CORN PUFFS

Heartier Fare For Nippy Days

It's frosting time for the proverbial pumpkin as autumn arrives in a blaze of color and crisp mornings. Appetites and energies are renewed as sparkling days encourage a host of new activities.

These outdoor appetites demand hearty fare such as these golden Corn Puffs. The delicately browned and lightly raised fritters are served with country-style syrup and a platter heaped with juicy sausage links. It's a combination that makes a robust breakfast, filling lunch or flavorful supper.

CORN PUFFS

1-1/3 cups sifted flour
3/4 teaspoon salt
1-1/2 teaspoons baking powder

1 egg
2-3 cup milk
1-1/2 cups whole kernel corn

Sift flour; measure; sift with salt and baking powder into bowl. Beat egg and milk together; add with drained corn to dry ingredients and stir smooth. Drop from tablespoon into deep hot fat, 375 degrees, and fry 3 to 4 minutes or until puffs are golden and cooked through. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with butter and lots of syrup. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

LITTLE SAUSAGES

Place links in cold frying pan and fry slowly 12 to 15 minutes, turning occasionally, and pouring off fat as it accumulates.

Appelschotel

This recipe for Appelschotel (OPPIE SGOATIE) or Stuffed Apples in a Casserole, came from the kitchen of a Dutch housewife. It is particularly good with roast pork.

8 apples
Flour and butter for frying
Raisins, sugar, citron, cinnamon, (and rum) for stuffing
2 tbs. butter
1/4 cup sugar
5 eggs, separated
(last three items for sauce)
Slivered almonds and sugar for sprinkling

Core and peel apples. Cut in halves, roll in flour, and brown lightly in butter. Cool. Place halves together in buttered, oven-proof dish, and fill with stuffing. Cream the butter; add sugar and egg yolks, beating constantly. Fold in egg whites. Pour mixture over apples. Bake in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. Sprinkle top with sugar and almonds. Serve hot.

DRESS THEM UP

Did you ever fill baked apples with homemade jelly about 5 minutes before you take 'em from the oven? Very tasty... a wonderful "flavor-change." I say homemade jelly because no other kind tastes quite so good. And since we have liquid and powdered fruit pectin to help us, it's so easy to make our own delicious jellies and jams from frozen juices or fruits.

STUFFED EGGS A LA SARDINE

Here's an hors d'oeuvre that's truly delicious and unusual as well. Mash the yolks of six hard-cooked eggs along with a can of drained Maine Sardines. Add a dash of curry powder and enough mayonnaise to moisten. Put the mixture back in the egg whites and garnish with a tiny sprig of parsley. Looks pretty and tastes good!
