OSCAR A. WHITE, assistant engineer of materials, left and I. A. DeFrance, maintenance chief, carefully scrutinize sample paint lines during recent road wear test held by State Highway Department on Highway U.S. 99E just north of Salem. Test, which subjects paint to rigors of weather and scuffing of tires of 11,000 cars per day, resulted in the assignment of wear factor to each paint sample. Factors are used with quoted bid prices to select highway striping paint with lowest cost per mile per year.

THIS POWER-PACKED AUTO UNION-1000 "BRONCO" all-purpose vehicle is the answer to rough country transport problems, and the uses of this mechanical "Bronco" are almost as varied as the outdoor activities of modern life. With a four-wheel drive, it has eight forward and two reverse speeds. It will carry a full load up a 50 degree grade or pull a 1,100 pound trailer up a 30 degree grade. A tight-fitting, all weather canvas top and efficient heater gives protection against adverse weather.
