Home Subject Of Six Suits

Six new civil suits regarding a home built in the First Addition of Madison Park, near Madison Street off Shasta Way, have been filed in the county clerk's office.

All six suits were brought by workmen or material suppliers, and are styled against Swan Lake Moulding Company, Harley J. Hart, Melvin and Edna McCollum, Arthur and Dorene Beddoe, and others.

The suits, and amounts sought, are:

Joe Bart, $390 for fill dirt and top soil; W. W. Hawley, $1,328 for plastering; Lester D. Chasten, $3,330 for floor covering and tile; Hubert C. Lane, $2,951 for foundation, retaining walls, and fireplaces; William H. Powers, $241 for roofing shakes, and R. W. Mitchell, $253 for concrete work.

Other suits on file: Marcella M. Hayman seeks $40,000 general damages and $1,543 special damages as a result of an accident last June 22 on Old Midland Road. Defendant is Jesse M. Walker.

Klamath Aircraft has brought suit against Medford Aircraft Service to learn who owns a plane left at Klamath Aircraft for repairs in February 22. The suit says Harold Conner left the Lockheed PV-2 for repairs and said it belonged to Medford Aircraft and he was principal officer of the company. Later W. F. Rosenbalm Jr. claimed he owned the plane.

A Portland law firm, Keller and Keller, said a $1,140 bill from Providence Hospital against William F. Priest had been assigned to it for payment. It represents hospital services for Priest's late wife, Bertha K. Priest.

Heaton Steel maintains Barney Hooper owes it $1,243 for merchandise purchased last May and June.

Missile Shot Said Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Redstone missile, similar to the one that will carry the Mercury astronauts on short space trips, has recorded a successful 200-mile flight.

The Army said Monday night's firing was designed to test engineering changes in the rocket. An informed source reported it also was a checkout of instrumentation to be used in Project Mercury flights.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has earmarked eight modified Redstones for use in acquainting the seven astronauts with the capsule that will host one of them into orbit, probably in 1961.

The Redstones will rocket the man-bearing capsules as high as 100 miles, dropping them into the Atlantic 100 miles off Cape Canaveral.
