Ed Group Plans Meet

The Oregon Education Association Placement and Local Associations Committee has scheduled an open meeting in the faculty dining room of the Klamath Union High School cafeteria from 9:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. April 9, to benefit members in this area.

The date coincides with the Klamath County OEA meeting. The KUESS meeting is one of a series planned to give OEA members opportunity to attend committee meetings and to participate in discussion. State committee members also will help install new local officers. A luncheon will be served. Chairman of the committee is Don Brand of Florence, Oregon.

Three general questions will be discussed during the meeting. They are:

- 1. Should OEA membership be restrictive and if so how much so?
2. Should OEA membership ever be denied, and if so, why?
3. Should free placement be offered members after five consecutive years of membership?
The committee will also ask for discussion of local membership association problems and of membership action taken recently by the Representative Council.

Solons Table Rights Revise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today rejected a move to limit the key voting rights section of the civil rights bill to congressional elections. A vote of 72-16 tabled and thus killed an amendment by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC) that would have stripped the measure of its application to state and local elections. Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) is pending a proposal to strike out the whole section providing for federal court registration of Negroes and others found to have been denied voting rights by discrimination.

Fund Drive Results Told By Hatfield

Gov. Mark Hatfield has announced that central Oregon, under the chairmanship of B. A. Stover, has received contributions in excess of its quota toward the building of the Eisenhower Presidential Library.

Forty thousand dollars is the amount Oregon is pledged to raise in the nationwide drive for funds to establish the three million dollar library in the President's hometown of Abilene, Kansas.

Oregon joined the non-partisan campaign in December at the request of the Governor's National Committee for the Eisenhower Presidential Library. This sponsoring group is headed by Kansas Gov. George Docking and former U.S. senator from Kansas, Harry Darby. The organization is along the lines of that which furnished the Truman Library at Independence, Missouri. The library is scheduled for completion in January, 1961. It will complete the Eisenhower Center, which now includes the Eisenhower Museum and the Eisenhower family home.

Hatfield said that according to state co-chairmen for the fund drive, Thaddeus B. Bruno and Thomas C. Young of Portland, four other chairmen have reported that their area quotas have been met. They are Anthony Yturri, Ontario; David C. Baum, La Grande; Ira D. Staggs, Baker, and Selmar Hutchins, Roseburg. Other state chairmen still seeking contributions are Glenn Jackson, Medford; Gene L. Brown, Grants Pass; Robert Mix, Coquille; A. M. Collier, Klamath Falls; Lou Levy, Pendleton; Bruce W. Williams, Salem; William N. Russell, Eugene; Tom R. Chamberlin, Newport; and Arthur O. Karlen, Coos Bay.

Warren A. McMinimee, Tillamook; Wendell Wyatt, Astoria; Barney McPhillips, McMinnville; Jess Savage and Hugh R. Kirkpatrick, Mid-Willamette Valley; George Lindsay, The Dalles, and Thaddeus B. Bruno and Thomas C. Young, Portland, complete the list of Oregon chairmen who are in need of additional funds.

Governor Hatfield said that only about 33 per cent of Oregon's quota has been reached. He urged Oregonians to make donations to their local chairmen or mail them directly to the Eisenhower Presidential Library Committee, P.O. Box 1269, Portland 7, Oregon.

Grand Jury Awaits Case

Two Malin youths charged with burglary in a potato warehouse were bound over to the grand jury Wednesday after an involved preliminary hearing in district court.

One of the youths, 19-year-old Jerry Wayne Woods, made a statement before Judge D. E. Van Vactor in which he said he and the other youth, Leonard J. Bates, also 19, had slipped open an unlocked door of the JM Produce Warehouse in Malin March 24.

Woods, in the statement he signed, said the youths planned to take potatoes to his home in Crescent City the next day. One of three state witnesses, Merriam Ruppert, said Woods had worked for the company three days before he discovered somebody in the building about 8 p.m. March 24.

Other witnesses were Joseph Micka, company owner, and a state police officer who assisted in the arrest.

The youths will appear before the grand jury, which meets tomorrow, on a charge of burglary not in a dwelling.

A SCIENCE FAIR display constructed by Winifred Greene, Riverside School seventh grader, was scanned approvingly by Joyce Barrett, right, who taught fifth grade there in 1953 and 1954, during the school's 50th anniversary reception Saturday night. The mineral display won an honorable mention.

Image Smashed By French Boss

LONDON (AP) — In 12 hectic hours, President Charles de Gaulle shattered Britain's image of the French leader as a man icily aloof and rigidly austere.

The man Britons least saw 16 years ago as the dedicated, unbending hero of the Free French is going out of his way to charm his hosts.

Stepping from his plane to begin a three-day state visit, he waved and saluted everyone.

Tuesday night, at the magnificent, glittering banquet at Buckingham Palace, De Gaulle paid ringing tributes to the country that sheltered him when Hitler menaced the world.

Lawyers Set New Appeal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Caryl Chessman's latest bid for freedom from execution was summarily rejected Tuesday by the State District Court of Appeal.

But his attorney, George T. Davis, said the case would be carried once again to the State Supreme Court.

He said he would seek a writ of habeas corpus. If he fails, Davis said his petition would be taken to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Davis maintains in the petition that Chessman was sentenced for crimes that went beyond the charges in the indictment against him, and that his nearly 12 years on death row have been punishment so cruel and unusual as to be unconstitutional.

Chessman, informed of Tuesday's turn-down, responded in his usual fashion. He told a guard "thank you" and turned away.

The district court received the Chessman petition on Monday, and denied it within 24 hours without comment.

Drive Case; Youth Held

A special officer at Moore Park took a youth, 17, into temporary custody at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday for questioning concerning reckless driving in the park.

City officers said the youth was driving around the park at a high and reckless rate of speed. The youth was released and ordered to appear in the county juvenile office Wednesday afternoon.

In other activity, city police are coming to grips with cases involving vandalism, thievery and Tuesday.

Mrs. J. F. Cody, 323 Division Street, told officers someone entered her unlocked garage Monday night and stole a coin purse containing about $1, a rear view mirror and a magnetic ash tray from her car, and an unlocked padlock from the garage door.

Raymond Jacobson, 617 Lincoln Street, reported thieves stole spinner hubcaps from his car as it was parked at that address from 9 p.m. Monday to 7 a.m. Tuesday.

Helen Hoffman, 1021 Newcastle Street, said vandals streaked paper around her yard and knocked stakes from under her fruit trees sometime Monday.

Robert Lee Smith, who lives in a local hotel, told police a carload of youths threw a paper cup full of ice at him as he walked east on Main Street near the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph office Tuesday night.

Recertify Plan Begins

TULELAKE — A simple brucellosis recertification plan is being started in Northern California to maintain the area as brucellosis free. Dr. Don Mace, district veterinarian, California Department of Agriculture, told Tulelake cattlemen today. The plan provides for the testing of beef cows at slaughterhouses rather than on cattle ranches.

Mace told local cattlemen there are possibly two ways to recertify counties as brucellosis free areas: (1) by testing representative samples of range and semi-range cattle on the ranches. In this case it would be 20 per cent of the herds in the county that would have to be bled every three years. (2) It will be necessary to test cows at the slaughterhouse from each herd—which shall be a minimum of 15 per cent of the beef cattle population during a three-year recertification period.

Local Tulelake cattlemen present at a meeting held in the Farm Advisers Office voted in favor of the plan for taking blood samples at slaughterhouses rather than to test cattle on the ranches.

To participate in this plan cattlemen will be required to identify their cows going to slaughter with a back tag. The department will furnish kits with glue and back tags with numbers identifying the ranch and county. In case a cow is found infected with brucellosis it may be necessary to test some cattle on the ranch of origin.

Backtagging kits will be mailed to many cattlemen in the area. Some kits will be kept in the Tulelake Farm Advisers Office for anyone who does not receive one in the mail.

The success of this program will depend on the cooperation of all cattlemen.

Two Autos Damaged

Two cars were badly damaged and a woman was injured in a collision at the intersection of Seventh and High streets Tuesday afternoon.

Lettie Maye Wright, 40, 729 Lowell Street, was admitted to Klamath Valley Hospital for observation. She was shaken up.

City police said a 1955 Mercury sedan driven by Marsha Lynn Griggs, 19, 4447 Laverne Avenue, was westbound on North Seventh Street and collided with a 1955 Cadillac driven by Mrs. Wright.

No citations were issued. City police also learned Tuesday of two hit-run collisions. Walter Stevens, 2314 Eberlin Avenue, told them someone struck his 1958 Austin Healey sports car as it was parked between noon and 6 p.m. Tuesday at a parking lot at Seventh and High streets. The culprit failed to leave his name and address, he said. The right front fender was damaged.

William Bernard, 2161 Vine Avenue, reported his 1959 Chevrolet truck was sidwiped sometime Monday night as it was parked in front of his residence. He said damage might amount to about $100.
