

Award Banquet Gowns Dazzle Despite Strike

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Most of the glamour queens of Hollywood are out of work—but you would never know it from the gowns they wore at Monday night's Academy Award shindig.

Despite the month-old actors' strike, which put a pall over the 32nd annual Academy Awards, such designers as Dior-St. Laurent, Don Loper, Jean Desses, Sophie, Edith Head, Howard Shoup made a mint.

Olivia de Havilland, Oscar winner Simone Signoret and nominee Elizabeth Taylor all were stunning in Parisian originals.

Miss De Havilland wore a Dior-St. Laurent creation, a black and gray print on red background with harem skirt.

Miss Taylor, always a top Parisian customer, wore a ballroom-length gown of yellow chiffon with a draped bodice.

Stella Stevens, a Memphis belle, was decked out in an orchid and silver silk shantung gown. Angie Dickinson was stunning in a fitted gold brocade.

Felicia Farr sported a pink satin gown decorated with thousands of hand-sewn beads.

Doris Day wore a two-piece, floor-length sheath silhouette, covered with diamond-like beads and weighing 30 pounds.

Shelley Winters, who went home with an Oscar, was the only one who showed up with a bustle. She sported the fetching rumblescat.
