

No Solution
ROME (AP)—President Giovanni Gronchi today turned once again to the task of trying to lead Italy out of its gravest postwar government crisis. But in the political chaos no solution was in sight. Gronchi started consulting the nation's political and party leaders after Premier Fernando Tambroni resigned Monday night reopening a seven-week-old crisis.

School Notes

LAKEVIEW — After a closely fought battle and a good turnout of students to cast their ballots Friday, April 8, official count showed the following winners for the student body offices of Lakeview High School: Jim Stewart, president; Jim Griener, vice president; Claudia Harris, secretary; Mary Jo Deely, treasurer; Nancy Galloway, assistant treasurer.

Officers will be installed at an assembly during activity period Friday, April 22.

Coach Ted McKee announces invitations have been sent to 13 schools to take part in the fifth annual Lakeview High School Invitational Track Meet, scheduled for Saturday, April 15. Schools invited are Merrill, Malin, Honey Valley, Chiloquin, Alturas, Surprise Valley, Burns, Tulelake, Bend, Paisley, Fall River Mills and Bonanza. There will be 13 events and all competitors are to be on the field at 10 a.m.

Wallace Sweeney, agricultural instructor, took a group of his FFA boys to the South-Central District Skills contest Monday, April 4, at Redmond. Seven schools participating were Redmond, Bend, Culver, Malin, Prineville, Madras and Lakeview. Of the Lakeview boys, Duane Taylor placed first in agricultural spelling; John Moran and Denny Lealy placed third and fourth, respectively, in breed identification and David Wyman placed second in braiding and arc welding.

The International Relations Club will take part in a panel discussion for the Lakeview Serenoptimist Club Tuesday, April 19. The subject is United Nations and will be moderated by Jean Sauter, Sherry Jarman and Jim Cogburn are on the pro team and the other side of the topic will be taken by Don McPherson and Mary Jo Deely.

Career Day was held April 7 with Alfred J. McSwain, industrial relations manager of Johns-Manville Corporation, speaking to the students in the auditorium at 9 a.m. on "Finding Yourself."

Section meetings were held for the juniors and seniors with talks given by Ray Osborn, supervisor of secondary education, State Department of Education, on careers in the professions; Cleve Ketchum, general supervisor engineer, Fremont National Forest, engineering and allied fields; Frank Smith, supervisor of apprenticeship trades, State Apprenticeship Council, apprenticeship trades, and Hugh Stapleton, office manager, Lakeview Mining Company, careers in the commercial field.

BONANZA—The Junior Follies for 1960 were attended by parents and friends at the school auditorium April 8. Grades from the seventh through the ninth were in the first group and won the trophy for their skit, "Movie Frustration," written by seventh grader Shirley Bechold. Second group, from the 10th through the 12th, was won by the 10th for its "Way Back When," written by sophomore Scott Wooten. Theme for all the skits was "Show Business." Judges were Mrs. Cecil Haley, Mrs. Martin Gift and Ivan Bold.

CHILOQUIN — The annual Chiloquin High School carnival will be held Friday, April 22, at the old gymnasium beginning at 7 p.m. A number of booths are being planned and will be handled by each of the high school classes, the grade and high school faculties, and the PTA.

Proceeds will be used to benefit both the elementary and secondary schools.

CARDINAL IMPROVES

ROME (UPI)—Doctors for Laurian Cardinal Rugambwa, the first Negro prince of the church in modern times, said Monday night he should be well enough to leave the hospital a few days after Easter. The cardinal was confined to bed a week ago by fatigue and after-effects of malaria.
