ROLLED SANDWICHES

If you want to use pumpernickel bread for rolled sandwiches, have the loaf sliced very thin. To prevent the slices from breaking, roll each one with a rolling pin before adding the filling.

CRABMEAT

Canned crabmeat is a useful food to keep on hand when it comes to meal-planning, because it is good in so many ways—cocktails, salads, souffles, creamed in patty shells or used in casseroles.

Travel Fashions Pretty, Practical

NEW YORK (NEA) — Fashions for the traveler to a sunny climate couldn't be prettier than they are this year. Or more practical. Designers have seen to it that not only will you winter vacation in style, you'll travel in style. And comfort. And the clothes in which you travel will go right on into spring for back-home wear.

They've given us gals fabrics that won't wrinkle, muss or lose their pleats on route. They've given us jacket costumes, trim coats that are waterproofed to double as raincoats and the traditional fresh touches of white that are the harbingers of spring.

Coat dresses, which can be worn as coat or dress, are ideal both for travel now and for wear later on. The coat-dress can go under your winter coat now and can be worn in the tropics and this spring as a lightweight coat.

For the gal who's addicted to knits for travel, there never were so many before. Or such well-behaved knits. They won't sit out, won't crumple, won't produce those nasty wrinkles across the stomach. And, in many tropical climates, they can tour around on a rainy day or a chilly evening when you're sightseeing.

On The Dock-et

By HELEN YAHRAUS

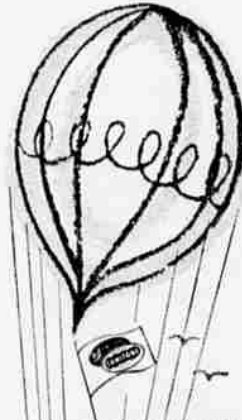

Election year in the space age was the theme used for the Decennial Dance at the Yacht Club March 26. Nearly 90 crew members and guests danced beneath jewel colored "sputniks" and "campaign posters" were placed around the club. Past Commodore's names were used in slogans and clever cartoons designed by Estelline O'Harra. Commodore W. L. Whytal introduced the special guests of the evening as follows: Rear Commodore Ray Byrnes; past commodores H. O. Juckeland, Maury Clark, Orin Sismore, Larry Brown, Neil Black, Howard Pernel and Don Sloan. William Owens, Robert Sprout and Wayne Esperson were unable to attend. Past Commodore Lewis Kandra was honor guest and a lovely spring bouquet was presented to Mrs. Kandra by Mrs. Whytal. Helen Yahraus announced that the fine stereophonic system which was initiated that evening had been presented by the Anchor Club as a 10th anniversary gift to the club and she introduced member Lloyd Derby who had assisted in plans. A delicious Lenten Smorgasbord planned by the ladies was enjoyed. Commodore Whytal called a board meeting March 27 and plans were discussed for outdoor activities under the direction of E. A. Guarnera and for cleanup week-ends, April 2 and 3, and April 9 and 10. All Hands on Deck! If you are unable to come, send Cousin Ernie or the hired man. We are like recruiting offices in wartime, if the body's warm and still breathing, we can use him.

Mrs. Al Schreiber is in charge of plans for the Easter Egg Hunt and family ham dinner scheduled for April 17. The little folks will search for colored eggs at 1 p.m. and reservations can be made for the dinner which follows. It's going to be a good cruise this year, so come aboard.
