matter of FACT

In tropical Africa, particularly in the Portuguese territory of Angola, you can scan the horizon in the grasslands and see huge pointed mounds of earth rising 30 feet in the air. These are the miniature mountains of the fungus-garden termites. The honeycomb passages are filled with gardens of fungi. These plants are carefully tended by the termites, for they serve as food.

"DISASTER SPECIES"
 Ornithologists have classed the bluebird, a member of the thrush family, as a "disaster species" because it has become so scarce as to be almost totally absent from much of its normal range.

HAY'S HAZARDS
 In Norway's fjord country, the hay crop is spread on wires like laundry so breezes can get at it. Cloudy days and frequent rains rule out drying it on the ground.

at ACE TV!

And, to keep you from making useless purchases, we operate tube TESTERS, not tube SELLERS!

Over 3/4 of the tubes that check WEAK when tested, will work perfectly in the set; most of them, in fact, BETTER than a cheap replacement.

As an example, most weak audio (sound) tubes will put out more than wanted by merely turning up the volume control.

So we simply say, don't be confused by a tube SELLER masquerading as a tube ANALYZER. Have your tubes properly tested by your favorite service shop. They WILL save you money!

And for the finest in Radio-TV service, it's . . .

OREGON CATTLE OWNERS should become familiar with these two tags. Both are used in the Bang's traceback program to give the county or origin credit on brucellosis re-certification when cattle are slaughtered here or in another state. The oval or upper tag is needed for all cows three years or over shipped out of Oregon to slaughter. Farmers and ranchers should get this tag from brand inspectors, department area veterinarians, or the federal or state veterinarian office in the state department of agriculture headquarters, Salem. The tags are free, with glue also supplied. The upper tag should be placed on animals just behind the shoulder by the owner when animals are shipped direct to another state. The lower tag is the Oregon tag used in the market cattle slaughter program and is applied at auction yards in Oregon. The upper or interstate tag is white with red and black printing. The lower tag is orange with black lettering. On both tags the key number 92 indicates Oregon. On the lower tag, the two key letters, as PN, identify the auction yard and the big numbers, as 999, identify the animal through brand inspection.
