pleased to cinders and sod, rest the tab stops on the typewriter and latch onto another batch of favorites with which to live or die as the new sport moves onto the scene.

Some tournament odds and ends . . .

Clayton Hamon, long a sport writer for the H&N, now at the Oregon Journal, noted after the Pelican win Saturday night, "Sure I'm impartial . . . I didn't care who won the game, just as long as it was the Pelicans. It's real easy to be impartial, especially when you've known these kids all their lives and coached most of them as Little Leaguers or something. Yeah, easy!"

Seated just back of the press row at the classic was a lad whose face was a little long . . . Rex Deumer of Grants Pass . . . one of the best players in the state was forced to sit this one out. But he may show up at the U of O next year.

The poorest fan representation of the tourney was that appearing to back the Portland schools . . . and the most enthusiastic group on hand was that supporting the South Salem Saxons. Before game time Saturday night the Saxon fan squad, excellent band, and a model of fans staged a mammoth pep rally at their motel. It was a doozy.

Ex-Washington cage star, Joe Cipriano, was an eager spectator at the meet. With a tourney booklet in hand, Slippery Cip was busy circling pictures of players, making notes and asking questions. He was especially interested in Pelicans Paul Bishop, Steve Boney, Bruce Beckner and Gary Patzke. He was wishing there was an avid Husky alum living in Klamath Falls. "We've got to start tapping the KF market," was his comment.

Missing this year was Don Mcgale, ex-KU cage coach. Don was at the Washington prep tournament, just looking around.

The tournament was the scene of a real tragedy in addition to the usual, but temporary, sorrows that accompanied it.

Just 44 seconds from the absolute end of the Lion season, Bill Barbeau, a 17-year-old junior guard from St. Helens, broke his ankle. Coach Gene Strehlin's scampy Lions, staggering beneath an 18-point deficit to the powerful South Eugene Axemen, batted right down to the wire. Barbeau, a 5-10 reserve, leaped high in the air in an attempt to stop an inbound pass beneath his own basket and when he came down, he came wrong and the ankle snapped. Barbeau crumpled to the floor and for moments the hushed crowd was not sure just what had happened. When the UO medical attendants discovered it was his ankle, he was carried to the training room and administered to, then removed to the hospital for X-rays.

Experts Right On Selections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The experts in the Associated Press consensus of how the Oregon Class A-1 High School Basketball Tournament would end, scored a perfect 1-2-3.

But that is as far as their success went. They missed on No. 4 and No. 5.

The consensus and the tournament both agreed that Medford was the state's best team, Marshfield was second to it and Klamath Falls would come in third.

But the consensus had Hermiston fourth and South Eugene fifth. Actually, South Eugene was fourth, and Jefferson of Portland fifth.

The results not only established the AP consensus of sports writers and broadcasters as excellent at the top but they confirmed the standings in the AP poll which was also as Feb. 15 listed the top three teams in the correct order of their finish.

Cal Game Department Policy On Deer Management Checked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A newly organized citizens advisory committee on big game is going to look into deer management policies of the Fish and Game Commission and Department.

The group met for the first time Friday and agreed to the deer probe as its "primary objective."

The committee, appointed Feb. 15 by Chairman Pauline L. Davis (D-Portola) of the Assembly Fish and Game Committee, also agreed to a "policy" statement. Suggested by Cecil Phillips, Fresno, the policy statement ran almost word for word with a policy adopted by the F&G Commission itself 19 years ago, on June 27, 1950.

It said the object of big game management in California should be "to produce and maintain a maximum breeding stock of deer on all wild lands of California, public and private, consistent with other uses of such lands and to utilize through public hunting the available crop of deer produced annually by this breeding stock."

The committee adopted the policy statement 12-6 over objections of Charles Bull, Redding, who charged it was an attempt to try to "ramrod through" department policy in the committee.

There were signs that the committee, appointed under a resolution at a F&G Commission meeting in January, would be split into two factions—those that favor doe hunting and those who are against it.

The committee was polled on whether individual members favored antlerless hunts. Ralph Edwards, Bakerfield, made the formal motion for a poll, although it was suggested by Bud Boyd, Van Nuys, a member of the Southern California Columnist for the San Francisco Chronicle.

Four members refused to express any opinion before studying the matter further. Two members said flatly they would not favor either-sex hunting under any condition.

Others expressed varying opinions—from favoring doe hunts as sound game management to favoring them only when they were necessary to halt depredation on farm lands.

Burton Banzhaf, Ukiah, another committee member, asked for a poll of committee members on whether they favored the 1957 Busch bill.

The major point of controversy in the bill is a provision that it allows county boards of supervisors a veto power over either-sex hunts in their area. Unless renewed, terms of the bill expire after the 1961 Legislature.

Committee members, with a couple of notable exceptions, did not favor the supervisors' veto power, but most favored other sections of the bill as sound game management.

The committee agreed to meet monthly in Sacramento. The next meeting will be April 22-23.

Duck Runners Win Handily; Fail To Qualify For Rome

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The University of Oregon's ace distance runner—sophomore Deyrol Burleson and graduate student Bill Dellinger and Jim Greife—had an easy time of it capturing victories at Hollywood, Fla., Saturday night but their races were perhaps too easy.

They failed to post times last enough to qualify them for the summer's Olympic trials. They will get other chances, though.

The Hollywood meet, the season's first out of doors, was the first of 17 at which runners equaling prescribed times will make themselves eligible for the Olympic trials that will pick the U. S. Olympic track team for the games to be held at Rome this year.

Burleson, the country's best in the mile, entered the half mile at Hollywood and turned in a 1:39.0. That was :02 too slow for the Olympic time and he may have lost that much by looking back over his shoulder in the stretch to see where his nearest competitor was.

He was 12 yards back. Greife beat another top runner, Phil Coleman of Chicago, by 3.08 seconds in taking the mile in 4:04.9. And Dellinger finished 13 yards out in front in the three-mile, but his time of 14:00.7 was 15 seconds slower than the required Olympic effort and 23 seconds slower than his own best time.

While these runners were competing in Florida, another group from the state participated in an indoor meet at Washington State University.

The University of Oregon's Phil Pacqua polevaulted 13 feet 8 1/2 inches, a new meet record. Jerry Broad of the university won the broad jump at 23-2 1/2 and was second in the hop, skip and jump.

The winner of that event, Dave Karon of WSU, broke a mark set in 1956 by Martin Pedigo of Oregon with his 44 feet, 8 inches.

Bill Ray of Willamette University took third in the decus behind Fred Schaefer of Whitworth and Bill Frank of WSU. The winning toss was 159-9 1/2.

Proposals to purchase said bonds will be received by the undersigned Recorder of said City, up to and including the twenty-fifth day of April, 1960, at the hour of ten o'clock P.M. of said day and opened at a regular meeting of the Common Council immediately thereafter in the Council Room of the City Hall for said City.

Brave Ace Selected Indian Tourney MVP

By JOHN NOLEN
Herald and News Sports Writer
The 1960 version of the National All-Indian Basketball Tournament at Clifton drew to an exciting close Saturday night with Browning, Montana, wrapping up the tourney title with a 55-49 win over 1954 champion Lodge Grass, Montana.

Following the Saturday evening session, which Warm Springs, Oregon, opened by defeating Pine Ridge, South Dakota, 88-80, to earn the third place trophy, a various array of awards and presentations were presented not only to players but to the nation's top Indian dancers who performed between games and during intermissions at the entire four-day classic.

Browning's Murray Harwood, 6-4, 19-year-old scoring ace, was chosen in addition to being selected to the 10-man All-Star team. Harwood, who racked up 75 points during the tourney for a 25-point-per-game average, placed second to Marvin Wilbur of LaConner, Washington, who topped all scorers with 53 counters for a 29.5 average.

Other members of the classic's "dream team" were Larry Pretty Weasel and Owen Old Crow, Lodge Grass; Bob Tom and Tom Estimo, Warm Springs; Marvin LeBaron and Norm Crazy Thunder, Pine Ridge; Tommy Arviso, Window Rock, Arizona; John McCutcheon, Klamath Nation, and Floyd Cross-guns, Browning.

The Team Sportsmanship Trophy was given to the Arapaho Indians from St. Stephens, Wyoming, who were defeated in their only two tourney appearances. One of the losses was by the record-breaking 130-51 score to Lapwai, Idaho.

First place in the Indian dancing and entertainment went to Charles Old Man of the Arapaho tribe. Levi Fast Horse earned the second place award and third went to Dan Scott.

The leading tourney scorers were as follows:

Mel Counts Top Shooter, Bishop 6th

EUGENE (AP) — Mel Counts, who made the all-state team the second straight year, topped the tournament scorers.

And his four-game total of 100 almost certainly would have been higher had he not fouled out just before the end of the third period of the championship game with Medford.

The 6-10 pivot man also grabbed 67 rebounds, far ahead of Wilbur Brown of Jefferson, who was second in that department with 53.

The leading scorers:

75,775 People Witness Classic

EUGENE (AP) — Attendance for the 1960 Oregon Class A-1 High School Basketball Tournament Tuesday night through Saturday night totaled 75,775, just 1,510 less than the record set in 1955.

The total Saturday turnout, for afternoon and night doubleheaders, 15,994, is a record. The old one, 15,164, was set in 1955.

The Saturday night turnout was 10,421, not a record for that evening. Fire chief Frank Strommeh said, though, that regulations kept several thousand more fans out of the stadium.
