HAVANA (AP) — An insurgent hand led by former Castro officer was reported bottled up in the Sierra Maestra Mountains of eastern Cuba today, but the government refused to talk about it.

Unconfirmed reports said troops and militiamen in Oriente province were moving in on an encircled group of about 40 guerrillas led by Manuel Beaton, former captain in Fidel Castro's revolutionary forces, it was from these mountains that Castro launched his revolution.

Mar Calisto Garcia, commander of the mountain area, refused to discuss the reports with newsmen who reached him by telephone at his headquarters in Palma Soriano.

Military authorities in Havana and officials in Oriente province said they knew nothing about Beaton or his guerrillas.

The semi-official newspaper Revolution said Saturday that Beaton was heading a gang of bandits in the area. The paper accused the band of killing a peasant, Francisco Tamayo, who had been associated with Castro during the revolution. But the Havana newspaper El Cristal later identified Tamayo as chief of a government army unit.

Another unconfirmed report said a second guerrilla band was moving through the Sierra Maestra range north of the Sierra Maestra. Beaton recently escaped from the Havana's La Cabana military fortress, where he had been held on charges of killing an army major and two soldiers at the net.

Speedy Seal Back Home

PORT WALTON BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Speedy, the wandering seal, is back in his tank today with little more than tired muscles and a sore throat to show for his 10-day vacation.

Mrs. W. A. Jones found the mammal floating under an overhang at her house at Ft. Murchison, Monday.

Speedy, who had traveled about 50 miles along the coast of the Gulf of Mexico, barked inwardly and tried to wander off again but she stopped him with a crabbing major and two soldiers at the net.

cars love SHELL

Why do so many of the liveliest cars on the road use Super Shell with TCP? One clue is that Shell is America's largest supplier of commercial aviation fuels (we have been for 10 years). And many of Shell's aviation developments have been carried over into Shell gasolines. TCP* additive is just one of these developments. TCP in Super Shell neutralizes the combustion deposits which make engines run rough. Why not discover how smooth your car can run—how far you can go on a gallon? Your Shell dealer is the man to see.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889212.
