One Of The Four Horsemen Recalls Rockne's Psychology

By GEORGE ESPEY

SCRANTON, Pa. (U-P)—No matter where he goes or what he does, the memory of Knute Rockne lingers with Jim Crowley, one of Notre Dame's immortal Four Horsemen.

Rockne died 29 years ago (March 21) in a plane crash in Kansas.

Crowley, 57, who now lives in Scranton and is a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, recalls how quickly the news spread.

"I was head coach at Michigan State, I had just returned to my office that afternoon from a civic club luncheon in Lansing, Michigan."

"Phones in my office and several adjacent offices in the field house all started ringing at once. The calls all were for me. They were friends phoning to tell me a plane had crashed and Rockne was reported aboard."

"I was deeply shocked. Rockne was so great because of his dynamic personality and inspirational leadership."

Crowley never tires of telling stories illustrating Rockne's dynamic personality.

"Rockne was a great dressing room psychologist," he says. "He was a great orator and a great actor. He could make his lips tremble and get a lump in his throat at the right time."

"He always had some trick to fool you. When you figured you were on to him, he'd come up with something entirely different and you'd go for it."

"I remember one Saturday when we were playing a tough Army team. Before the game Rock said Army was going to kick us off their schedule but he saw no reason why they should kick us off the field."

"He said that since this was our last game with them he wanted us to win badly. We did handily."

"The next day there was very little in the newspapers about our wonderful exploits. The big story was that Rockne had signed a new five-year pact with West Point officials."

"The agreement was signed 10 a.m. Saturday and Rock probably had it in his pocket when he gave us that pep talk."

"I remember my sophomore year in 1922. We had nine sophomores on the first team and we were playing Georgia Tech, which was favored by some 30 points. They hadn't lost a home game in several years."

"Rock came in the dressing room with a bunch of telegrams in his right hand from prominent alumni giving encouragement. He probably sent them himself, collected."

"But he didn't talk too much about those. Rather he called attention to one telegram in his left hand which he said was from his son, Billy, who was critically ill in a South Bend hospital."

"Then he got the lump in his throat and he read the telegram. 'I want Daddy's team to win,' it said."

"We took a physical beating and made something like 20 goal line stands but we won 13-3."

"When we returned to South Bend there were about 10,000 fans to greet us and right up front was Billy Rockne looking as healthy as one of those children in a milk ad. And most of us were basket cases."

"But the best bit of psychology came a few years after I had graduated in the late 20s."

"You remember Joe Byrne, a friend of Rock's who now is in Newark, New Jersey, insurance executive."

"Well, this was before Notre Dame's game against the famous Southern California point-a-minute team which usually scored 50 to 60 points a game."

"Rock and Byrne were walking from the hotel to Soldiers Field in Chicago and Rock was telling Byrne he was very much worried. He had racked his brain to come up with something to give the Irish the emotional lift they needed to win.

"Byrne suggested Rockne tell the squad this was his last game because Eastern alumni were after his scalp."

"That's what Rock told the boys,"

NFL Convenes For First Meet

CHICAGO (AP)—The busy National Football League, holding its fourth meeting in five months, gets together today to set up a 1960 playing schedule and television program.

The league, which has added a 13th member, Dallas, and has switched the Cardinal franchise from Chicago to St. Louis, will open its season on the last Sunday of September as usual.

However, 13 weekends will be necessary to complete the regular season with each club playing 12 games and having one open date.

The league can accept a three-million-dollar package deal for televising every game played or retain the old policy under which several clubs had their own networks.

"But he didn't talk too much about those. Rather he called attention to one telegram in his left hand which he said was from his son, Billy, who was critically ill in a South Bend hospital."

"Then he got the lump in his throat and he read the telegram. 'I want Daddy's team to win,' it said."

and they all started crying. So did Byrne. Then Rock shouted: "Go out and win."

"Notre Dame won and later Byrne asked Rockne what he was going to tell the boys Monday."

"Rockne's answer was: 'I am resigning unless I get a letter of apology from the Eastern alumni.'"

Growing African Lion Sold By Want Ad

When H. R. Ankrom, Washington, D. C., bought an African lion "just for laughs," he forgot about a young lion's tendency to grow bigger and bigger.

Finally, with a 160-pound head and a 100-pound body, the lion was sold by a want ad in the Washington Post.

The lion, named "The Wheeling Intelligence," was sold to a man in the Washington Post who received at least ten other offers.
