Klamath Junior Chamber Will Sponsor Christmas Parade In City

The Klamath Junior Chamber of Commerce is starting early with planning in hopes of making the annual Christmas parade Dec. 2 the best of all time. Those interested in entering a float, band or other musical group, marching unit, fraternal, comical or commercial entry are asked to call or write Frank Dimmit, 2530 Reclamation Street, TU 2-3444 or Lee Kenaoble, 5228 Bryant Avenue, TU 2-5009, or any Jaycee, and request an entry blank. Blanks will be printed occasionally in the Herald and News beginning this week. Or, participants may simply call or write any Jaycee member to provide name, address and type of entry. Trophies will go to the best all-around entry, the best marching unit, the best musical unit, the best fraternal entry, the most comical entry and the best commercial entry. The parade will start at the corner of Main Street and Esplanade Avenue at 7 p.m. and continue down Main Street to the city courthouse. The Klamath Merchants' Association will furnish judges. The Association also is helping the parade in which children are put, during which youngsters in touch with the North select gifts Jaycees will buy Pole, and a Christmas shopping them.

Jaycees already have contacted every high school in the county in an effort to attract musical groups. They also plan to invite the Hamilton Air Force Base band. Each year the Jaycees sponsor the parade about the first of December to kick off the Christmas season locally. The organization is especially active with service projects during the holiday season. Other activities planned are a Christmas lighting contest involving homes, a "hello, Santa" program.

Army Proposes Tripling Germ War Potential

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army sources disclosed today their hopes to triple within five years their spending on development of bacteriological and chemical warfare agents.

The emphasis would be on non-killing chemical agents of the kind which leaves exposed persons helpless for a time without causing them permanent harm. These would be useful both in limited wars and in local emergencies such as any possible overt action by Cuba against the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Some of these incapacitating chemicals already have been developed. Army sources said that if Navy and Marine security forces at the Guantanamo base do not already have some of these on hand, they could be supplied quickly.

Officials let it be known that the Air Force and Navy hope to include in their new budgets some money for development of the means to deliver and spread such incapacitating chemicals from aircraft while the Army presses further research into the compounds.

Blaze Sweeps Four Buildings

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A pre-dawn fire swept across the roofs of four buildings in the North Beach district Friday, causing an estimated $50,000 damage.

No injuries were reported in the blaze, which damaged the Sinatola Mexican cantina and restaurant, the Hotel de France, Tai Lack, an importing firm, and Herm's Radio Shop.

Fire Chief William Murray said the fire apparently started in a storage shed behind the Tai Lack from a cigarette. The four damaged buildings surround the storage shed.

More than 100 firemen fought the flames which spread from the shed, up the walls of the Sinatola and swept across the upper floors of the other three structures.

Accused Spy Is Set Free On Heavy Bail

NEW YORK (AP)—Igor Y. Melekh, United Nations secretary at employe accused of spying for the Soviet Union, went free Friday on bail — but he is under federal court order to remain in Manhattan.

Melekh, 47, was ordered released Thursday in $50,000 bail. He spent Thursday in the Federal House of Detention. He will be free pending a hearing next Wednesday on proceedings to extradite him to Chicago, where he was indicted with Willie Hirsch for allegedly seeking military maps and photographs of the Windy City for transmission to the Soviet Union.

The government vigorously protested the source of the bail money, which was produced in cash by two Soviet Embassy officials from Washington. The money was handed to Melekh's wife, Irina, who in turn gave it to the court.

U. S. Atty. S. Hazard Gillespie Jr. objected to the bail money coming from sources enjoying diplomatic immunity who could not be prosecuted if Melekh failed to appear for his Chicago hearing. He also objected to Mrs. Melekh posting bond.

However, federal Judge Edward Weinfeld told the government prosecutor:

"Now, Mr. Gillespie, either we are living under a constitution or we are not. She (Mrs. Melekh) has control of the money, I suggest, to whom can a person turn for bail but family and friends. If an American citizen were arrested in a foreign country he would have a perfect right to run to the American embassy for aid."

Judge Weinfeld said Melekh must not go to the U.N., which is international territory, or to the Soviet U.N. delegation headquarters or to any foreign embassy where he might seek sanctuary. He also is barred from any piers, railroad trains or terminals of any kind.

Hirsch, 52, a German-born free lance illustrator for medical magazines, remains in custody.

Melekh and Hirsch were arrested by the FBI on Oct. 27.

INTERNATIONAL BLOW-UP

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI)—An Italian air force team had to settle for a 2-2 tie with a German team in the third annual NATO Bowl soccer game Friday when the ball exploded as the Italians were moving toward a possible score.

Minors Put On Probation

WEED — Four Weed youths, all minors, were placed on probation to the beginning of the Christmas school vacation by Kenneth T. Stone, judge of the Weed Justice Court, Monday, after pleading guilty to charges of violation of the Health and Safety Code.

The four removed five bales of hay from College of the Siskiyou archery grounds Halloween night and left them afire at Davis and Shasta Avenue, School Hill Curve and in the center of Highway 99 in front of Dom's Drive-In south of Weed. They were apprehended by Mount Shasta police.

Terms of probation include restitution of the cost of the hay and restricted use of their vehicles. They are required to wash the two fire trucks that answered the calls to the street fires.

Latin Club Sets Sale

Klamath Union High School Latin Club members have rounded up a small mountain of good rummage to be sold Friday, Nov. 11, and Saturday, Nov. 12, in the Pelican Theater building on Klamath Avenue and South Eighth. Hours will be from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Latin Club rummage sales have helped to build a $1,000 scholarship fund, under supervision of Helen Epley Hoffman, Latin Club adviser and head of KUHS foreign language department.

The KUHS club, with a membership of 168 students, is rated as the largest in this country and its accomplishments are known in many parts of the world, verified by letters seeking information on the club constitution and work.

Charlton Currin is president. One third of the total student enrollment are registered as members of foreign language classes.

Keno School Picks Officers

KENO — Students of Keno Elementary School elected student body officers during a meeting recently. Officers for the school year are Chuck Clark, president; Rick Trullinger, vice president; Michele Lamkins, secretary, and Dave Anderson, treasurer.

Norma Sanders was picked as well queen. She is assisted by Elza Atkinson, Dorothy Flowers and Michele Lamkins.

The student body decided to sell Christmas cards as a special money-raising project. The students selected a wide variety to sell.

Grades 1 through 8 are participating in this year's Oregon wildlife conservation project. Youngsters will write essays containing that theme and three from each grade will be selected to be sent to the County School District office for entry into county-wide competition.

Monk Resists, But Succumbs To Hypnotism

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Bingo, a 3-year-old squirrel monkey, resisted stoutly Tuesday but finally succumbed to hypnotism.

Dr. Irwin Rothman, a Philadelphia psychiatrist, used Bingo to demonstrate his findings on animal hypnotism before the American College of Osteopathic Surgeons.

The kicks and shrieks of the simian gradually subsided as Dr. Rothman crooned and waved a finger before its eyes. Bingo lapsed into slumber.

Then a photographer broke in to ask Dr. Rothman: "Could you move your head a little more to the right?"

Bingo awoke and renewed his struggles. Before being quieted he sank his teeth into a thumb of Dallas Zoo Director Pierre Fontaine, who was holding the monkey.

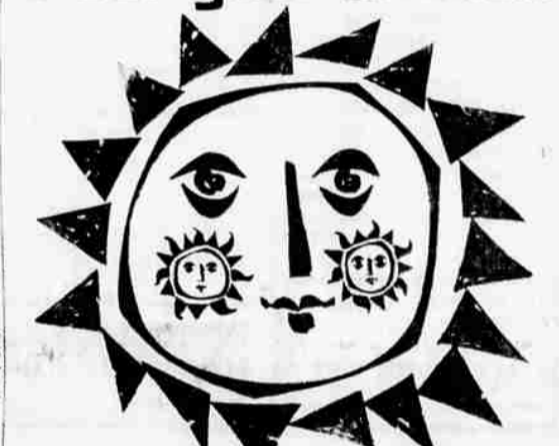

In discussing animal hypnotism, Dr. Rothman said its use is practical for zoo and circus keepers to restrain their charges during treatment.

Rabbits and snakes are the animals most easily hypnotized, he said, and dogs are the most difficult subjects.

As for birds, Dr. Rothman said there's a sure way — just try "highway hypnotism," which is the term used in the cases of drivers who grow drowsy from watching the center stripe in a roadway.

"Just paint a white line down their beaks," he said. "That'll do it every time."
