MOVING DAY was a thrilling experience for seven little girls who three weeks ago came to Klamath Falls with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max McMillin, from Grants Pass where they had resided the past ten years. Their father is assistant in the district attorney's office. He received his degree in law from the University of Arizona. During the war he served with the Army three years in the Pacific theater and later worked with the Veterans Administration. Mrs. McMillin, a native Oregonian, is a talented musician and teaches flute and piano. Pictured at the family home, 3926 Sturdivant, with their parents are, left to right, Elena, Marcia, Brenda, Andrea, Sylvia, Roberta and Alicia.

DR. AND MRS. RICHARD OTTEMAN is another couple who recently chose Klamath Falls for their future home. They and their daughter, seven months old Kris Kay, arrived in September and at present reside at 614 Conger Avenue. Both are natives of Nebraska. Dr. Otteman is a graduate of Nebraska College of Medicine at Omaha and served as intern and resident physician at Mountain View Hospital in Tacoma for two years. His wife, Mary, received a BS degree in occupational therapy from College of St. Catherine in St. Paul. She was employed in the Nebraska State Hospital and at Fort Steilacoom, Washington, before the birth of her daughter. Like most new residents they are looking forward to the hunting, fishing and winter sports afforded in this area.

SIX MONTHS ago Robert Gotshall arrived from Concord, California, to assume the managership of Wards. Soon he and Mrs. Gotshall were comfortably settled in their home at 2056 Lawrence Street. This picture was taken recently when their children were home from school. Robert Jr., standing left, is a senior in the School of Medicine at University of California. His wife, Ann, seated at left, is also a student. John, standing right, is studying economics as a junior at the University of California. When he was a junior in high school he was a summer exchange student to Seeheim, Germany. Hunting, fishing, golfing and bridge are among the hobbies of this family.

NEW to Klamath Falls are Dr. and Mrs. D. T. Matthews and their young children, Scott, two and a half, and Jodi, nine months. They arrived in September from Tacoma to reside at 5240 Alva Street. Dr. Matthews, a native of Minnesota, is a graduate of the College of Medicine at Baylor University. His internship was served at Swedish Hospital in Seattle followed by a year of specialty training in general practice in Mountain View Hospital at Tacoma. Mrs. Matthews was born in Washington and was graduated from Whitworth College in Spokane. She taught school before her marriage.
