

VETERANS DAY SERVICES AT THE MEMORIAL SHAFT and a parade down Main Street were among events planned and carried out by local patriots Friday morning. The weather, though murky after a rain, cleared somewhat for the brief, solemn services. Color guards of veterans organizations and the military, a drum and bugle corps, a baton drill team, Boy Scouts and youth organizations marched down Main Street. Col. Rupert Welch, Kingsley commander, delivered the main address. Cannons boomed in an 11-gun salute early in the morning. A flight of 12 jet interceptors from Kingsley Field was canceled because of low ceiling. In the photo at left, Maj. Victor

H. Prarat leads his 408th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron in the parade. At center, paraders and the public mingled at the Memorial Shaft during ceremonies. At right, Old Glory sails over an Air Force honor guard, and Colonel Welch and Master of Ceremonies William Sweetland on the platform. — Photos by Wes Guderian.

In The Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS
As this is written, Kennedy's POPULAR vote is some 350,000 in excess of Nixon's popular vote—a lead of about one per cent. His lead in the ELECTORAL COLLEGE vote is overwhelming—about 62 per cent.

As a matter of fact, THAT HAPPENED ONCE. It was in 1876. In that election, Democratic Candidate Samuel J. Tilden of New York received 4,300,590 popular votes. His opponent, Republican Candidate Rutherford B. Hayes of Ohio, received only 4,036,298 votes—a POPULAR majority of 264,292 for Tilden.

It's a long story. Oregon entered into it in quite a big way. In the 1876 Presidential election, Oregon WENT FOR HAYES in the popular vote. When its electors came up for certification, it developed that one of the REPUBLICAN electors (a man named Watts) was employed as a fourth class postmaster at an annual salary of $268. This office was held to be one of "trust and profit," and as such prohibited to Presidential electors by Article II, Section 1 of the constitution.

Oregon's Democratic governor, L. F. Grover, with the enthusiastic encouragement of his fellow partisans, state and national, ruled that Watts was ineligible and replaced him with a DEMOCRATIC elector. His action resulted in a row that rattled the rafters not only in Oregon but all over the country and had immense connotations in the final outcome of the Tilden-Hayes contest.

Oregon then had four electoral votes—two for its two senators and two for its two representatives in the congress. On the day the Oregon electoral college was scheduled to meet, the four electors met in a room in the state capitol set aside for their use. When they were assembled, the secretary of state arrived with the electoral certificates and HANDED THEM TO CRONIN, the Democrat appointed by Governor Grover. The three Republican electors asked for their certificates. Cronin refused to surrender them.

Thereupon the three Republican electors proceeded to organize THEIR OWN electoral college. The Democrat, Cronin, retired to a remote corner of the room and turned himself into a ONE-MAN electoral college. His first act was to declare that TWO vacancies existed. He filled the "vacancies" at once, naming TWO DEMOCRATS—who just happened to be waiting outside the door.

Weather

Klamath Falls and vicinity — Showers at times today. High today 42-47. Low last night 27-34.

Mount Shasta-Siskiyou Area — Travelers warning. Frequent snow flurries Sunday. Moderate to heavy total snowfall. Colder. Windy at times. Snow level lowering to 2,500 feet.

Herald and News

Price Ten Cents—62 Pages KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1960 Telephone TU 4-8111 No. 6531

Weather

Northern California — Storm warning. Heavy rain with southerly gales diminishing on the coast and in the valleys. Travelers warning for very heavy snow up to 4,000 feet by Sunday afternoon in the mountains. Occasional rain but periods of sunshine Sunday on the coast and in the valleys. Colder.

Loyal Forces Apparently Repel Viet Nam Revolt

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—President Ngo Dinh Diem's loyal forces appeared Saturday to have smashed an uprising by paratroopers who seized most of this tropical capital before dawn Friday.

The pro-government forces announced by radio in mid-morning that they had recaptured the radio station and several strategic points about the city.

The broadcast said the rebel leader, Col. Nguyen Chanh Thi, escaped in a jeep as government forces began encircling the city.

It said the 3,000 paratroopers and marines, who staged Friday's pre-dawn attack on the presidential palace and proclaimed the overthrow of President Diem, surrendered on all sides after putting up weak resistance. It claimed the insurgents were being disarmed.

The counteroffensive by Diem's armed forces, led by Gen. Le Van Kim, was launched against the city early Saturday.

President Diem in a nationwide broadcast urged the population to remain calm and disregard insurgent appeals.

"To protect the people's life and interests I have ordered the insurgents to surrender, but they failed to obey the right cause," he said. "I, therefore, gave orders to the Vietnamese armed forces to settle the matter with them."

The armed forces fulfilled their duty, he added, and the insurgents will be punished. He paid tribute to "those courageous combatants who died for the right cause."

The city had awakened to the sounds of gunfire.

Within 45 minutes pro-Diem broadcasts began coming from the radio station that had been in the hands of rebel paratroopers.

By afternoon the situation in the city was becoming calm again.

But a full assessment of the consequences of the apparently short-lived insurrection was not possible.

Large crowds of demonstrators and various political groups supported the insurgents during the uprising Friday.

Tryong Vinh Le, speaker of the pro-Diem national assembly, went on the air Saturday and accused the insurgents of complicity with Communists and demanded that they be denounced and publicly punished.

Train Hits, Kills Woman At Shasta

MOUNT SHASTA — The north-bound Shasta Daylight struck and killed Mrs. Flora Turner, 78, of 209 Water Street, at the Elma Street crossing at 3:12 p.m. Friday.

Trainmen reported the light on the engine was working, the bell was ringing and the wig wag signal at the crossing was operating at the time. They said they did not see the elderly woman until just before the accident. She was crossing the tracks at the time of impact.

Chief of Police Harold Barum reports the woman, mother of Lester Lee, was wearing a hearing aid, but it could not be determined whether it was operating.

John B. Harrell, Dunsmuir, was engineer of the train. F. H. Wintering, Dunsmuir, fireman, and L. E. Hubbard, Klamath Falls, conductor.

Republicans Hope Recount Will Alter Popular Vote

Integration Battle Line Forms; Crisis Is Monday

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—State segregation leaders prepared Saturday for an 11th hour attempt to prevent public school integration here on Monday.

The Louisiana Legislature resumes its 12-day special session in Baton Rouge Sunday afternoon, less than 24 hours before five Negro girls are due to enter first-grade classes at two all-white schools.

Lloyd J. Rittiner, president of the Orleans Parish School Board, said no further meetings were planned. The board, under orders from U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright to integrate schools Monday, voted last Thursday night to transfer the Negroes.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis summoned legislators back to the Capitol two days before the present special session, which he had called, was due to end. A new 30-day special session, called by Davis last Thursday, begins Tuesday upon the end of the current one.

The special session earlier this week passed 28 bills designed to preserve school segregation, including bills to give the legislators control of New Orleans schools. But Judge Wright, acting on a suit brought by New Orleans citizens, issued a restraining order telling the state to keep hands off the schools.

House Speaker Tom Jewell said in Baton Rouge the session Sunday would make technical changes in the bills passed earlier. He said he didn't contemplate new legislation.

However, Rep. Edward Lehtrone of Orleans Parish said he had heard the session would be asked to address out of office the Orleans Parish School Board.

Belief that this might happen was strengthened when Rep. Risley Triche, chairman of an eight-man legislative committee named to run New Orleans schools, charged the school board was "acting in complicity" with persons trying to integrate schools.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans clung to the hope Saturday that recounts and absentee ballot tabulations might give Vice President Richard M. Nixon a popular vote lead over Sen. John F. Kennedy.

That was the practical valuation put by spokesmen for Nixon on a request by GOP National Chairman Thurston B. Morton for a recheck of the vote in 11 states. Nixon was not consulted about Morton's recheck request, an aide said.

While some Republican leaders had dreamed of overturning Tuesday's results which gave Kennedy more than enough electoral votes for the presidency, Nixon's top aides made it clear they expect no such outcome.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, and Robert Finch, his campaign manager, did say they believe the vice president may gain a lead over Kennedy in the final count of popular votes. They didn't say so, but any such result would be regarded as a boost for Nixon to run again in 1964.

When Morton asked for the recounts in 11 states, he told GOP officials in the states to look into "purported vote frauds."

Reports from some of the 11 states indicated that few local Republican officials were hopeful of changing the results in any significant way. Some, in fact, said there was no evidence of fraud.

The latest Associated Press tally, with 1,672 voting places uncounted, showed: Kennedy 33,627,229, Nixon 33,348,397.

Finch and Klein told a news conference Friday that Nixon was not consulted about Morton's move for recounts or inquiries into any irregularities in Illinois, Texas, Delaware, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and South Carolina.

In Miami, Fla., where he went for a post-election vacation, Nixon said he knew nothing about plans for legal action which might lead to vote recounts in states where Kennedy was declared the winner.

Finch and Klein said Nixon was standing by Tuesday's results and has no plans to take any affirmative action toward trying to upset them.

"The vice president ran the race and accepts the decision of the voters," Klein said. "The decision made on Tuesday stands."

In a 12th state, California, Republicans were hoping that the counting of absentee ballots would take the state out of Kennedy's electoral column and put it into Nixon's. But the first tallies indicated the absentee vote would not swing the state to Nixon.

At the polls Tuesday, Kennedy took a 37,140 lead in California. Nixon would need almost two-thirds of the state's 200,000 absentee ballots to erase that.

Officials counted the first 3,400 of the California absentee ballots Friday. The totals were in Nixon's favor but they enabled him to cut down Kennedy's lead by only 438 votes.

Finch said any recounts or other action taken will be entirely in the hands of local Republicans in the 11 states. He added that "any hopes we have that the national result will be overturned by local action in the states is very slight."

Finch went on to say that the most any Republican could hope for would be to reduce Kennedy's electoral total, which now stands at 332, to slightly below the necessary 269 margin. He said this would merely throw the election into the hands of uncommitted electors. Eight of these were elected in Mississippi and six in Alabama.

Identity Case Victim Saved By Specialists

BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP)—Teams of specialists who performed two emergency operations are credited with saving the life of Mary Hawthorne, 26.

Mary, an American Airlines stewardess who became a principal in a case of mistaken identity, lies in critical condition in a hospital here.

A medical spokesman says the New York girl "is improving slightly and slowly." He said the operations, one to remove her spleen and the other to relieve pressure on the brain, are saving her life.

The victim of an automobile accident, near here, Mary's body had been mistaken for that of her dead companion Joan Frost, 26, another American Airlines stewardess. The error was discovered by two of Mary's friends Wednesday when they looked into a casket in New York containing the body of Joan.

The mixup occurred when personal belongings became scattered after the accident, which killed two persons and seriously injured three others.

Until Thursday, Joan's father, Thomas Frost of Philadelphia, had sat in a hospital room, thinking the injured girl was his daughter. Mary's mother, Mrs. John F. Schnell of the Bronx, who had mourned her daughter as dead, arrived Friday to keep a vigil at Mary's bedside.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Stewardess Mary Hawthorne, top, believed killed in an auto accident in San Bruno, Calif., is still alive, her face covered by bandages, and in a coma at Peninsula Hospital in San Mateo. The mistake in identity was discovered by a friend of hers when her coffin was opened in New York. The dead girl was Joan Frost, bottom photo, also a stewardess, who was in the accident with Miss Hawthorne and two other girls.

Shooting Times

OREGON
November 13	6:25 a.m.—4:50 p.m.
November 14	6:25 a.m.—4:50 p.m.
CALIFORNIA
November 13	6:21 a.m.—4:48 p.m.
November 14	6:21 a.m.—4:48 p.m.

SATELLITE ORBITED

VANDEMBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Discoverer XVII—first of a series of new military spy satellites capable of changing course if threatened—rocketed into orbit Saturday.

After hours of confusion blamed on insufficient radio data, the Air Force announced the satellite was whizzing around the earth once every 96 minutes.

Local Man Is Killed In Accident

A Klamath Falls man became Klamath County's 18th traffic fatality early Saturday night in a one-car accident south of Chiloquin, about 18 miles from the Chiloquin junction on Highway 97.

An unidentified passenger in the car was not seriously injured.

Dead was Frank Jones, in his late 20's, and a resident of Klamath Falls for some time. The police station at Chiloquin said the accident was reported at about 7:30 p.m. The body was taken to Klamath Falls Saturday night by Peace Ambulance.

Jones died after being taken to Chiloquin for medical aid.

The state police were investigating the accident and would not release details until the report was completed.

Bruce David, 25, of Appleton, Minn., suffered head injuries Saturday at 12:25 p.m. when the car he was driving slid off Highway 97 south of Klamath Falls and overturned.

Sanitation District Vote Set

The election to select a director for the South Suburban Sanitation District will be held Monday, Dec. 5, not on Nov. 15 as stated in a recent news story.

Filing deadline for the office now held by Fred Lewis will be Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Three candidates have already filed for this post. The three are Fred Lewis, incumbent, 615 Washburn Way; William Goen, 4650 Thompson Avenue, and R. C. Broilier, 3756 Altamont Drive.

Candidates for the office must be property owners in the Suburban Sanitation District.

The election will be held at the district office.

Gangland Boss Guilty Of Income Tax Evasions

CHICAGO (AP)—A jury has convicted gangland boss Tony Accardo, 54, of income tax evasion—the same crime that landed his notorious predecessor, Al Capone, in a federal prison 28 years ago.

The stocky Accardo faces a possible maximum sentence of nine years in prison and fines totaling $15,000. Judge Julius Hoffman of U. S. District Court will pronounce sentence Nov. 18. If a motion for a new trial is overruled that day, a jury of six men and six women returned its verdict Friday.

The crime that brought the wealthy Accardo's conviction held other irony: The head of a reputed multimillion-dollar crime syndicate falsely declaring $3,993 as business expenses for his flashy red sports car.

Accardo heard the verdict impassively, then told newsmen coldly: "I still have no comment."

Like Capone, Accardo never was convicted of a serious crime until the tax people went to work on him. During the past 30 years he frequently was questioned about slayings of mobsters rivaling the Capone gang—including the 1929 St. Valentine's Day massacre of seven men in a North Side garage.

Pedestrian Hurt

John Ledwell Smith, 2135 Northwest Lovejoy Street, Portland, was hospitalized Friday afternoon with a broken arm and other injuries after he was hit on a crosswalk at Sixth and Shasta Way.

Gordon Randall Sellers, 1012 Donald Street, was cited by Klamath Falls police for failing to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian.

Logger Found Dead

YREKA, Calif. (AP)—Ivan Owens, 57, a logger of Happy Camp, was found dead in the wreckage of his car 75 miles west of here Friday. Coroner A. B. Cottar said Saturday.

Cottar said the smashed vehicle was found at the bottom of a bank and that Owens' accident apparently happened Nov. 6. He was alone in the car.

THE LINKVILLE KIWANIS Club was organized Wednesday at a special meeting at the Winema Hotel. New officers for the club were chosen. Left to right, they are Dr. Arnie Jensen, lieutenant governor and accredited field representative for the Pacific Northwest District who conducted the meeting; James Crismon, president, and Fred Foulon, first vice president. Joe LaClair, lieutenant governor of District 15-A, Klamath Falls, assisted. The new club will meet each Wednesday noon at 12:10 and will concentrate its membership activities in the South Suburban area. Gene Favell, president of the sponsoring Klamath Falls Kiwanis Club, presented new members with pins and made a brief talk.

(Continued on Page 2-A)