Owls' 26-19 Victory Sets Oregon Tech History

Scotty's BARKS 'N' BITES

By WAYNE SCOTT

Well deserved national attention has been focused on Klamath Falls' "Hunter without a Gun," Jim O'Donahue. Jim and his dog King are featured in a widely-distributed picture magazine, "Friends."

At his home in suburban Klamath Falls O'Donahue has a collection of wildfowl, and animals, that he is giving shelter and care while nursing them back to health.

Each weekend during hunting season Jim and King patrol the wildlife refuges picking up crippled birds that have escaped from a quick death at the hands of the hunter only to face a lingering one in the refuge.

For years Jim has been engrossed in this "mission of mercy." Many of his birds have been placed in homes and zoos when it becomes obvious they could not survive if released. Most, however, eventually become whole again and are returned to their natural habitat.

For pictures of Jim and King in action see the November issue of "Friends."

Last week I mentioned a suggestion had been made to the NCAA that a special Cal Poly benefit game be played between Bowling Green and Fresno State and that both teams and the LA Coliseum board had thought the idea a good one.

I also said I couldn't see how the NCAA could reject the plan. . . . Well, they did. No reason given.

However, I saw where the profits from yesterday's Long Beach State-Los Angeles State game were earmarked for the Cal Poly benefit fund. So maybe there is help on the way for the survivors and families of the team.

Odds and ends . . .

Football banquets are the order of the day all over the area. The next two that I know of are scheduled Tuesday and Wednesday. Hank Smith and his Tulelake Honkers will be feted Tuesday night . . . and Howard Hopper and his Lakeview Honkers are set Wednesday.

Altamont Junior High has one scheduled Wednesday night I believe. The city grades had a special banquet for their parents and coaches last week . . . under the direction of Sam Redkey, at Mills School auditorium.

Speaking of banquets, everyone went away from last week's big Pelican feed happy. Reames Country Club seems like an ideal place for such an affair . . . and speakers "Dynie" Mansfield and Otis Davis did tremendous jobs.

Although all the arrangements for the 1960 Oregon Tech grid celebration aren't quite complete . . . everything so far points to the biggest ever held for the Techmen. Charlie Schuss and Estin Kiger have charge of setting up the affair and I have a hunch they'll earn their dinners.

show is in the making . . . don't know yet whether it will be held in December or January. We're hoping to arrange with Lou Jones for some of his better fighters (he has four Oregon champs in his club) to appear on the card.

I won't dwell upon the subject . . . but I have a hunch my name was taken in vain a couple of times this week (more like eight times, really) when I released the list of teams chosen for this week's prognosticators. I can't understand it really . . . everybody knows all about Rutgers, Detroit, Delaware, etc., don't they?

Fast Oregon Beats Tough W. Virginia

PORTLAND (AP) — Surprisingly stubborn West Virginia balked Oregon through most of an intersectional football game, but in the end fell before Oregon's speed Saturday 20-6.

Oregon, favored by two or more touchdowns, was leading only 7-0 as the last quarter opened. Then Oregon struck twice, getting one touchdown after a pass interception deep in West Virginia territory and another on a 50-yard run by fleet little 5-foot-4 Cleveland Jones.

Most of the action was packed into the fourth quarter, when West Virginia got its lone score. That came on a 27-yard touchdown play. Quarterback Dale Evans threw the ball to halfback Jim Moss who had seeped through the Oregon defense and was 10 yards in front of everyone when he caught the ball on the Oregon 30. He sailed into the end zone untouched.

That cut Oregon's lead to 13-6 and West Virginia had visions of scoring its first victory of the year with 7½ minutes remaining in the game.

But a few minutes later little Jones smashed these hopes of cutting around left end, getting a key block from fullback Duane Cargill and sprinting 50 yards to the touchdown.

Oregon's Ducks got a break at the start of the game and cashed in for its early lead. A fumble by fullback Bob Benke of West Virginia gave Oregon the ball on the visitors' 37. After 7 smashes at the line, quarterback Dave Grosz plunged the final yard for a touchdown.

West Virginia stopped one Oregon drive of 57 yards in the second quarter as end Bob Timmerman knocked down a Grosz pitchout and recovered the ball for West Virginia after Oregon had reached the West Virginia 5 in the second quarter.

The visitors stopped another 67-yard drive on their 6 in the second half before finally yielding.

Trying to get out of that hole, Evans passed from his end zone, but halfback Dave Grayson intercepted it for Oregon on the 13 and returned to the 10. Grosz ran in for Oregon's second touchdown to give Oregon a 13-0 lead with 8½ minutes to go.

Both teams were bothered by slippery turf. No rain fell during the game, but the field was wet from an earlier downpour.

It was Oregon's seventh victory against two losses.

Huskies Down California, Bowl Bid Nearly Clinched

SEATTLE (AP) — The muscle men of Washington crunched out a 27-7 football victory over California's Bears to win the Big Five championship and all but clinch a second straight Rose Bowl bid Saturday.

The Big Five names the Western representative to the bowl.

The favored Huskies hammered 72 yards in a dozen plays from the opening kickoff to score, and ran up all their points before California made a last-quarter tally.

Washington gave the big California line a working over in its opening drive, throwing its big backs up the middle for short but effective gains. Ray Jackson plunged the last two yards.

That first drive used up only five minutes and Washington had its second tally less than four minutes later, going 49 yards in just 3 plays.

A pass interception by center Roy McKasson, Washington's All America candidate, set up a second-quarter touchdown and the Huskies marched 95 yards for their final tally in the third quarter.

McKasson scooped the ball off the shoetops of the intended receiver on his interception and ran 39 yards to the California four. In three plays, Washington had its third period touchdown, sub quarterback Kermit Jorgensen plunging from the one and Fleming adding the conversion point.

California had crossed the midfield stripe only once in the first half, losing the ball on a fumble at the Washington 21. The Bears came back strongly, however, to start the second half. They marched from their own 17 to Washington's 5 before giving up the ball after two futile touchdown pass attempts. Washington hammered all the way to a touchdown after regaining the ball. Hivner pitched a 3-yard touchdown pass to Fleming as the climax and Fleming again booted the extra point.

Sub center Stan Parkinson grabbed a Washington fumble at the Huskies' 43 to start the Bears on their scoring drive. Helped by a pass interference ruling against Washington good for 23 yards, California got its score quickly. Larry Balliett passed three yards to Steve Bates for the touchdown and Jim Ferguson kicked the point.

Washington generated another long drive late in the final period, but, disdaining a field goal attempt from the enemy 14, ran a fourth down play and had to give up the ball.

Outstanding on defense was California's center, Dick Carlson, who turned in a dozen tackles. McKasson had seven in addition to his interception. Washington passed only nine times, but completed six, two of them for touchdowns.

Baylor Hits Lagging SC For Big Win

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Rapid Ronnie Bull, a high-stepping halfback whose speed may carry him into the All-America ranks, slashed to three touchdowns Saturday to lead Baylor past late-starting Southern California, 35-14.

The brilliant Bishop, Tex., speedster scored on 14, 3 and one-yard runs, ran two kickoffs back for 50 yards, caught two passes for 22 yards and gained 76 yards on 18 carries.

The intersectional clash kept Baylor (6-2) high on the list of bowl possibilities and assured the Southwest Conference of a better-than-even record against outside foes.

It left Southern Cal with a 3-5 record and nothing to look forward to except next season.

Crusaders Win B Tilt

MAUPIN (Special) — The St. Mary's Crusaders, champions of the Klamath County B League, were held scoreless in the first half here Friday night but erupted for 20 points in the second half and a 20-0 shutout of Maupin.

Coach Bill McKibbin's Crusaders showed a versatile attack and a strong defense. Dick Evans passed for one touchdown and scored another himself. Quarterback Jim Calhoun passed for a six-pointer and added two extra points. Maupin's deepest penetration was on the final play of the game when they advanced to the St. Mary's 26-yard line.

A 42-yeard pass from Evans to speedy Alex Mete at the beginning of the third quarter opened the scoring. Andre Knutson set up the next Crusader TD by intercepting a pass on the Maupin 24. Calhoun dropped back from the 10 and threw a strike to end Dan Jacobson for the touchdown. The Medford eleven marched 72 yards for their final counter with Evans crashing the final yard through the middle.

The win put St. Mary's into the semi-finals of the state Class B playoffs.

Score by quarters:

St. Mary's	0	0	13	7	—20

Scoring for St. Mary's: Touchdowns—Mete (42-pass from Evans), Jacobson (10-pass from Calhoun), Evans (1-plunge) Conversions—Calhoun 2 (kicks).

OSC Beavers Hand Indians 25-21 Loss

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Tailback Don Kasso raced 12 and 16 yards through the mud and rain for two final touchdowns Saturday, giving Oregon State's Beavers a 25-21 victory over Stanford as a clipping penalty cost the winless Indians their chance to win.

Stanford's Skip Face crossed the goal line with 1 minute 58 seconds remaining, but the penalty nullified the score and the Indians lost their ninth straight game.

Players from both teams engaged in a fist swinging melee at the final gun after Oregon State found rough going this blustery afternoon. The Beavers trailed 21-13 before second string Kasso's two runs brought OSC its sixth triumph.

Stanford's Dick Norman threw a pair of touchdown passes to Face, one on a 57-yard play and the other for 10. But two Norman fumbles in the second half hurt, the second one leading to the touchdown that put Oregon State ahead for the first time since the opening quarter.

After Frank Greminger recovered the fumble, the Beavers marched 57 yards in eight plays led by Kasso, a junior from Berkeley, Calif., who scored on the 16-yard burst off right tackle.

Kasso overshadowed OSC's star tailback, Terry Baker, who leads the nation in total offense. Baker scored the first touchdown on a nine yard run. Then Stanford scored twice, on the long Norman Face pass play and a four-yard smash by halfback Gil Dowd.

Amos Marsh booted the first conversion for the Beavers and Face kicked two for Stanford.

After Gene Hilliard ran 29 for the second OSC touchdown, a two point conversion attempt failed.

Only 7,500 fans sat through the action.

Owls' 26-19 Victory Sets Oregon Tech History

Herald & News Sports Editor

ABERDEEN (Special) — The Oregon Tech Owls have climaxed the first unbeaten, untied season in the history of the school with the most spectacular, determined football they've played the whole year.

The Techmen scored two touchdowns in the last 55 seconds of play to defeat Greys Harbor Junior College 26-19 here Saturday night. The spine-tingling victory was the ninth of the season and prompted a riotous celebration in the Owl dressing room following the game.

Owl coaches Rex Hunsaker, George Miller and Jim Cordial happily took what was probably the coldest shower of their lives, fully dressed.

Trailing 19-14 with just three minutes and 20 seconds left in the game, the Owls started to march on their own 24-yard line that culminated 14 plays and 76 yards later when sure-handed, long-legged end Arties Palmore pulled down a 13-yard pass from quarterback Roy Johnson for the six points that gave the Owls a go-ahead six pointer.

Dick Olivas missed his try for the point, but the Owls still had enough for the victory.

Showing an energy they hadn't displayed for the biggest part of the ball game the Owls got an unnecessary six points with five seconds left in the clock when halfback Ken Lewers whistled into the end zone from the eight yard line after the rugged Greys Harbor eleven had lost the ball on a fumble. The Owls, out-played for the biggest portion of the ball-game by a furious single-wing T ground attack that netted the losers 294 total yards, picked up five of their total 11 first downs in the final three minutes of the ball game.

Although Palmore's catch was the one that actually won the ball game for the mile-high gridders, all-conference end Ardell Hamilton climaxed a brilliant career at Oregon Tech with a 99-yard kick-off return that was easily the most spectacular gain of the contest.

Wilson set up the first Owl score when he recovered the third Fisher bobble on his own 49-yard stripe. Eight plays later he bombed over from the one-foot line after Maupin had placed them in a first down situation. The scoring series included a pair of aerials from Olivas to Farster, one for six, and one for 30 yards.

Wilson picked up 10 yards on the ground en route. Olivas booted the extra point with 4:05 left in the first period.

Wilson and Maupin shared the first half ground gain honors for the Techmen, each collecting 14.

A brilliant goal-line stand by the Owls cheated the Chokers out of an almost sure six points just eight plays into the second quarter. The Chokers took the ball on the first play of the period when Wilson fumbled on his own 16. The Chokers got one first down and moved clear to the one foot line, but they just couldn't get across.

The Owls, who had gotten off to a 7-0 lead in the first quarter, found the game all tied up, 7-7, with 8:35 left in the third period when the Chokers unleashed Stan Albertson, a pounding fullback, who scored all three of their touchdowns. Albertson, who collected 120 yards in 12 carries, broke through the middle for 25 yards and the first TD with 8:35 left in the third period.

Larry Scovel booted the extra point to hook the count. On the kickoff, Hamilton pounded out of his own end zone, scooped up the ball on the one-yard line and raced 99 yards accompanied by Charlie Wilson, halfback, also playing his final game for the Owls, to give the Owls a 14-7 lead. Olivas again booted an extra point and the Owls regained the lead 14-7.

Just nine plays following the Owl kickoff Albertson struck again, with another 25-yard blitz up the middle for a touchdown. Scovel missed this kick and the Owls 14-13 lead looked slim.

It was, because five plays after, Ron Martin intercepted a Roy Johnson pass. Albertson was back in pay dirt, this time on a 40-yarder. Scovel's kick was wide, but there was only 1:35 left in the third quarter and the 19-14 Greys Harbor lead looked big.

A key play in the Owls final drive to victory was a fourth down, three-yard Johnson pass to end Dennis Farster with 1:13 left in the game. The gamble paid off with a first down and on the next play Johnson connected with Palmore for the biggest six points in the Owls' history.

Virginia Coach Praises Oregon After His Loss

PORTLAND (AP)—Coach Gene Corum, whose West Virginia football team suffered its seventh defeat Saturday in a winless season, was not downcast about Oregon's 20-6 victory over the Mountaineers.

Corum said, of Oregon:

"They have an offense just as good as any of the clubs we have played and they do a real good job defensively, too."

West Virginia suffered no injuries Saturday. But in a pre-game drill Friday night, sophomore end Frank Schneider seriously hurt his knee when he tripped and fell against end zone bleachers.

Oregon Coach Len Casanova, whose team hopes to get a bid to a holiday bowl game if it can defeat Oregon State next weekend, was not happy.

"We were down," he said. "In fact I told the boys before the game that if they played the way they warmed up, they would be in trouble all afternoon."

But he attributed much of the poor showing to the fact that the team took West Virginia lightly.

"It's tough," he said, "to get a team up for a game against a club that has scored only five touchdowns all season and hasn't won a game."

Oldtimers said the crowd, only 13,442 on a chilly, damp afternoon, was one of the smallest ever to see a college game in Multnomah Stadium.

Richard Evans, defensive line coach of the Cleveland Browns, was an end on the 1939 Iowa team known as the "Iron Men" because substitutions were seldom made.

Utah Redskins Defeat Montana

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The Utah Redskins, utilizing a powerful running attack, ground out a 16-6 Skyline Conference football victory over Montana Saturday before 10,742 fans.

Montana, held to a mere 22 yards rushing in the first half, played on more even terms in the final two periods, when a brisk wind favored their passing. Quarterback Bob Obillovich passed and ran the Grizzlies to their only touchdown early in the fourth period. He caught a 7-yard touchdown pass from halfback Terry Dillon.

Race Cancelled

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — winds whipped Lake Mead into a frothy mass of white caps Saturday, forcing a delay in the start of the Gold Cup hydroplane race and raising the possibility the event will be cancelled completely this year.

Willamette U Posts 8th Win

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Willamette University posted its eighth straight victory of the football season Saturday by downing the University of British Columbia 33-17.

Each squad scored in the first quarter—the Canadians on a 30-yard field goal by Cliff Barker and Willamette on Jim Caffery's 11-yard touchdown run.

Stan Solomon added two more touchdowns for Willamette in the second quarter and from then on the outcome was never in doubt.

Wyoming Wins

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Joe Dempsey kicked a 17-yard field goal with 37 seconds left to give Wyoming a 10-7 upset victory Saturday over Texas Tech.

Fernandez Kayos Moyer

NEW YORK (AP)—Hard-hitting Florentino Fernandez of Cuba made a successful step up to the middleweight class Saturday night by stopping Phil Moyer of Portland, Ore., in 59 seconds of the fifth round of their television bout at Madison Square Garden.

Referee Harry Kessler ended the scheduled 10-rounder after Moyer went down for the third time.

A left hook to the jaw sent the 22-year-old West Coaster on the seat of his pants. That's when Kessler called it over. Moyer had been felled twice in the fourth round by jarring left hooks to the jaw.

Fernandez, a leading welterweight contender, weighed 154 to Moyer's 153¼.

Dalnamein Wins

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Dalnamein, a 28-1 shot owned by a British Guinana bookmaker, was the winner by a head in a field of 29 horses Saturday in the Manchester November Handicap.

Windyedge, a 50-1 chance, was second and Pandofell, the 10-1 favorite, third in the 1½-mile classic which ends the British flat racing season.

Wins Cross Country

ELLENSBURG (AP) — Seattle Pacific College won its second straight state cross-country championship for small colleges Saturday in Ellensburg.

The Seattle Harriers scored 32 points. They were trailed by Western Washington with 41, Whitman with 63 and St. Martin's with 76.

Leading the 22 entries across the line was Don Tretheway of WWC in 21:35.6.
