Assessment Rates Get AMS Okay

YREKA—The Agricultural Marketing Service has approved expenses and rates of assessment to be provided under the marketing order for Irish potatoes grown in Modoc and Siskiyou counties.

Reasonable expenses likely to be incurred by the Oregon-California Potato Committee to enable it to perform its functions pursuant to the marketing agreement will amount to $19,500 for the fiscal year from July 1, 1960, to June 30, 1961, the publication states.

The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler according to the marketing agreement is three-eighths of a cent per hundredweight of potatoes, according to the order which becomes effective Nov. 20.

Earlier publications provided that until next June 30 shipments would be limited to U.S. No. 2 or better grade in all varieties. Size restrictions included a two-inch minimum diameter of four-ounce minimum weight.

Exemptions from this order are provided for shipments of certified seed, livestock feed, starch, canning or freezing, dehydration, chipping, prepeeling and export potatoes, and those donated to charity.

52,726 Visit Castle Crags, Few Climb

CASTLELLA — Castle Crags There is a very good reason State Park has had 52,726 visitors for this year, but compared to last year's 2.7-mile trail which leads to the crags which give the Dome on the crags begins at an elevation of 2,500 feet and ends at the 5,000-foot level. None of the park attendants will recommend this as a midday climb in July and August.

However, it provides a challenging hike for both beginners and experts in the spring or fall. A very early rise could try it with comfort in the summertime.

Those satisfied with modest efforts can climb to Indian Springs, a gushing spring at the foot of the crags. Here there are many shots for the amateur photographer and views of the surrounding mountains.

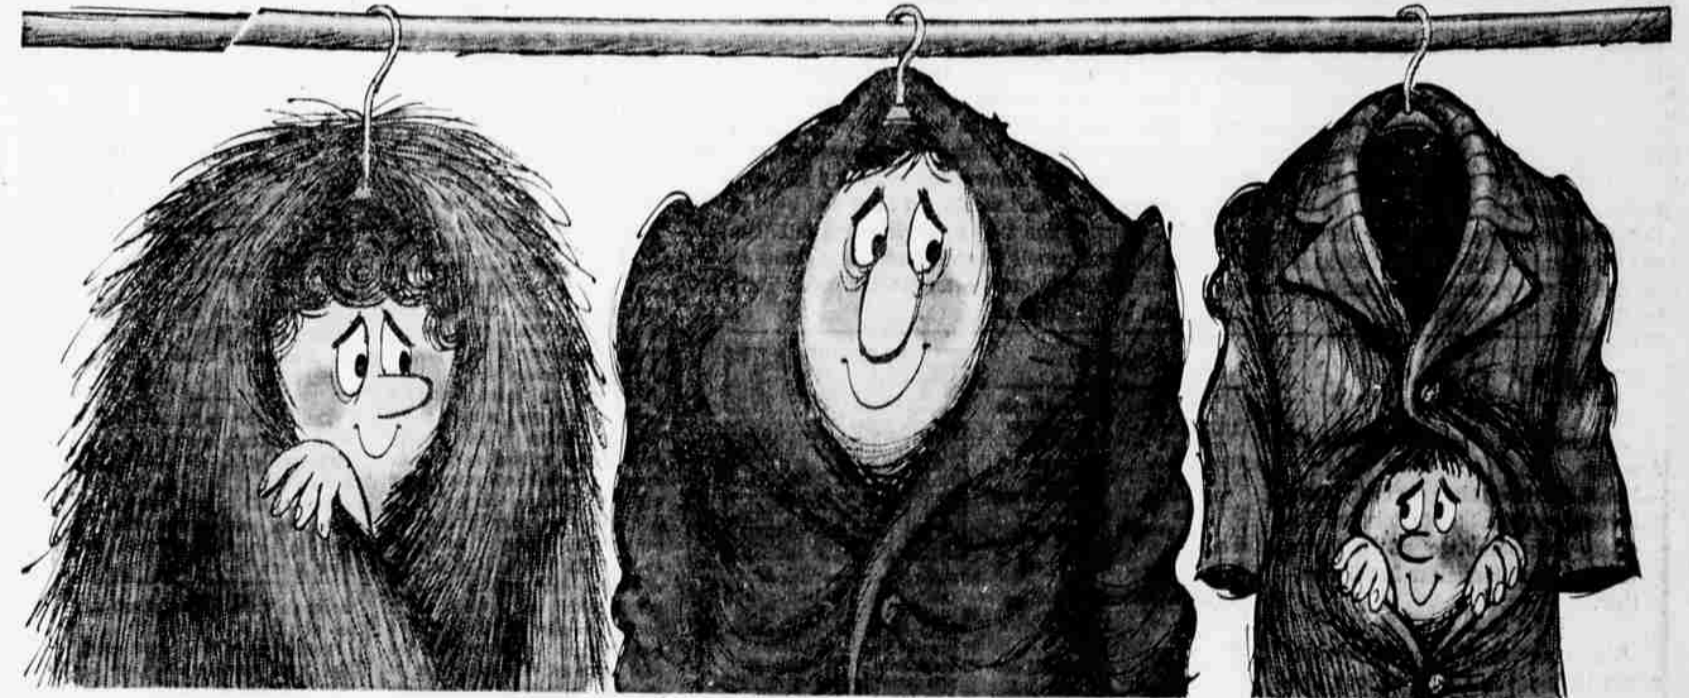

The more ambitious hiker can climb to the summit. Scaling the granite crags is for the seasoned alpinist. Those who plan to hike the full length and spend some time amid the crags should plan to spend five to six hours for a round trip and should carry both food and water. Indian Springs is on a side trail and it is the only available source of water.

The 64 campsites within the park see much more use than the trail to the crags. Park Superintendent Bill Kaiser reports that despite the relocation work on Highway 99 this summer, the camping areas were filled to capacity early every afternoon during July and August. Most of the campers stayed overnight only, he said, since they were en route to other areas. Some who stay fish the Sacramento River or simply rest.

Last year, American fishermen bought more than 250 million worms.

High Court Justices Hit Delays

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four justices of the Supreme Court have scolded their colleagues for giving so much time to trifling cases. Their complaints were voiced in relation to the first formal opinion to come from the court in its new term which opened Oct. 3—a 5-4 ruling that a jury should have heard the case of a wrench falling on a sailor's "left great toe."

The five justices said two lower courts erred in ruling there was no evidence of negligence on the part of the employer, Cleveland Tankers, Inc., and the case should not go to the jury.

As a result, Thomas M. Callahan, the sailor with the injured big toe, will get a trial before a jury in federal court in Cleveland, Ohio.

The papers filed with the Supreme Court did not say the amount of damages he seeks. Justice Brennan wrote an eight-page majority opinion in the case. Justice Harlan delivered a three-page dissent, opening with the comment: "At the opening of a term which finds the court's docket crowded with more important and difficult litigation than in many years, it is not without irony that we should be witnessing among the first matters to be heard a routine negligence case involving only issues of fact. I continue to believe that such cases, distressing and important as they are for unsuccessful plaintiffs, do not belong in this court."

Justices Whittaker and Stewart joined in Harlan's dissent. Justice Frankfurter went further. He said the court shouldn't even have agreed in the first place to consider such a case. He noted he had protested previously against Supreme Court consideration of minor negligence cases.
