A SEXTET OF SONS are the pride and joy of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Crabtree who in July of this year moved from Stayton to make their home in Klamath Falls at 2027 Herbert Street. Dale Crabtree assumed the duties of district attorney while his wife adjusted schedules to fit the many needs of her family. The eldest boy, Tom, at right in back, is a senior in education and a history

Foreign Students Address PEO

Four of OTI's foreign students, southern part of India, who is William Darmoh, Liberia; Aorghi Nibibon, Bangkok, Thailand; Martin Pettersson, Chuquicamata, Chili, and Jim Ono, Japanese, who is now a United States citizen, were featured speakers November 1 at a meeting of Chapter U of the PEO Sisterhood. Robert C. DeRosier, instructor in English on the OTI faculty, presented each member of the panel. The students spoke informally and unadorned about customs in education and government in their own countries and were very gracious in answering questions from the interested audience. A social hour followed and PEO members were enthusiastic in their comments about this recognition of the National Education Week. The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Arthur Wilson. Believing that education is fundamental to world peace and understanding, members of the PEO Sisterhood contribute funds for the purpose of providing scholarships for selected women from other countries for study in the United States and Canada, and have awarded International Peace Scholarships since 1949. During the past year these scholarships have enabled 92 young women from foreign countries to attend 53 colleges in 32 states in the United States. In addition, two students studying in Oregon are Amal Najjar from Iraq, who is attending Oregon State College, and Mrs. Vimala Paulus from the
