

FREE TRAINING in home care of the sick and injured will be offered by the local Red Cross chapter during the next two months. Teachers will be Red Cross volunteer registered nurses who have completed the instructor's course. Shown here are Joe Searles, civil defense director, sponsors of the group, and Mrs. Merle Swanson, local Red Cross chapter.

Free Training Program Set

At the request of the Klamath County Civil Defense a program of free training in home care of the sick and injured will be offered during the next two months by the local Red Cross chapter. The course will consist of six two-hour lessons and will include training in basic bedside care, improvisation of articles normally part of households to use as sick room supplies, with the civil defense part of the course specializing in care of victims of atomic explosions. Students will learn how to care for and use thermometers, how to make a bed with a patient in it, how to lift, feed, and bathe a helpless patient, give steam inhalations, and other procedures necessary to aid in the recovery of victims of accident and disease. There is no charge for the course; students purchase the Home Nursing textbook at a cost

Japan Security Chief Forced To Resign Post

TOKYO (UPI) — Violent left-wing and Communist protests over the assassination of Socialist party Chairman Inejiro Asanuma forced the resignation of Japan's security chief today and threatened the stability of the government itself.

Two thousand policemen armed with clubs and pistols and backed up by a dozen armored trucks scattered groups of fanatical Zengakuren students who tried to mount new demonstrations outside Parliament and Premier Hayato Ikeda's home.

By threatening arrests and ordering the demonstrators to "keep moving" they hoped to head off a buildup to the type of massive bloody riots that forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit last June and ultimately led to the resignation of Premier Nobusuke Kishi.

Ikeda, hoping to escape the same fate, met with his cabinet and accepted the resignation of his anti-Communist state police minister, Iwao Yamazaki. The security chief was a member of the prewar jingoist "Political Friends Association" and was purged from politics by U.S. occupation authorities.

Student Stabs Asanuma
Asanuma, an outspoken foe of the U.S.-Japan military pact and friendly toward Communist China, was stabbed to death before the eyes of Ikeda and about 1,000 other horrified persons during a political rally here Wednesday night. His assassin was a 17-year-old ultra-nationalist student, Otoyama Yaguchi.

The Communists and other leftists quickly seized on the assassination as a campaign springboard for the national elections expected in mid-November. A victory for the Socialists could jeopardize the military alliance between the United States and Japan.

The influential Japan Times said the slaying "may perhaps obscure issues which call for calm and careful consideration" by the voters. It urged the government to take measures to prevent political terrorism from again becoming a major factor in Japan's political life. Other newspapers expressed similar worry.

Candidates Clash On Television Again Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy clash again tonight — a continent apart — in their third television-radio debate on presidential campaign issues.

The split-screen, hour-long transcontinental show, starting at 6:30 P. M. (Eastern Standard Time) will find the GOP standard bearer, Nixon, in an American Broadcasting Co. Hollywood studio and the Democratic aspirant, Kennedy, in an ABC studio in New York City.

On TV, the program will be shown at later hours in more distant time zones. However, radio station networks all will carry the debate at the same time.

The candidates will appear in identical TV studio settings. A combination podium and desk will allow each man to stand or sit as he chooses. Studio lighting will be duplicated at each end of the network, and both candidates have been asked to wear the same shade of attire.

ABC, assigning more than 20 technicians to the program, calls it the most complicated telecast in TV history.

In the two previous debates the candidates have faced each other in the same studio. The first was handled by CBS from Chicago, the second by NBC in Washington.

Campaign tours prevent them from debating face-to-face this time.

The moderator will be ABC news commentator Bill Shadel. Members of the panel will be Roscoe Drummond, New York Herald Tribune; Douglas S. Cater,

Reporter magazine; Charles Shadel and the panelists will be in the West Coast studio. The last of the four debates is set for Oct. 21. But the three networks have offered TV time for a fifth debate the week before the November 3 election.

Bus Service Threatened

PORTLAND (AP) — A dispute between the Portland Streetcar Union local and the Rose City Transit Co. is threatening this city's bus service. The local has voted to authorize its executive board to call a strike if it considers such action necessary. Eugene Watson, business agent, said Wednesday. At issue is the assignment of a dispatcher from a non-union position ahead of a union member who had been doing extra work as a dispatcher. George Walker, federal mediator, said Rose City insists union seniority does not cover the job. Walker said the company assigned the job to Einar Flood, Portland, who once worked nine years as a dispatcher but who for the past five years has worked in jobs not under union jurisdiction. Watson said the strike authorization action does not indicate any early walkout. He explained that under union rules, the company must refuse to arbitrate before a strike can be called. Mediation meetings still are being held, so arbitration has not yet been proposed. The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 18, Walker said.
