next to her, and Jack, standing, attend Roosevelt School. Ann and Donald Jr., in front, keep their mother company at home. The family is recently of Coos Bay. Dr. Bauer, a native of New York, trained at Dartmouth Medical School and received his degree from McGill University. His wife, from Illinois, is a graduate of the University of Illinois and did post-graduate work in dietetics at University of Michigan. — Photo by Kettler

A MOVE TO EUGENE was recently made by the Frederick Hayes family. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes, shown with their children, left to right, Frederick Jr., Catherine and Julia, made many friends during their residency in this city and were entertained at many affairs prior to their departure. He was right superintendent for Weyerhaeuser Timber Company and has been transferred by that company to the valley city. Both he and his wife were willing workers in activities of the United Fund, Community Concert, AAUW, Episcopal Church and YMCA. — Photo by Kettler

NEWCOMERS to the city are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McGinty and their children, Susan and Douglas. He has purchased the Tidewater Oil Company distributorship here. Getting settled in a new home at 1600 Eldorado, making new friends and learning to know their way around the city has taken up their time since coming from Medford where they resided for many years. The family are all water skiing enthusiasts and are looking forward to summer to engage in this favorite pastime. — Photo by Kettler

GLENN R. JENNINGS recently arrived in Klamath Falls from Grants Pass with his wife, Marilyn, and their two sons, Terry, 2, left, and Mike, 4. He replaces Rex Dye as county United Fund executive secretary. During their residence in Rogue Valley the past five years, he has taken an active part in Boy Scout, YMCA and civic affairs, and was a member of the Active Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce. They have established a home at 4759 Laverne Street. — Photo by Kettler

AN ISLAND HOLIDAY brings big smiles to the faces of Mrs. R. Parcher Ellingson of Klamath Falls and Mrs. Emory Ellingson of Eugene. They are enjoying a month's tour of the Hawaiian Islands with the Reef Hotel as headquarters. On hand in San Francisco ten days ago to wish them bon voyage were Mr. and Mrs. Sig Ellingson, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Ellingson Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Craig. — Photo by Matson Line

OF INTEREST locally is the picture of Cmdr. and Mrs. Wayne Stuart Nelson and daughters, Lori, left, and Gigi, who recently arrived in Honolulu to make their home. Mrs. Nelson is the former Barbara Johnson, daughter of the late Dr. E. D. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, one-time residents of this city. After several years in France they will reside at Makalapa, Pearl Harbor, where Commander Nelson will be aide to Adm. Harry Felt. — Photo by Matson