1960 Oregon Collegiate Conference Champs

Owls Finish OCC Season Unbeaten

MONMOUTH (Special) — The Oregon Tech Owls captured the 1960 Oregon Collegiate Conference championship and extended their unbeaten string to seven straight for the current season with an uphill 26-13 triumph over the Oregon College Wolves here Saturday afternoon.

The 1960 championship is the third straight OCC crown annexed by the Techmen and it served to put a definite crimp in OCC's homecoming festivities. In the Wolves, the Owls faced a club that wasn't at all convinced of the OTT's superiority over the rest of the league and, although they couldn't possibly nail the title with a win over the Techmen, they were obviously determined to spoil the Owls title hopes.

Paced by halfback Bob Pennel, a 5-9, 175-pound sophomore who was sheer murder on the power play up the middle, the Wolves got on the scoreboard with just eight minutes gone in the first quarter. The PAT was missed and they had only a 6-0 lead, but from here on they kept the heat on the Owls. Pennel, who packed the ball 28 times for the hosts, gained a total of 199 yards.

He set up the OCE first blood with a 47-yard dash and then scored on a 2-yard plunge. A disappointing decision by the game officials on the opening play of the game had nullified an 85-yard kickoff return by Owl L. T. Tennerson and for a while it seemed as if the Wolves might be able to capitalize on the lead.

However the Owls screeched right back with a counter of their own after halfback Charlie Wilson who, playing one of the finest games of his career, parlayed, with the help of a 14 yard pass from quarterback Roy Johnson to Dennis Farster, a 34-yard run which set up an Owl TD. Johnson connected with Farster for 30 yards on the next play for the score. Dick Olivass, who played with an injured shoulder, booted the first of two PAT's and the Owls had a lead they never relinquished. They scored their second touchdown after holding the Wolves to a four down series. Ardel Hamilton whistled around right end with a brilliant 64 yard run as the clock hit the one-second mark in the opening stanza. Olivass' boot was wide and the Owls were out front 13-6. The Wolves threatened in the second period when they barged down to the Tech 16 before halfback Dave Mansfield fumbled away the OCE hopes. Owl Ted Morris recovered and play moved back to midfield. With 1:20 left in the half the Owls started a march on their own 34 and it culminated in paydirt after Ken Levers had blistered his way for 19 yards, Johnson hit Wilson with a 20-yard aerial, then hit Hamilton with a screen pass good for 22 yards and a TD, with just 47 seconds left in the half. Olivass converted and the Owls left the field with a 20-6 lead.

A lot of the joy was taken out of the effort, however, when it was learned that center Don Anderson had been knocked out of action. His injury necessitated an overnight stay in the hospital but he was expected to leave for home with the champions.

Wilson put the icing on the OTT cake in the third when he pulled down a punt on his own 25 yard marker and skittered 75 yards for the final Owl score. Olivass' kick missed but it didn't make much difference from here on in.

In the fourth canto Pennel, almost a one-man team, started on his own 36 and reeled off gains of 9, 3, 26, 2, and 3 which coupled with a 21-yard aerial from quarterback Chuck Burns to end Ron Tolma, provided a scary Wolf TD. Carpenter kicked the point after and it appeared as if the game might get a lot closer.

Despite a terrific pounding by the charged-up Wolves, the Owls managed to regain control, however, and stifle any more OCE threats. On the ground, the Owls were outgained, primarily by Pennel, 243 to 156 yards. In the air, however, it was a different story.

BARKS 'N' BITES

When the Oregon Tech Owls grabbed up the Oregon Collegiate Conference marbles Saturday afternoon at Monmouth, I for one was ready to call the weekend a howling success, what with the Pelican win over Crater Friday night.

I was fortunate enough to have seen both games... and while this, in itself, wasn't exactly easy, I was tickled that I had. Without any fear of contradiction, I can honestly say that I witnessed a pair of teams, the Owls and the Pels, that had a true desire to win. Neither had easy assignments.

In both cases there were boys... and it's sometimes hard to realize that they are all just boys after all, who did outstanding jobs. But, at the same time, both triumphs came about through real great team efforts.

Pel quarterback Sherm Allen, (middle-sized to those who know) and erstwhile Owl fullback Charlie Wilson, played tremendous roles, maybe even saved the respective "bacons"... but they had a lot of help. Their help came from linemen and defenders who never get any notoriety... the guys who are just as important to backs as chickens are to eggs.

And speaking of linemen... take Owl center Don Anderson... the lad who had to quit the game in Monmouth at the half. Here's a boy who is a shining example of the "walking wounded." Don has played the largest part of the season with the bad legs, the bad ribs, and the bad shoulder.

You could say he shouldn't even be in there... but don't try telling him that, I'll give you a 6-2 even bet he'll be ready next week... any takers. And while we're on the subject of wagers... I'll take the Pelicans against Borah next week. This winning tastes kind of good.

BOB WILLIAMS... could get shorn

Odds and ends... Pelican coach Bob Williams may be a candidate for an iron mask next weekend... not that he's trying to save face... but, at Medford, Williams told his ball club that they could shave his head if they won three of the next four. There are two down, one to go. Have a kind word for old "skinhead" won't you?

The Owl football banquet isn't too far away either. Estin Kiger and Charlie Schuss are charting the course and if Saturday's title grab doesn't help their cause, I give up.

Bell's Hardware just announced the winners of their 22nd annual Mule Deer Sweepstakes. Hi Robbins, Klamath Falls, was the first prize winner for the second time, with a 261 pound buck he bagged on Bly Mountain. His last was in 1957... he shot a 264 pounder. Hi... you're slipping.

Say you're tired of this boom type professional football which appears weekly on the boob-tube? Want to see some sheer blood-tears effort? Grim determination? Football ala the good old days?

Huskies Win, 7-6; Ruin Vow

SEATTLE (AP)—Don McKeta hauled in a Bob Hivner pass for a 47-yard touchdown play that gave the Washington Huskies a last-gasp 7-6 football victory over the crestfallen vow boys from Oregon today before a sellout crowd of 55,700.

When senior halfback George Fleming booted the perfect placement with just 2:24 minutes left on the clock, it was the third successive week in which his toe brought victory for the Huskies. A week ago Washington outlasted Oregon State 30-29 and they beat UCLA a week earlier 10-8 on a Fleming field goal.

It also was the sixth successive Washington victory over the webfoots and the visitors had made a pre-game vow to snip the Huskies' string. It looked very much as if they would pull off an upset over the favored Huskies in the third period.

The first half had gone scoreless, with Oregon never getting beyond its own 33-yard line and Washington penetrating only to the Oregon 25. But senior quarterback Dave Grosz, with end Len Burnett as his principal target, passed the team to a touchdown with five minutes left in the third period. The Webfoots went 65 yards in 10 plays and Bruce Snyder slanted the last five yards to tally. Tiny Cleveland Jones, 5-3 1/2 halfback, got two chances at the conversion points when Washington was offside, but missed both kicks.

Battling fiercely to protect their slim margin, Oregon still was leading with only five minutes left to play as Washington took over the ball on Hivner's third pass interception of the day at his own five.

The Huskies, gambling for the big play, took to the air but apparently were fresh out of everything but hope when they came up with the climactic pass. The situation was fourth down with six yards to go.

McKeta caught the ball at the 30, eluded the only nearby Oregon tackler and raced down the sideline for the goal.

USC Whips Coach Determined Tribe, 21-6

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Southern California's Trojans struck for two first-quarter touchdowns and another with 34 seconds left in the game Saturday, whipping a band of determined Stanford Indians 21-6 to go into a tie with Washington for the Big 5 Conference lead.

A homecoming crowd of 29,000 was stunned on the fourth play as a pass from Stanford's Dick Norman bounced off intended receiver Mac Wylie into the eager arms of USC's Jerry Traynham, who ran 35 yards unopposed for the opening touchdown.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—All America halfback candidate Bill Kilmer struck through the air in the second quarter for a touchdown and UCLA made it stand up for a 7-0 victory over North Carolina State before 27,637 Saturday night.

Stanford marched back to the Trojan 35, but was held for downs. The Trojans then smashed back 65 yards on 13 crisp running plays for their second touchdown with fullback Hal Tobin scoring from the 2. Kicking specialist Don Zachik made it 14-0 with his second conversion.

That proved enough for the Trojans' second conference victory without defeat and third straight triumph after losing their opening three games. It deadlocked USC with Washington in the conference.
Stanford was left winless after seven games.

Coach Wants Good Men - Any Color

By HAL WOOD
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Saturday's shorts:
Poor Jack Curtice, the non-winning Stanford football coach. Not only is the team losing every effort, but the other day Curtice mentioned in a letter to alumni that Negro athletes on other teams were instrumental in handing his club its defeats. So he was raked over the coals for being anti-Negro.

"Nothing is farther from the truth," says Cactus Jack. "All I had in mind was a hint to our alumni that they should find us some good fast men — Negro, white, brown or yellow. I don't care. Just so they can play football..."

Beavers Stunned By Bears

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—California rose from season long frustration to stun Oregon State College in a non-conference football game Saturday 14-6.
Previously winless California did it with a swarming, driving defense that stopped Oregon State almost cold and produced fumbles that led to both of California's touchdowns.

The first came in the third quarter when California was trailing 6-0. That Oregon State score came on State's only moment of glory—on 83 yard touchdown run by sophomore halfback Terry Baker in the first quarter.

But California went ahead after tackle Memuel Penafior recovered a Baker fumble in midfield. From there California needed just nine plays to drive to a touchdown.
