Oregon Man Is Jailed In Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Three U.S. soldiers, including one from Oregon, drew one-year jail sentences today for making a five-day visit to Communist East Germany—all of which they spent in prison.

The three were cooks attached to a combat support company in isolated West Berlin. They pleaded guilty to absence without leave and to stealing 18 pounds of coffee.

They are: SP-4 Bobby J. Higgins, 21, Salem, Mo. Pfc. David Hill, 24, Bradley, W. Va. Pfc. Robert T. Spreed, 20, Baker, Ore.

As the case was outlined in a court-martial:

Six weeks ago, they decided to take the coffee and go to the Soviet zone of Germany. They sold the coffee to a West Berlin cafe owner for 110 marks ($26.26), got drunk and took an elevated train into East Germany.

It was only a few minutes' ride into the suburbs that are outside the boundaries of the four-power city.

They were immediately arrested and held for five days. They then decided to return, and were accompanied back on the elevated by an East German escort.

The court-martial sentenced them to bad conduct discharges as well as the year in jail. However, the sentences may be reduced later in review by higher authorities.

Big Winner Will Know Quite Early

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless it's a real close race, the loser in today's presidential election probably will admit defeat within a few hours after midnight Eastern Standard Time.

But a close race could—as it has in previous elections—delay any concession many hours longer.

Four years ago, Adlai Stevenson, Democrat, conceded the reelection of Dwight D. Eisenhower at 1:20 a.m. the day following election. Four years previously, when Eisenhower and Stevenson ran their first race, Stevenson officially gave up at 1:44 a.m. Wednesday.

Another two-time loser, Thomas E. Dewey, waited longer. In 1944 when he ran against Franklin D. Roosevelt, Republican Dewey did not toss in the sponge until 3:15 a.m. the day after the election. Four years later, when he was defeated by Harry S. Truman, Dewey held to a string of hope until 11:15 a.m. Wednesday before conceding Truman's surprise victory.

Wendell Wilkie, Republican, held out until 8:30 a.m. the day following the 1940 election before conceding that Roosevelt had won an unprecedented third term.

OLYMPIA (AP) — An all-time record in the cost of highway improvement contracts awarded, topping $78 million, will be set by the end of 1960, the Washington Highway Department said Monday.

One of the year's major jobs will be completion of the 21-mile Bellingham freeway, at a cost of $8.2 million, he added.

Zone Changes Discussed By Council

The city council reverted to a policy decision it made last year on zone changes and denied one zone change request while extending the hearing on another at their regular Monday night meeting in city hall.

A lengthy discussion developed over the request by Dr. L. D. Gass that an area near Biehn Street which is a part of his property there be rezoned from R-5 residential to C-2 commercial.

Councilman Floyd Wynne pointed out that in two previous zone hearings in 1959 the council ruled that any person initiating a request for a zone change must furnish a petition showing that 51 per cent of the persons concerned are in favor of the change.

Councilman James Barnes added, "right or wrong, we should be consistent in our approach to these matters."

Councilman Ladd Hoyt added, "This is the way we wanted it. The old way was an out-of-town property owner could find his area rezoned and not even know it."

City Manager G. S. Vergeer pointed out that the council did not want to require 51 per cent in favor in such zone changes as might be recommended by the planning commission or the city council for the long range benefit of the city.

The council agreed that the 51 per cent requirement would not apply to zone changes sought by the planning commission or the council.

Then the council moved to give Dr. Gass two weeks in which to procure the necessary petition with the signatures of 51 per cent in the vicinity.

The same ruling was applied to a second zone change request which would have rezoned an area above Pacific Terrace and between Auburn and Erie streets from R-6, single residence, to R-5a high density zone. The change would have permitted the construction of a large apartment house in the area.

No one was present at the hearing to speak for the project, and there were 20 persons at the council chambers to object to the change. It developed that there were 26 property owners involved, and 18 of these had definitely voiced their objections.

The requested zone change was denied.

Man Is Lost On Roundup

LAKEVIEW—An air search was under way Tuesday in the Hart Mountain region for the second consecutive day for Tom Freeman, who failed to return from a cattle roundup Sunday.

Freeman, employed by Warren Laird of Plush, was with several others on horseback riding a horse from the Miller Rock Creek Ranch which he had not previously ridden.

When he failed to return to ranch headquarters Monday the Lake County sheriff's office was notified. Deputy Sheriff Lin Jones flew over an estimated 30-square mile area Monday with Myron Buswell, owner of an air service, without seeing any trace of the missing man.

A report from his employer indicated that Freeman is not familiar with the area in which he was working.

Designate Lake As State Park

OLYMPIA (AP) — Horsethief Lake will be the site of a new 120-acre state park on the Columbia River, with the initial $60,000 cost paid for by the federal government.

The lake, an inlet on the Washington coast 10 miles upstream from The Dalles, is separated from the river by a railroad embankment.

The federal government aid, Assistant State Parks Director John L. Chambers said in announcing the park Monday, is in line with the policy of promoting recreational facilities on water impounded by dams.

The state will administer and eventually enlarge the park and its facilities, Chambers said. Opening is planned for next summer.

Accidentally Shoots Son

ALTURAS—An Occidental, California, contractor, Leamon Holtley Sr., accidentally shot and killed his 14-year-old son while hunting deer about 50 miles west of here Friday afternoon, Modoc County sheriff's deputies said.

Deputies said Holtley, 43, his son, Leamon Roy Holtley Jr., and a hunting partner, Ray Calvin, were road hunting three miles northeast of Whitehorse. Holtley told deputies he and the others spotted a buck about 75 yards ahead on the road.

They stopped, he said, and began to stalk the deer. Holtley told officers he saw the deer in the brush and fired his 30-06 rifle. The deer turned in the opposite direction. He shot again, went to the spot where he saw the deer and found his son shot through the head, Holtley said.

Holtley said he was not aware that his son had followed him on foot to look for the deer. He said the youth must have gotten ahead of him when he left the road and entered brush.

EMERALD CUT DIAMONDS
In response to the many inquiries we wish to explain why the Emerald cut diamond offers more exact weight, quality and cost being the same — up to 1 1/2 carat. A rough diamond of 100% will produce 90% finished weight when emerald cut, the brilliant round will finish 81%, and the Marquise will produce 36% finished weight. In other words the amount polished away is included in the cost of the diamond and the emerald cut loses less of its original weight in cutting.

Beyond 1 1/2 carats all three styles cost approximately the same per carat — quality being the same.
