Sound the trumpets! Beat the drums! KU's having a homecoming!

That's right, and Klamath Union is in an uproar this week as the student body hurries to put the finishing touches on the third annual homecoming festivities.

K Club, the lettermen's club, has been authorized by student council to take charge of the entire event which will conclude with a semiannual dance in the school cafeteria after the big game with Central Point Friday night on Modoc Field.

The traditional homecoming gets under way Thursday evening when the student body gathers at the Graham Brothers' lot on Kit Carson way for the bonfire. Senior members of the K Club will be excused all day Thursday to build this enormous pile of rubbish.

A lively pep assembly, which will be highlighted by the crowning of the homecoming queen, is scheduled for Friday afternoon from 1:45 to 2:10 to boost school spirit for the game. Immediately following the assembly at 2:10 the noise parade will slowly move down Main Street from Modoc Field.

Approximately 20 of the school's clubs and organizations have been diligently working for the past few weeks on float entries for the parade. The parade will start behind KU's famed marching band and marching group of Pep Peppers. Following them will come the rally squad, the floats, and decorated cars with everything concentrated on the theme: Cremate Crater!

The parade which last year was praised as the best ever seen in Klamath Falls is expected to be every bit as good and last about 30 minutes.

A special halftime program is in store for Pelican fans Friday night at the KU-Crater game. A surprise treat for all is also planned by the newly formed Key Club along with the presentation of the queen and her royal court. Candidates for the queen are lovely seniors Barbara Olson, Ginger Leaming, Patsy Summers, Lee Anne Weber, and Rae Rotrock.

In addition to this the junior class is selling mums for the price of $1. Anyone wishing a mum can obtain further information in the principal's office at KUHS.

Everyone is urged by K Club to get out and enjoy the homecoming parade Friday afternoon at 2:15 and back up the team at the game Friday night at 8 o'clock.
