By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS (Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, About 50 per cent of the nation's timepieces will be pushed by about any time mixups because ahead one hour at 2 a.m. Sunday. These states operate on Standard with the annual switch to Day-Time the year round.

But even in these states, it's light saving time promising to stir up no less confusion than it has in past years. But even in these states, it's light saving time promising to stir up no less confusion than it has in past years.

Most of the estimated 91 million Americans who will avail themselves of an extra hour of daylight through the summer will return to Standard Time at the end of October.

Some areas, however, will turn their clocks back at the end of September, while at least a couple of plans to remain on Daylight Time for the balance of the year.

The nation's two newest states, Hawaii and Alaska, will continue on Standard Time through the summer.

The summer problems arise for those thousands of persons who reside in one area of a state which observes a different time than a nearby area where they work or attend school.
