

Students Progress Up Musical Ladder

THE MIGHTY BASS gets a good workout — and so do Gabriele Fiedler, Annette Frederickson and Carol Warren at Fremont during a string orchestra practice session.

GETTING IN A few practice blips before the session are Joe Gibson and Robert Scholl, sousaphone luggers at Fremont.

IN THE WIND instrument section at Fremont are Myrna Lichtenstern, Marcia Breitenstein and Rosanne Lettigh, comparing notes.

FROM FREMONT Junior High School and the Klamath Falls grade school systems come the musicians who will make up the KUHS program of the future. Here, instructor Normand Poulshock organizes the Fremont group for a practice session.

PERSONAL AND GROUP instruction are important elements in music training. Here Poulshock instructs Cliff Moore, Russell Davis and Karen Olson in a passage in the French horn.

STRING MUSIC is popular at Fremont, and students have every opportunity to develop talent. Here instructor Dale Hallack outlines the lesson for the day and discusses techniques with the string group.
