

MARKETS and FINANCE

Stocks WALL STREET NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today in moderately active trading. Volume for the day was estimated at 3,000,000 shares compared with 3,020,000 Wednesday. Leading stocks rose from fractions to more than a point. A few small losses crept into the list as the first force of the advance moderated and the best gains were clipped. The improvement was general, fostered by Wall Street's response to easier money. Steels, motors, chemicals and selected electronics paced the advance but as profit taking began to take effect some of the top stocks erased their gains and some showed slight losses. Gains of better than a point were maintained by Lukens Steel, Zenith, Gulf Oil, Borgwards, Ampex, American Motors and Chrysler.

CAPT. ROBERT BURKHART

Guest Tutor Aids Police

Capt. Robert M. Burkhardt of the Albany Police Department, a highly trained officer, was instructor this week for a one-day course in Klamath Falls dealing with information sources and uses of various information in carrying out police work. The course was one of a series of six currently offered in 15 Oregon cities for interested police officers of all types. It was sponsored by the Oregon Association of City Police Officers, the Oregon Sheriffs Association, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, state police, the League of Oregon Cities and the Bureau of Municipal Research and Service, University of Oregon. Captain Burkhardt joined the Albany force as patrolman in 1950. He was promoted to sergeant in 1952 and to captain three years later. He was graduated from the FBI academy in 1958 and has completed numerous basic and advanced police training courses in Oregon. He is vice president of the state chapter, FBI Academy Graduates, and is a member of the OACPO Training Committee.

Farm Razed By Fire

BOVANZA—Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Brett who farm near here lost their home and a storage shed to fire Wednesday afternoon. The Bretts were inspecting a sheep shed some distance away from home when they noticed the fire. They said the living room was engulfed in flame when they arrived. The small one-story frame home burned to the ground. County firemen were able to save about 300 pounds of frozen meat, but the freezer and all other contents were destroyed. The storage shed, measuring 20 feet by 30 feet, adjacent to the home was destroyed, too, and so were its contents. Firemen were not sure how much the two buildings contained. No one was at home when fire broke out. The Brett children were in school. The couple suspect a living room furnace started the fire. They were partially insured, reports indicated. The Bretts lost a barn laden with hay and grain to a fire a year ago last summer.

Scientist Warns U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The scientist known as the father of the hydrogen bomb says the United States would become a second-rate power if it accepted an indefinite ban on all nuclear tests now. Dr. Edward Teller told a Los Angeles audience Wednesday that the nation instead should seek a halt on air, surface and undersea tests. He said the Soviet Union could disregard an overall ban by underground tests that could not be detected. Teller is director of the University of California's Radiation Laboratory at Livermore.

Actor Aids Wife To Get Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Robert Storr helped his wife obtain a divorce on grounds of cruelty Wednesday. Mrs. Storr, an actress known as Sandra Lane, was short on corroborating witnesses, so her husband took the stand to back up her testimony that he sometimes walked out on her at parties. Mrs. Storr's lawyer then took the stand to corroborate the corroborating testimony, saying that he saw Storr walk out on her once, leaving her crying. He was sworn in as a witness to show there was no collusion between the couple in the divorce. Storr is 33, his wife 29. She did not ask for alimony.

Dam OK Given To Power Firm

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California-Oregon Power Company had informal permission today to build Iron Gate Dam on Klamath River below Copco Lake. The Water Rights Board was expected to issue the formal permit to proceed with the project at a meeting here next month. Lee Carter, an engineer for the board, said that "for all practical purposes" the approval was granted Tuesday. Board members approved the terms and conditions of the permit to Copco. Iron Gate will be a regulatory dam designed to smooth out fluctuations in the river caused by increased power demands.

ATTEND POLIO CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dr. Albert Sabin, inventor of the live polio vaccine, will be among four American scientists attending a joint U.S.-Soviet conference on poliomyelitis in Moscow May 12-16. The conference will be part of the U.S.-Russian Program of exchange visits of medical specialists. Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said Wednesday.

Tempers Begin To Flare As Trial Enters 9th Day

The exhaustion of continuous legal debate for days began to show clearly in raw nerves and riled tempers as the Michael Joseph murder trial entered its ninth day today. Attorneys for both state and defense scrapped—sometimes trivially, sometimes determinedly—over the slightest points, and accusations of "liar" and "untruth" began to be heard. The debate sharpened considerably after both District Attorney Arthur Beddoe, for the state, and Attorney Freeman Murray and David Card, appointed for the defense, had rested their principal cases. Beddoe opened rebuttal testimony in the state's effort to break down the testimony of 52-year-old Michael Joseph had given after two full days on the witness stand. Joseph is accused of first degree murder in the deaths of two men, Harry Deman, 56, and Okie Richards, 34, last September 20 on the Delbert Lang ranch near Chiloquin. Beddoe's rebuttal case centered principally on a lengthy statement Joseph had dictated in his office the day after the shootings. Joseph repeatedly claimed the statement was "not the way he had told it," and "was misconstrued." He refused to sign the statement, but initiated one correction. He maintained he had not read all of it, and said he refused to sign it because it was incorrect. The last defense witness to testify corroborated this contention in the face of a blistering attack by Beddoe. The witness was Deputy Sheriff Louis Bogart, who was present when the statement was dictated in Beddoe's office. Murray had asked Bogart why Joseph refused to sign, and Bogart had replied, "Well, he said something about not wanting to sign because it was not exactly as he had told it."

Beddoe left his chair and walked toward Bogart. "Who planted this idea in your mind? Did somebody tell you to say this? Somebody in your office?" "If it wasn't true, I wouldn't have said it," Bogart snapped. "Now, Mr. Bogart, you know that's not true," Beddoe said referring to the testimony. "You calling me a liar?" Bogart demanded, rising from his chair. "In that respect, I am, yes," Beddoe answered. Both defense rose in unison to object to intimidation of the witness, but Judge David R. Vandenberg cooled the atmosphere. Deputy District Attorney O. W. Goakey testified today that Joseph's contention Goakey had offered him freedom or bail as a reward for a statement was not true. Card asked Goakey if he had not told Card and Murray last night behind the courthouse that he had told Joseph at the time he could help "get this straightened out."

Water Law Scrutinized

DORRIS—At a special meeting Monday night, called for the purpose of the consideration of a municipal water users ordinance, the Dorris City Council adopted the provision for an ordinance pertaining to water main extensions. Clerk Virginia Hamilton was instructed to ask City Attorney George Tebbe of Yreka to draw up a final form of the ordinance worked out by the board. Present at the council meeting was Frank Goldbar who is presently engaged in leveling and developing two blocks of property owned by him, Blocks 2 and 3. Burn's Addition, located in the north part of Dorris, where no water mains now exist. Goldbar was told by the council that in view of the new regulations contained in the proposed ordinance, a compromise should be negotiated since the development was begun prior to the proposed changes. The city will bear the cost for installation of water mains to Block 3, but owners of applicants for water service to property located in Block 2 will be subject to the new provisions contained in the proposed ordinance governing water main extensions as drawn up by the city board.

Bank Notes Deposit Gain

The United States National Bank of Portland, with 73 banking offices throughout Oregon, has marked up close to a four-million-dollar gain in deposits since the comparable call date in March, 1959, according to figures released to the comptroller of currency as of March 15, 1960. Total deposits were $793,840,321, as of the March 15 statement call, compared with $790,025,949 as of March 12, 1959. Loans and discounts stood at $399,840,146 as of March 15. The Klamath Falls and Town and Country branches reported combined deposits totaling $15,462,022.47, according to Lester C. Offield, manager of the downtown Klamath Falls branch. Total loans and discounts for the two local branches stood at $8,535,573.34 for the same period. Total resources for Oregon's only home-owned, statewide bank rose from $874,203,131 as of March 12, 1959, to $890,472,839 as of March 15. During the past 12 months, U.S. National has opened new branches in Baker, Hallway and Warrenton, and new branches in Portland including Industrial Center, 160th-Division and Lombard-Emerald. A new building for the bank's University branch in Salem was opened and a major remodeling project at the North Salem branch completed. A modern new building for the bank's Pendleton branch is scheduled to open this May and mid-summer will see the establishment of U.S. National's new branch in the Lloyd Center as well as the completion of new buildings for the Baker, Tigard and Tillamook branches. Late this year the new downtown Eugene branch, at Eighth and Willamette, one of the major building projects in the state, will be completed as well as the new Roseburg branch building.

60 To Partake In Performances

LAKEVIEW — Sixth students from the Lakeview schools will take part in the Southern Oregon Solo and Ensemble performances Saturday, March 26, at Medford. Taking part in the instrumental solo and ensemble groupings will be 53 students from the bands under the direction of James Arment. In the vocal section of the program will be students under the direction of Robert Shottwell. Mrs. Herbert Sanderson, local instructor in piano and organ, has also arranged for some of her students to enter the competition. About 25 of the students will leave Lakeview Friday afternoon and the remainder will leave Saturday morning. All are scheduled to return home that evening.

Cops Locked Out Of City Bastille

OCALA, Fla. (AP) — Police found themselves locked out of the city jail. No one would say officially, but apparently the safety latch was thrown from the inside Wednesday by somebody coming out of the door. While prisoners who had been out on a work detail stood around waiting to get in for a meal—officers finally managed to break in with the help of an ice pick and a crowbar.

Cars Collide

State police said cars driven by Shirley Louise Soran, 3229 Boardman Avenue, and Chester Manuel Klock, 4846 Hilyard Avenue, collided about 8 p.m. Wednesday on South Sixth Street. Both cars were towed away, but no persons were injured, police said.

Annual Installation

The public is invited to the annual installation of officers of Naomi Shrine No. 5, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, Saturday, March 26, at 8 p.m. Ceremonies will be in the Masonic Temple, 418 Klamath Avenue. A reception will follow.

Finance Whiz Slates Talk

Merryle Stanley Rukeyser, for 40 years a financial and economic newspaper and book writer, will speak the evening of Wednesday, March 30, to members of the Klamath Knife and Fork Club in the banquet room of the Willard Hotel. Though he deals with economics in a scale general enough to have been invited frequently to advise the federal government, much of Rukeyser's fame was earned through tips to families and individuals on how to get more for their money. Advance releases indicate the latter is the economic level he will discuss in his visit here. Perhaps he will also dissect the overall picture, for the theme of his address is "What's Ahead for the U.S.A." Rukeyser began his career at age 23 as the "boy wonder financial editor" for the New York Herald Tribune. His financial column today is the nation's most widely syndicated. He has written seven books—among them the very popular "Financial Security in a Changing World," his latest. Rukeyser is considered a "tough individualist." He champions the American way of life and believes only a firm stand against an avowed enemy can safeguard the American system. He appeared last year on an international television broadcast from England, representing the American Information Agency. He has been invited to speak 22 consecutive years before members of Milwaukee College Endowment Association and more than 20 times before members of the Washington Athletic Club. Dinner will be served promptly at 6:45 p.m. Reservations are necessary.

MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER

'Race' Driver Arrested By KF Police

Donald Huitt Switlick, 22, of 2219 Winter Avenue, was arrested for reckless driving after a high speed race with police in an auto and on foot at Main and East Main streets Wednesday night. Officers spotted Switlick driving an ancient Pontiac north near Mills School on East Main Street. He was speeding, they said. They gave chase and reached speeds of 50 miles per hour before overtaking Switlick. Switlick stopped his car at Main and East Main, jumped out and ran toward Michigan Avenue. Officers overtook him. Switlick was ordered to pay $25 or spend five days in jail in municipal court Thursday morning. In other activity, officers learned from Robert Lee Smith, of a local hotel, that a 23-year-old woman grabbed a bag of groceries from him and ran away Wednesday night. Smith said the woman approached him on the street and offered to carry the groceries. He turned down the offer. She snatched the bag and dashed into the restroom of a Klamath Avenue tavern, he said. He waited until she came out. When she spotted him waiting, she ran out the rear tavern door and disappeared in the dark. Smith said he knows the woman. He had not signed a complaint Thursday morning. Officers also located a 3-year-old boy reported missing from his Union Avenue home for more than an hour by his mother Wednesday afternoon. The boy was spotted by a passing motorist after local radio station broadcast his description. He was found about a mile and a half away at the corner of Prospect and Upham streets.

KF Firemen List Calls

City firemen were called at 7:32 a.m. Thursday to stand by while a flooded oil stove at the home of J. W. Kellert, 340 North Ninth Street, cooled off. No damage resulted. Suburban firemen continued their counterattack against a spring grass fire offensive. They put out fires Thursday afternoon in back of the O.K. Rutherford Welders plant, at 304 1/2 South Sixth Street and on property occupied by Lyle Redfield at 471 Frieda Avenue. No damage was caused. The Sixth Street fire was touched off by sparks from a cutting torch men were using to dismantle an old truck body, firemen believe. They suspect children playing with matches were responsible for the latter. Oregon Technical Institute firemen also saw action Wednesday afternoon. They were called to the J. W. Tilton farm near Henley to quell a trash fire that threatened to get away. No damage resulted.
