Amaranth Installation Impressive Ceremony

Annual installation of officers of Friendship Court No. 11, Order of the Amaranth, was Sunday, March 27, in the Scottish Rite Temple. Fannie Mae Thompson, royal matron, and Elmer Vincent, royal patron, opened the court in public form with the flag salute followed by the lodge singing the Star Spangled Banner.

Escorted and introduced were Opal Levack of Portland, grand royal matron of Oregon; Ray Johnson of Salem, grand royal patron of Oregon; James Hunter, master of ceremonies, and Margaret Dobson, deputy supreme grand royal matron.

After the introductions Fannie Mae Thompson, royal matron, was uncrowned by the following officers: Blanche Marks, uncrowning matron; Mary Wells, crown bearer; Nell Retherath, standard bearer; Mary Thompson, marshal in the east; Valma Krauss, marshal in the west.

"May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You" was sung by Mrs. Ruphane Mannerling accompanied by Mrs. Darlene Wolff.

After the uncrowning ceremony, the royal matron with the jewel of her office, James Hunter presented the royal patron's jewel to Elmer Vincent. In behalf of her officers, Phyllis May presented a gift to Mrs. Thompson.

Opal Levack, grand royal matron, introduced her officers: Alice Johnson of Salem, grand marshal; Stanley Levack of Portland, grand trustee; Betty Day, May, daughter of the royal matron; Rocky Ann Court, Medford, Iron-elect, and Clayton Spence, son of the associate matron-elect.

Installing officers were: Elmer Vincent, patron; Ruth Rodenberger, marshal; Tom O'Hara, aide; Lucille McDaniels, prelate; Ruth Renie, musician.

Officers installed were Phyllis May, royal matron; William Goen, royal patron; Julia Spence, associate matron; James Wever, associate patron; Emogene Jones, treasurer; Helen Vaagen, secretary; Geneva Swift, conductress; Valma Krauss, associate conductress; Laura Vincent, Ruth Rodenberger and Floyd Boling, trustee for one, two and three years, respectively; Mary Thompson, marshal in the east; Helen McCormack, marshal in the west; Nellie Nicol, standard bearer; Frank McCormack, prelate; Alice Goen, truth; Laura Noel, faith; Geneva Mae Bonham, wisdom; Florence Briggs, charity; Hazel Pulley, historian; Harry Briggs, warder; A. A. Rodenberger, sentinel.

Karen Goen played a piano solo, "My Best to You," in honor of her father, William Goen, royal patron.

The crowning ceremony of the royal matron was done by Emogene Jones, coronation matron; Jack Schultz, honored marshal; Blanche Schultz, standard bearer; Nellie Ricker, mother of the royal matron, crown bearer; Wesley Guderian, sword bearer; Fannie Mae Thompson, marshal.

The grand royal matron called a special session of the grand court to order and the grand royal patron, with the assistance of Ruth Rodenberger, marshal, Jack Kennedy, past grand royal patron as marshal's aide, Jack Schultz as prelate and Blanche Schultz, secretary, installed Laella Chilcote into her office of grand representative to the state of Georgia.

The officers for the year were installed in a beautiful ceremony in a hall decorated in yellow roses and palms. The officers wore yellow rose corsages, gifts of the royal matron.

Candlelighters were Donna Jean May, daughter of the royal matron, and Clayton Spence, son of the associate matron-elect.

Canton Crater

Plans for aiding the cancer drive were discussed at the regular meeting of Ladies Auxiliary Canton Crater No. 7, Thursday, March 24, at the IOOF Hall, with the president, Zelma Howard, in charge.

The receipts of a silent auction of articles donated by the group was contributed to the cancer fund. A film on cancer was shown and volunteer help was promised for the local project.

After the meeting refreshments were served from tables decorated with spring flowers by Vera Fritsch, Bernice McCracken and Helen McCormack.

The meeting of March 10 was held by the regular officers in uniform and instructions, given by Frances Munsell, captain on inspection and drills, were practiced.

Plans were announced for a tribute to be given Lady Lila Holmes, president of the association, at the session to be held in Eugene in May.

Nina Beck was installed as an honor guard by Vera Fritsch, installing officer.

Traditional St. Patrick's Day decorations were used on the tables for refreshments served by Kate Hogue, Isabel Foster and Martha Baker.

Members are asked to be present at the next meeting on April 14, for practice.
