Five Of Top Ten A Bit Nervous

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The five teams of The Associated Press top 10 who escaped unscathed on "Black Saturday" last week possibly are a little apprehensive today.

If it could happen once—the defeat of five leaders in the weekly poll on one day—it could happen again, and several of the clubs in the select circle this week face rugged opposition.

Top-ranking Minnesota, for one. The Golden Gophers meet unranked Purdue, a much better team than its record indicates. Mississippi, No. 4 now, meets also unranked Tennessee, which last week, before its setback at the hands of Georgia Tech, was a member of the top 10.

Minnesota took over the No. 1 spot by virtue of its decisive 27-10 victory over Iowa, previously the No. 1 team. The Hawkeyes were dropped to fifth place in the voting by a 48-man panel of sports writers and sportscasters taking part in the poll. It was the Gophers' seventh straight victory.

Ohio State jumped from fifth to third by walloping Indiana, and Mississippi climbed from sixth to fourth with an easy victory over Chattanooga.

Three of the top 10 losers last week — Tennessee, Syracuse and Rice—were dropped from the list in this week's voting. Only Iowa and Navy, which lost to Duke, stayed in the select circle. Navy is No. 8.

Duke, Arkansas and Auburn replaced the three ousted top 10 members. Washington advanced to No. 6 by whomping Southern California, a victory that practically clinches a Rose Bowl place.

Minnesota received 40 of the first place votes. Unbeaten Missouri, No. 2, received four, and Ohio State, Mississippi and Washington one each.

One panel member did not vote.

The leaders' (first place votes in parentheses) points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1.	Minnesota (40	462
2.	Missouri (4)	387
3.	Ohio State (1)	335
4.	Mississippi (1)	310
5.	Iowa	279
6.	Washington (1)	241
7.	Duke	156
8.	Navy	113
9.	Arkansas	72
10.	Auburn	64

Others receiving votes were: UCLA 38, Pittsburgh 31, Michigan State 16, Tennessee 15, New Mexico State 10, Rice 9, Yale 8, Syracuse 8, Utah State 7, Florida 6, Alabama 3, Texas, Kansas 3, Oregon 2, Michigan 1, Army 1.

San Jose State Drops Boxing; Reason — Lack Of Competition

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The already staggering collegiate boxing program took another body blow with the announcement that San Jose State, the NCAA champion the past three years, won't compete in the sport this season.

Athletic Director Walt McPherson Monday blamed lack of competition.

"Since we won our third straight championship last spring, Wisconsin and Sacramento State have given up the sport," he said. In recent years we have engaged these schools in dual meets at least twice each season. When they dropped out, we found that there were not enough schools remaining who compete in boxing on a major basis to give us a schedule."

College boxing has been near collapse in recent years. Wisconsin's faculty voted last May 9 to give up the sport. Its action followed less than a month the death of Charles Mohr of the Wisconsin team who suffered a brain injury in an NCAA title bout with San Jose's Stu Bartell on April 9.

Mohr had been NCAA champion in 1959.

McPherson declared San Jose has not changed its basic philosophy favoring boxing.

"We want to make it perfectly clear," he said, "that we are not dropping boxing as such, that we hope to see these schools and others return to the sport on a major basis, if and when that time comes, we will be ready to join with them again."

McPherson said the San Jose athletic department still believes boxing is "an excellent sport as conducted on our campus and that it has a definite place in our physical education program.

"Furthermore we feel our coach, Julie Menendez, and the late Dee Portal contributed greatly to college boxing and were, in fact, singularly responsible for many safety innovations in the sport."

Menendez coached the United States Olympic boxing team this year.

McPherson added, "We should like to point out that over a 25-year span and some 2,000 bouts in which our boxers competed, there is no record of a Spartan boxer ever suffering a major injury of any kind.

Chiloquin Fighters Triumph

Five Chiloquin amateur boxers were invited to attend the annual Oregon AAU Novice tournament in Portland last weekend and four of them came home with championships. The fifth boy on the squad suffered a hand injury prior to the affair, and although he made the trip, he was unable to appear.

Chiloquin Chief of Police Lou Jones, who guides the Chiloquin Boys club, reported that his young fighters, Bert Farris, Ray DeBortoli, Roland Crume, and Bob Bojorcas, brought back titles, while Ozzie Gallagher was held out of the action because of his hand.

Farris, a 125 - pounder, decisioned three Knott Street Boys Club battlers en route to his crown. He beat Jim Phillips, Tom Williams and Pete Gonzales.

DeBortoli, 100 pounds, measured David Reyersen of St. Johns to earn his title.

Roland Crume, who won his 147-pound championship by default, was awarded the TV award when he appeared in the 156-pound finals against Harry Bonner, Knott Street, in a bout televised Saturday night. Crume was decisioned by Bonner, but still can claim the lesser weight championship.

The fourth triumph was scored by Bojorcas who decisioned Portland's Wayne Walton in a 165-pound tussle.

Gallagher, had he been able to perform, would have entered the 119-pound competition.

The novice tournament is limited to amateurs who have had five or less fights, Jones said.

Oregon Novice Champs

Mental Errors Cause Misery For Washington Redskin Boss

WASHINGTON (UPI)—So you'd like to be a pro football coach?

Put yourself in the shoes of Mike Nixon of the Washington Redskins. All week long he kept warning his punt return team that kicker Jerry Norton of the St. Louis Cardinals will run from punt formation if he sees a chance.

On Sunday, linebacker Roy Wilkins, playing defensive end on punt returns, took his stance considerably inside the Cardinals' end the first time St. Louis punted. He charged in to block the kick but Norton got it away.

When Wilkins returned to the bench, Nixon warned him again.

"Stay to the outside or he'll dip around you," Mike cautioned. "If that end blocks you in, you're dead."

Wilkins nodded. Seven plays later the Cardinals went back in punt formation, fourth and 17. Wilkins charged straight in for Norton. The Cardinal end sideswiped him. Norton took off for 26 yards and a key first down. The Redskins wilted and that was the ball game.

Still want to be a coach?

Guglielmi Ignores Screens

All week before the St. Louis game, Nixon told quarterback Ralph Guglielmi "they'll probably blitz you with their outside linebackers (this is so-called red-dogging, when the linebackers leave their secondary posts to help the linemen rush the passer). If they start doing it, just keep throwing the screen (a short pass to a halfack or fullback after the linebackers have left their defensive areas to go after the passer). That'll keep those linebackers honest."

The Redskins practiced screen passes all week. Gugielmi threw just two in the actual game. Even when he called a screen, he waited too long to get it off and either ate the ball or tried to run.

Still want to be coach?

Warns Against Overconfidence

In the five days of workouts before the Cardinals' game, Nixon kept telling the Redskins "these guys have got a real tough defensive team. Don't underestimate them — they've got four good men up front and three damned fine linebackers. You've been reading all about their offense but they can kill you with their defense just as easily."

On Sunday, the first few times the Redskins had the ball, you could see their blockers look surprised at the vicious charge of the Cards' defense. Specifically warned, the Tribe still was kept off balance all day.

Still want to be a coach?

If so, you'd probably do what Nixon did just before the 44-7 shellacking Sunday ended. He walked along the bench and told the players they'd have to practice Monday — their day off.

Owl Staff Praises Gridders

"We may have had better football teams at Oregon Tech over the years, but we've never had one with more sheer desire to win than this year's club. It seems we're always facing another 'mountain' but these boys go out and get you the win anyway," said Oregon Tech football boss Rex Hunsaker, in the presence of four of his players who were dinner guests of the Owl Hoots Monday night.

Adding words of commendation in their remarks about the team were line coach George Miller and backfield director Jim Cordial.

The players present were introduced informally by Miller. The guests included fullback Bud Maupin, Merrill; freshman tackle Ed Anderson, North Salem; defensive end Ted Morris, Yamhill, and guard Andy Cook from Clairton, Pennsylvania.

Each came in for his share of praise and spoke briefly. Cook, who, it was learned, would return to Oregon Tech again next season, was called by Miller "the best downfield blocker we've seen."

Maupin, who starred on the Merrill High 1958 state championship team, is currently ranked number two among the conference rushers despite the fact he has missed a lot of action with an injured foot.

Anderson, who has been a standout in the line for the Oregon Collegiate Conference championship Owl squad, was kidded, "he'll be a pretty fair football player after he's been here a couple of years. We may be able to say something nice about him then."

Morris, a two year letterman, has done a commendable job at defensive end after being shifted there at mid-season. He was also cited as one of the outstanding scholars at Oregon Tech. He is an engineering student.

The Owls, unbeaten and untied, one of the 25 teams in the nation which can claim that status, are scheduled for their ninth and final game of the season this Saturday in Aberdeen, Washington, where they will meet Greys Harbor Junior College.

The Greys Harbor eleven is ranked high in its own conference and has an advantage over the Owls in that the entire GH coaching staff was on hand to scout the Techmen in their winning battle with Whitman College here Saturday.

Grid Benefit Game Nixed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association has been asked to suggest to sponsors of all post-season bowl games they include a request for contributions on ticket applications to aid victims of the California Polytechnic of San Luis Obispo plane crash.

The Southern California Chapter of the Football Writers Association of America made the request Monday in a petition to the NCAA. The action came after the collegiate organization turned down an application for a benefit bowl game to aid the injured players and survivors of the 17 killed in the crash Oct. 29 at Toledo, Ohio.

Dr. Ferron Losee, athletic director at Los Angeles State College, said a proposed game between the champion of the California Collegiate Athletic Association, Fresno State, and Bowling Green of Ohio had been rejected by the NCAA as a means of raising funds for the plane victims.

KC Rhubarb Over Switch To Continue

CHICAGO (AP) — Hearings in the dispute over the possible sale of the Kansas City Athletics' baseball club have been continued until Thursday by Probate Judge Robert J. Dunne.

Judge Dunne, however, ruled Monday that the Cook County Probate Court has jurisdiction in the case involving the co-executors of the will of the late Arnold Johnson, who owned 52 per cent of the ball club.

Land, Water Ace Showing Improvement

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Although his legs are still paralyzed from Sunday's hydroplane accident on Lake Mead, race driver Mickey Thompson is showing improvement.

The Los Angeles driver suffered a vertebra fracture when his 1,000 - horsepower hydroplane, Challenger, bounced into the air as it hit a wave during a preliminary to next weekend's Gold Cup races.

Dr. John Connolly said Thompson can move his toes, but his legs have no feeling.

"Mickey's morale is fine," said Dr. Connolly. "He will have to remain hospitalized at least two weeks, and it will be a while before we know if the paralysis is to clear up. He will be fitted with a cast that he'll have to wear for two or three months."

The physician said that if Thompson's paralysis leaves he will be able to walk, and perhaps even race, with the cast on.

Thompson, who races in both cars and boats, holds the U. S. land speed mark for automobiles, 333.67 miles an hour.

Bowl Fans Seek Ducats

SEATTLE (AP) — As far as Washington fans are concerned, the Husky football team has already been elected—to the Rose Bowl that is.

Applications for Rose Bowl tickets have been flowing in to the University in increasing numbers, especially since the Huskies' 34-0 win over USC Saturday.

However, the applicants will have to wait some time yet. Officials said no tickets for the Jan. 2 classic will be issued until the Big Five Conference Rose Bowl entry is decided.

Meantime, under Coach Jim Owen's philosophy of "one game at a time," the Huskies got down to hard work Tuesday in preparation for their Big Five clash with California here Saturday. The game has been sold out for several days.

Axeman Rate Second Spot, Demos Climb

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Medford High School finished a rousing first once more today in the final Associated Press Poll of Oregon prep football teams.

The powerful defending A-1 champion thus capped a perfect season as far as the poll goes. Medford was No. 1 in every weekly rating all fall.

Each of the sports writers and sports casters voting in this week's poll gave Medford the nod for first, following the Southern Oregon team's 52-6 blitz of Grants Pass over the weekend. That triumph pushed Medford's season record to 9-0—the only perfect one in the Top 10.

The state playoffs start next weekend, and in a quarterfinal game Medford will meet South Eugene, voted the No. 2 squad in the state today for the second week.

Jefferson of Portland won the Portland League title over the weekend, beating Benson 7-0. That victory moved Jefferson up from No. 4 to No. 3, and dropped Benson from third to seventh place.

David Douglas advanced from fifth to fourth after clipping Central Catholic 34-3. Central, No. 9 last week, dropped out of the Top 10.

Also dropping out of sight was Marshfield, No. 6 last week but beaten over the weekend. The team that did it, North Bend, took sixth place.

Moving up two notches, into the No. 5 position, was North Salem, which clinched the Valley League title by whacking cross-town rival South Salem 27-7.

Bend also jumped two rungs—to No. 8. Roseburg was voted No. 9 and Madison of Portland 10th. The poll:

Team	Points
1. Medford, 9-0	120
2. South Eugene, 8-1	100
3. Jefferson, 8-1	97
4. David Douglas, 8-1	82

6. North Bend, 7-2	56
7. Benson, 7-1-1	52
8. Bend, 7-2	23
9. Roseburg, 7-2	14
10. Madison, 7-2	10

Pel Banquet Set

The entire Klamath Union Pelican football squad will be honored tonight by mothers, fathers, friends and fans when the annual KU football banquet is held in the Reames Golf and Country Club.

The affair, which is scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock and conclude about 9 o'clock, will feature a pair of distinguished speakers. The University of Wisconsin baseball coach, Art "Dynie" Mansfield, father of KU baseball coach Bill Mansfield, will share the speakers platform with University of Oregon track star Otis Davis. Davis set the world's 400-meter record in the recent Rome Olympic Games.

Also planned are trophy and award presentations by KU grid coaches Bob Williams, Al Keck and Jack Petersen. An added feature on the program will be the showing of the 1959 Rose Bowl game pitting Washington against Wisconsin. The movie will be presented in color with sound, said Harold Howard, president of the Pelican Booster Club, the sponsoring organization.

Tickets to the dinner are $2 per person. They may be obtained at Gene's Mens Store, from members of the Booster Club, or at the Country Club entrance tonight.

Californians Plan Gamble In UW Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California figures to gamble Saturday on the long-shot chance of upsetting the powerful University of Washington Huskies at Seattle.

Coach Marv Levy didn't reveal what form the gambles would take, but it appeared the big chances would be taken through the air with sophomore Randy Gold doing the throwing.

"We feel we can't play too conservative a game against them," Levy told the Northern California Football Writers and Broadcasters Association Monday. "We'll gamble somewhat in our approach to them."

Levy said fullback George Pierovich, who hurt an ankle in last week's 28-0 loss to UCLA, would be ready to play again. Tackle Roland Lasher, who suffered a knee injury, will miss the final two games.

Coach Jack Curtice of Stanford listed 11 players counted on by the Indians this year who are lost through injuries. Against Oregon State on Saturday at Palo Alto, Stanford will be hurting in the right guard department. The three usual performers there, Errol Scott, Ron Fernandes and Chuck Morehouse all are injured.

"Our left guards will have to alternate," Curtice said. "And we'll try to throw that ball better."

Publicist John Eggers of Oregon State said the Beavers have suffered one of their worst seasons injury-wise. Of the eleven men who started the first game, only four are available for Stanford.

Still the Beavers rate as the favorites, with sophomore tailback Terry Baker making his first appearance in the Bay Area. Although he gained only 88 yards against Washington State last week after averaging more than 200 the past three weeks, Baker set up two touchdowns in the Beaver victory.

NCAA Posts Gotham Bowl Certification

NEW YORK (UPI) — The extra events committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) today certified 11 post-season football games in connection with the 1960 season.

The only newcomer to the NCAA - approved list is the Gotham Football Hall of Fame Bowl game at New York, Dec. 10, according to an announcement released by the NCAA Service Bureau.

Fifteen games were certified last year — the greatest number since the immediate post-war period — but only 12 of these were played.

Prior to the enactment of legislation at the NCAA convention in 1951, which provided regulations governing such competition, as many as 31 different post-season games were played annually.

In addition to the Gotham Bowl game, six others will be played during December this year. The traditional New Year's Day games will be played on Monday, Jan. 2, because the holiday falls on Sunday in 1961.

Here is a list of the NCAA-approved bowl games:

Dec. 10 — Gotham Bowl at New York

Dec. 17 — Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia

Dec. 17 — Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Tex.

Dec. 30 — Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.

Dec. 31 — Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

Dec. 31 — Prairie Bowl at Prairie View, Tex.

Dec. 31 — Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex.

Jan. 2 — Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

Jan. 2 — Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Jan. 2 — Orange Bowl at Miami.

Jan. 2 — Cotton Bowl at Dallas.
