

Lawyer Hits Parent Lack

PORTLAND (AP) — In a democracy adults have the right to choose their own reading matter, a California attorney told a state Legislative Interim Committee on Criminal Law meeting here Saturday.

Stanley Fleishman, who represents various publishing firms, said the mere fact literature or pictures are offensive to large groups is no reason to suppress them.

He told the committee, which is seeking recommendations for an Oregon law on obscene matter to replace one declared unconstitutional, that the U. S. Supreme Court by 9-0 decisions has given the clearest protection to "Playboy-type" magazines.

The uneducated, he said, have as much right to read about sex in non-literary magazines as the educated have to read of it in novels. He made it clear he was not talking about pornography, already outlawed.

Fleishman, when asked about protecting juveniles, said there might be merit to limiting sales of such publications to adults, but said the problem of protecting the juveniles rested in parental responsibility.

His views ran counter to those of Mayor Terry Schrunk's Portland Committee for Decent Literature and Films. Proposals for a state law were presented by City Attorney Richard A. Braman.

Fleishman said Braman's proposals went far beyond Supreme Court decisions and added there was no support for them.

The committee jabbed at the mayor's committee, saying: "If people would spend less time telling other people how to live and more time with their children we wouldn't have so many of these problems."

Castro Plugs Defense War

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro left a sickbed Sunday to heat the drums of fear of invasion and whip up enthusiasm among his Cubans to dig deeper into their pockets to finance a defense war chest.

Looking haggard from the effects of the gripe, the bearded prime minister charged big American business interests were organizing armies of mercenaries to invade.

With his brother Raul, Cuban minister of armed forces, by his side, Castro warned in two fiery speeches that Cuba's new militia — the people's army — would destroy any invasion.

Dam In Danger

FORTALEZA, Brazil (AP) — A break in the Oros earth dam sent floodwaters rolling into the Jaguaribe River Valley Sunday, but officials expressed confidence the bulk of the dam would hold.

About 50,000 persons have been evacuated to safe high ground in the region of northeast Brazil, usually a drought area but now being plagued by heavy rains. So far no casualties have been reported.

Bomb Blasts Trip Disaster

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Three bomb blasts in separate sections of Oklahoma City Saturday night were the grim prelude to an air disaster which took five lives Sunday.

There were no injuries in the blasts which damaged homes and autos owned by three production employees of the Oklahoma Publishing Co.

The explosions occurred within 90 minutes of each other. Officers called for demolition experts from Ft. Sill, Okla., to determine the nature of the explosions.

A giant Army transport helicopter which carried the demolition experts here, crashed during a landing approach after the return to Ft. Sill. All five crewmen aboard were killed.

They were: C.W.O. Dewey L. Seigler, 32, Wallhalla, S.C., pilot; C.W.O. Carl V. Ayers, 32, Carrizo Springs, Tex., copilot; Sgt. Raymond D. Pestana, 32, Honolulu, Hawaii, crew chief; Sp.5.C. John C. Dollahite, Jr., Blanco, Tex., and Sp.4.C. Weldon C. Amason, 20, Pinedale, Tex.

An Army spokesman said the twin-engine H37 helicopter apparently plunged nose first through a log into the ground.

The demolition experts later returned to Ft. Sill by auto with samples of materials from the explosions here.

The blasts damaged the homes of Mrs. Walter Sherry, Jr., Bill Martin, and Alvin Winn. Autos owned by Sherry and Martin also were damaged.

Police said they were investigating the possibility of a connection between the blasts and two residential fires March 29.

The fires damaged a home owned by Marvin Hawkins, and another home formerly occupied by Dave Wilson.

Wilson and Hawkins are also production employees of the Oklahoma Publishing Co. which publishes the Daily Oklahoman and Times.

They, like Martin, Winn and Mrs. Sherry, took leave of their jobs here for temporary employment with the Portland Oregonian and Journal last November and December.

The Portland newspapers have been under a labor strike since last November.

Police Inspector Bert Giddens termed the bombings the works of "hoodlums and gangsters."

JOKE'S ON ANNIE

LIVERPOOL, England (UPI) — Mrs. Annie Tedcastle knitted a few tiny garments for her best friend's grandson, wrapped them up and addressed them, and as a joke wrote "to his majesty the baby" on the package above her friend's address.

The tiny garments were delivered to Buckingham Palace and Mrs. Tedcastle's friend, Mrs. Mabel Kelsey, got a nice thank you note from a palace official.

Nixon Facing Necessity Of All-Out Campaigning

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's enviable position — of remaining practically speechless while running for the presidency — will soon be coming to an end.

He has been able to stay quiet so far because he has been in a doubly happy spot. He is the only one in sight for the Republican presidential nomination and he has been given President Eisenhower's blessing.

While this carries some advantages they may be more than offset by the problems ahead once the campaign starts next summer.

Here are some of the obvious advantages: 1. Since he seems sure to get the Republican nomination he doesn't, like the Democratic hopefuls, have to scramble for delegates to the convention or wear himself down in state primaries.

2. Because he has been so closely identified with the highly popular Eisenhower, he can hope, but that's all he can do, that voters will have some of the same regard for him.

Here are some of his problems: 1. He must buck a strong Democratic tide. In the last three elections — 1954-56-58 — the voters showed a clear preference between parties by giving Democrats control of Congress.

The fact that Eisenhower won in 1956, while the voters turned Congress over to the Democrats, showed how clearly they were making a distinction between him and his party.

Since Nixon does not have Eisenhower's personal appeal, this next election may be more a matter of choosing between parties than between men.

2. Nixon has conservative Republican support but he will also need liberal Republican and independent votes to win in November. This confronts him with his greatest problem.

He must decide whether to trail along on the Eisenhower record or break out from behind the President's shadow and stand for something on his own.

This has been a very conservative position.

BLAME ROCKSLIDE

PARIS (UPI) — The collapse Dec. 2 of the Malpasset Dam with a resulting death toll of 384 in the flood of the Riviera town of Frejus was caused by a rockslide and not because of weak construction of the dam. This was the conclusion of a preliminary report published by a governmental committee investigating the disaster.

Jackson Gets Vacant Post

PORTLAND (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) will fill a vacancy on the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission left by the death of Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) earlier this month.

This was announced here Saturday night by Francis W. Sargent, the commission's executive director.

In a talk to the Federation of Western Outdoor Clubs' third biennial conference on Pacific Northwest wilderness problems, Sargent warmly praised the late Oregon senator.

He said, "Dick Neuberger was a statesman whose leadership made a great contribution in many fields, but his dedication and service to the cause of conservation will be a lasting source of inspiration. He will be missed."

The commission, an independent body responsible only to the President and Congress, is making a four-year survey of the nation's recreational facilities and planning a long-range program for their use.

Sargent said the huge population growth and fresh demand for recreational facilities are making the commission's job a big one.

He said, "I am told that potential users are added to our population at the rate of one per every 11 seconds. It seems certain that these new citizens will have more leisure time and more money to spend than their fathers."

"And yet all these new demands must be met by a number of acres which we cannot increase."

QUAKES STRIKE

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — A series of minor earthquakes shook New Zealand's two main islands today but no major damage was reported. Windows and crockery were shattered in Christchurch.

Marseille, France's big Mediterranean port city, which has a heavy concentration of Communists, gave the Soviet premier the warmest welcome since he arrived in France Wednesday for a 11-day visit.

Despite pelting rain, tens of thousands turned out to cheer his caravan as it swung down the famed Rue de Cannebiere, the city's Fifth Avenue.

Chants of "Khrushchev! Khrushchev!" brought an enthusiastic response from the Soviet premier, who beamed and gestured in his closed car like a victorious prize fighter.

He was in good humor and good voice at an official dinner. The grueling tour has left the 63-year-old Soviet leader looking tired at times, but the cheers of crowds seem to serve as a tonic to bounce him back to high spirits.
