Parade Slated Saturday

Oregon Technical Institute's homecoming noise parade will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday at South Sixth and Etna streets.

The "Owl Hoots," the OTI athletic booster group in Klamath Falls, will judge the entries. Prizes will be awarded on basis of noise, adherence to the theme, "Scalp the Raiders," and attractiveness at a 40-30-30 per cent ratio, respectively.

The parade will move up South Sixth and South Seventh to Main Street and continue down Main to the Klamath Auditorium, where it will disband.

Local alumni for the first time are going to enter a float to compete with entries from the campus.

The annual homecoming bonfire will burn on the new campus site north of the Hot Springs residential area this year. A serpentine of autos will leave the campus at 6:30 p.m. Sharon McCollum, last year's queen, will light a large stack of scrap wood.

The rally squad will lead cheers and Rex Hunsaker, head football coach, will introduce football players.

Meanwhile, suffering freshmen have been conscripted to handle the basic chores. They must haul all the fuel to the bonfire site and guard it against stealthy, bold Raider fans who celebrate a holiday, usually, if they succeed.
