

Employment In Basin Shows Hike

Work is scarce in most parts of the Pacific Northwest, and because Klamath Falls is on the route of much travel it receives a major share of transient workers.

So reported Guy Barker, manager of the Employment Office here, who said most industries now have an oversupply of workers and that the demand for unskilled workers is slight.

Employment started upward in the county with the arrival of good weather two weeks ago, Barker said, but was slowed by stormy weather that followed.

Logging and sawmills are operating at a slightly higher rate than at the same time last year, and are expected to continue a bit higher this summer. Retail trade and service employment continues high, and employment in general is expected to be slightly above levels of last year.

Some unemployment claims were reopened in March but average unemployment in March was below the level of March 1959.

Experienced sawmill workers were being employed, Barker said, and orders for office workers, salespersons, and culinary alliance workers remained steady.

Klamath Singers Give Benefit

McCLOUD — Sixty Klamath Falls members of the Society For Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America presented a two and one-half hour school benefit program at the McCLOUD High School auditorium the evening of April 2.

Individual numbers and medleys by the 33 male voices blended in perfect harmony, as did those of the quartet. Novelty arrangements were well received and provided a break in the more serious numbers.

The 19 members of the Sweet Adelines rendered outstanding vocal numbers. Both serious and comedy numbers by the ladies quartet earned much applause and laughter.

The high school Dixieland band received a thunderous ovation for their portion of the program.

KF Church Hosts Meet

The First Presbyterian Church will be host to the Northwest Oregon Presbyterial meeting on April 19-20.

Mrs. Harold Ploense, synodical president, Portland, and Rachel Bender, from the San Francisco area office, will be guest speakers.

The sessions will open at 12 noon, Tuesday, April 19. The meeting begins at 1 p.m.

Women of the Klamath Lutheran Church will prepare and serve a ham dinner in the church dining room at 6 p.m. for $1.50 per plate.

Miss Bender will speak during the special program planned for 7:30. The Rev. Robert C. Groves, pastor of First Presbyterian, will give the devotion.

The Wednesday, April 20, session will open at 8:30 a.m. with a coffee hour in the Fireside Room. A pre-prayer service at 9:15 will be followed by the regular meeting at 9:30. Luncheon at noon will be $1.

Mrs. Adam Miller is general chairman.

The public is invited to be present for the meetings.

High Court To Receive Rustle Case

Arguments were scheduled before the state supreme court Thursday on behalf of two men convicted of cattle rustling in Klamath County.

Set for argument were appeals on behalf of Robert Paul Wilson, 29, Fort Klamath area rancher, and Eldon Lyle Shafer, 36, Wilson's ranch aide.

The defendants were represented by Attorney Glenn D. Ramirez, who argued their trials here more than a year ago. The state was represented by Deputy District Attorney O. W. Goakey.

Both Wilson and Shafer were convicted of stealing a black, white-faced cow from Lorenz G. VanderKamp of Chiloquin in June 1958. Each man was sentenced to seven years in the state penitentiary, but each was released after posting $7,500 bond.

The state subsequently dismissed additional charges against the defendants—including charges against Wilson of rustling three heifers from the late Adlai Johnson and charges against Shafer of rustling three heifers and one calf from Johnson. The defendants later withdrew a series of civil suits against state witnesses that totaled more than $200,000.

Shafer was convicted February 3, 1959; Wilson was convicted two weeks later.

Ramirez' appeal on their behalf contended, among other allegations, that the state provided insufficient evidence to support its indictments, that numerous errors were allowed by the trial court, and that a spectator was guilty of misconduct at one of the trials.

PNW Chamber Officer 'Inspired' By KF Tour

By TOM STIMMEL

Chamber of Commerce President Bill Graham reported no new smokestacks last month, but a Portland visitor observed with enthusiasm that Klamath Falls is growing rapidly.

These opinions were expressed at the chamber's regular President Reports luncheon in the Winema Hotel Wednesday noon.

Graham reported on action at the board of directors meeting the night before, then introduced a guest speaker, Harold K. Heck, "Cherry" of Portland.

Cherry, manager of the Portland field office of the U.S. Department of Commerce, said he had just taken Chamber Manager Frank Tucker's "39-cent Tour" of Klamath Falls and vicinity.

"He should call it his $100 tour," Cherry told a sizeable audience. "It was inspiring to see what's happened here in the past two years."

As a Department of Commerce representative for Oregon and southern Washington and Idaho, Cherry was here on business—principally with the census now underway. But he urged his listeners to take full advantage of services offered by his department.

"I'll bet only five per cent of businessmen know what the department has to offer, and only two or three per cent use it as they actually should," he said.

He referred to the department as a fact factory which offers information and publications in a bewildering variety of fields. The chamber here, he said, has a new list of department publications available. He urged his listeners to consult the department for assistance "if you plan any business, even a peanut stand."

International trade is a favored project of Cherry, who once headed two steamship lines, ran his own import-export business, has visited Japan, and was deputy leader of a U.S. trade mission to India in 1957.

He said the balance of trade between America and foreign countries is a deficit nationwide, "but is strongly in our favor here in Oregon."

"American products still are esteemed above products of any other country," he said, "and foreign markets are getting the dollars now to buy them."

Cherry spoke after Graham finished his report of Tuesday night's board meeting. Major developments discussed:

The chamber voted "to cooperate to the greatest possible extent with the city on road and highway problems, especially the West Side Bypass. We may go to Salem with the hope of getting the north and south monostries

Committee, a tourist promotion plan developed by the state, has the Winema Hotel.

Ski Tutors Exam Set

Prospective ski instructors are invited to a clinic at Mt. Bachelor Ski Area near Bend, May 1.

The session will last all day beginning at 10 a.m. Those who wish to try for instructor certification under Pacific Northwest Ski Instructors Association standards, are invited to take an examination there May 7 and 8.

Applicants for the examination must have attended the clinic or have been a temporary instructor or associate instructor.

All instructors holding temporary associated classification must take a certification exam this spring or they automatically will lose certification.

The Northwest Skier magazine contains full details. Applications included in the magazine, should be sent to the regional director, Joe Ward, 435 East Sixth Street, Bend.

Honor Given RC Work

Local Junior Red Cross projects have received national recognition this month. The American Junior Red Cross News, a magazine distributed among most of the elementary schools of the United States, included a report and picture of Conger School students' visit to patients at the Klamath County Infirmary in their "Cheer at Easter" feature of the April edition of the magazine.

Conger School children visited the institution wearing Centennial costumes and presented the patients an Easter lily last year. Mrs. Emily Priest was the teacher-sponsor at Conger School in 1959. The picture was taken by the late Otto Ellis, staff photographer, and used in the Herald and News.

Riverside, Conger and Fairview schools have pledged Easter favors and decorations to local institutions and the Camp White Veterans Domiciliary in Medford this year, according to Mrs. Orson Stearns, local Junior Red Cross chairman.

John J. Audubon, noted naturalist, thought he was born near New Orleans, but many historians believe he was born in Haiti.

Four Earn Top Marks

Four Sacred Heart Academy high school students earned perfect marks during the nine school weeks ending with March.

They were Rosalie Battell, a junior; Mary Andrieu and Cecilia Cronse, sophomores, and Mary Ann McClary, a freshman. Near perfect 3.75 grade-point averages or better were compiled by Deanna Louie, a senior; Robert Amberg, a junior; Valerie Waters, sophomore; and Michael Wagner, freshman.

Joylene Georgus, Bill Manning, Ann Jendzjewski and Kenneth Arne, seniors; Kathleen Radspinner, junior, and Judith Sandberg and Catherine Ross, freshmen, won second honors with 2.5 averages or better.

Third honors went to seniors Robert Maloney, Patty Miller, Gary Pastega, Elizabeth Sykes, John Novak, John Barry and Jean Gasperini; juniors Patty Korson, Ken Moty, Rose Waters, Norman Gillis, Gerald Amerling, Rose Sandberg, Rose Mary Granas, Marion Stockton and John Jackson; sophomores Mike Arne, Jerry DeNault, Dan Folk, Mike Holland, Rose Nealy, Jim Novak and Shirley Shirk; and freshmen Paul Hurley, Richard Kruger, Carmelle Hartin, Susan Patsch, Helen Davis and Richard Steinbach.
