By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Defending champion Medford, North Salem and Newberg won first round victories Friday to join David Douglas of Portland in the semi-finals of the Oregon class A-1 high school football playoffs next weekend.

Powerful Medford, the No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll all season, strengthened its position as favorite. It crushed South Eugene, No. 2 ranked, 47-6.

Newberg defeated Jesuit of Beaverton, a newer school, 33-13. North Salem, No. 5 in the poll, trounced eighth-ranked Bend, 25-0.

The semi-final round will pit fourth-ranked David Douglas, which beat Jefferson, the No. 3 team, Thursday, against Medford in Portland's Multnomah Stadium, and North Salem against Newberg at Salem.

48-Yard Run
 Danny Sieg scored on a 48-yard run to start Medford on a drive which the Southern Oregon Conference team rolled up five touchdowns in the first half. It was not until 10 seconds before the end with Medford substitutes playing, that South Eugene was able to score.

Newberg ran up a three-touchdown lead over Jesuit in the first period, Jerry Dressel scoring twice on a 25-yard run with a recovered fumble and on a 19-yard pass play from Dale Twenge.

Each team scored twice after that. Jesuit registered last half touchdowns on an eight-yard pass play from Ken Doherty to Jim Nyssen and on Don Odermann's three-yard run.

North Salem Strung
 North Salem simply was too strong for Bend. Powerful Jim Dimit, who gained 61 yards in 13 carries, scored three of the Valley League team's touchdowns on plunges of 3, 2 and 4 yards. Bill Mickle passed 19 yards to Jim Allen for the other.

 Defending champion Seaside, Myrtle Point, Phoenix and Central Union of Monmouth-Independence were the opening round victors in the Oregon class A-2 high school football playoffs Friday night.

All scored one-touchdown wins. Seaside beat Willamina, 16-12; Myrtle Point downed Newport, 12-6. Phoenix took St. Francis of Eugene, 13-7, and Central prevailed over Mac Hi of Milton-Freewater, 20-14.

Seaside Star
 In the game at Willamina Paul Hoffman scored all three Seaside touchdowns, on runs of 33, 10 and one yard. The last one, climaxing a 58-yard drive after recovery of a Willamina fumble, proved the winner for Seaside, which will meet Myrtle Point in the semi-finals.

Myrtle Point scored late in the game on a one-foot plunge by Jim Thomas for the win over Newport, 14-6.

The losers had tied the count in the third period after recovering one of 12 fumbles committed on the rain-swept field at Myrtle Point. Bob Nelson sneaked a yard to score.

A 33-yard touchdown scamper by Mike Consruck in the third quarter supplied the winning margin for Phoenix, which will meet Central Union in the semi-finals.

Each team had scored in the second quarter. Phoenix on Monty Combs' two-yard plunge and St. Francis on Dave Nord's eight-yard run.

Central Rallies
 Central Union came from behind in the last half for its triumph over Mac Hi. It drove 64 yards to the winning touchdown in the final period, with Steve Tule going over from the one.

Mac Hi, on short touchdown plunges by Norm Kralman and Gary Martin and Rich Gillette's two conversions, led at halftime.

The semifinals of the Oregon Class B high school football playoffs will pit Siletz against Harrisburg and Umatilla against St. Mary's of Medford.

On Friday night, semifinal berths were gained by three teams—Harrisburg, Umatilla and St. Mary's. Siletz advanced in the playoffs last week by downing Knappa.

Umatilla Tough
 Vane Ostrom scored three touchdowns and paced Umatilla's 27-18 victory over Union. One of his touchdowns was an 82-yard kick-off return.

Don Lutz had two touchdowns as his Harrisburg team blanked Powers 19-0.

St. Mary's held Maupin scoreless 20-0.

One advanced to the finals of the state eight-man playoffs by downing Herford 39-32.

Rigney 'Set' For Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers aren't ready to name their new manager, but the betting is it'll be Bill Rigney.

"He's a leading candidate, but there are others in the same category," said Tiger President John Fetzer.

Reports in San Francisco and Detroit had Rigney, defensed San Francisco Giants manager, all set to take over the Tigers.

Fetzer, his aide Rick Ferrell, and Tiger Vice President Jim Campbell are in Los Angeles. When they failed to sign ex-New York Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, they switched their attention to Rigney.

"We have made no decision of any kind," Fetzer said Friday night via telephone from Los Angeles. "It is not true that anybody has been signed. But we want to name the manager before the American League meeting next Thursday in New York."

Fetzer gave an indication a new manager may be hired today even if the official announcement is delayed until early next week.

"I hope to be out of here Saturday," Fetzer said. "It is possible Ferrell and Campbell will stay on. But it's just possible."

Sports Editor Roger Williams of the San Francisco News-Call Bulletin wrote Friday that the Tigers will name Rigney to a two-year, $35,000-a-year contract. Similar reports have prevailed in Detroit for several weeks.

"I have not spoken to Rigney," Fetzer said. "But Ferrell spoke with him by phone in the past."

Rigney was reported in Los Angeles, by Williams, to speak to the Tiger group. Callers at his Walnut Creek, Calif., home were told Rigney was away in Carmel, Calif., until Sunday.

Rigney managed the Giants from 1956 until the middle of last season when he was fired with his club in second place. The Tigers were left without a pilot when Joe Gordon quit Oct. 3 to become manager at Kansas City.

Medford Scores At Will In 47-6 Victory

MEDFORD (Special) — Medford's Black Tornado swept up and down the football field at Will here Friday night to roll up a devastating 47-6 decision over the South Eugene Axemen in an Oregon Class A1 playoff game.

The Tornado scored the first five times it had its hands on the ball but two of the touchdowns were called back. The score was 21-0 at the end of the first quarter and 34-0 at the half. Medford coach Fred Spiegelberg substituted freely in the second half. South Eugene finally managed to push over a touchdown with 10 seconds left in the game.

The statistics tell the story of the game—Medford piled up 439 yards total offense to the Axemen's 148. The Tornado led in first downs, 19-13. Three Medford backs gained over 70 yards apiece. Diminutive fullback Danny Sieg gained 76 yards in nine trips, halfback Mike Hood had 81 yards in 10 carries and the other halfback, Phil Humphries, reeled off 74 yards in 10 carries. Top gainer for the Axemen was halfback Jim Brooke with 40 yards in 11 carries.

Sieg opened the scoring for Medford by bursting 48 yards through the middle to a touchdown. South Eugene never could get a sustained offensive drive going, against the fired-up Tornado. Before the evening was over, quarterback Dick Ragsdale had scored two touchdowns and passed for one. Humphries had scored two TDs. Hood had scored one and passed for one and end Bob Quinney hauled in a 39-yard pass to complete the scoring. Dan Miles kicked five extra points.

South Eugene Coach Lloyd Amick had high praise for the undefeated Medford eleven. His own club was ranked sixth in the final A1 poll.

This is Medford's third straight trip into the state semifinals. They are bidding for their second straight championship. The Tornado also took the state basketball crown last winter. Jackson County has three teams in the state playoffs this year. Class A2 Phoenix and Class B St. Mary's also won their Friday night games.

Score by quarters:
 Medford 21 13 7 6—47
 Scoring for South Eugene: Touchdowns—Robertson (1); Points—Robertson (4).

OCE Jolts Lower Columbia In Non-Conference Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Ron Jolma finally made it. After four years of playing football for Oregon College of Education without scoring a point, Jolma jolted across the goal line Friday for two touchdowns.

OCE defeated Lower Columbia Junior College 34-14 in an annual Veterans' Day game at Longview that ended the season for both teams.

It was one of three nonconference games in which Washington Junior College Conference teams played Oregon schools.

Wenatchee Valley and Eastern

Oregon fought to a 13-13 tie at Hammond had just gone 16 yards up the middle for a touchdown to tie the score with a few minutes left to play.

Wenatchee held a 13-7 lead at halftime as the result of two touchdowns gained on pass plays from Pete Ohler to Paul Seale in the second quarter. One play was a good for 50 yards and the other for 17.

Jim Sinyard and Mike Hurley scored two touchdowns each in leading Olympic to victory in a night game.

Whitman broke a six-game losing streak Friday night, downing

College of Idaho 26-6 in a North-West Conference football game at Walla Walla.

Whitman completely dominated the game, holding C of I to a net of nine yards.

Lewis and Clark, playing outside the conference, downed the University of Hawaii 18 to 13 in a game at Honolulu.

Oregon College of Education and Southern Oregon won non-conference games Friday night.

Southern Oregon defeated Santa Clara 26-20 and OCE defeated Lower Columbia Junior College 34-14.

'Woolgathering' Scribe Misses Buck; Rimrocks, Beaver Dams Get Attention

By BILL JENKINS
 As a deer hunter I guess I had better hang up my musket. Not only didn't I get my buck, I didn't get him knowingly. Perhaps I had best explain.

I am what is known in the fraternity as a semi-hunter. I like to go but there are certainly no hard feelings on my part if I come home without a buck despite the fact that everyone else fills up. This is not, and I want it clearly understood, because I am one of those hunters who go out "merely to be in the woods." Deer season is certainly no time for the nature lover to be out seeking ferns or the beauty seeker to be poking about in the hopes of getting a good sunrise shot on an odd-on chance of being blown out from under their bonnets.

UNSTUCK
 I love the woods and I love to hunt. But when it comes to deer hunting I come all unstuck at the seams due to a lack of concentration. When you are stalking the wily buck, tread hunters need not read this piece) to do just that. You cannot be woolgathering. Somewhere along the line the bump of concentration was left out where I am concerned. Particularly where beaver dams and rimrocks are concerned.

And right there is my downfall. Almost all the good deer country you can find has an abundance of one or the other. Sometimes both. And when I happen across either the hunting is over for me unless I just accidentally stumble over a daydreaming buck. I cannot resist the temptation to climb a rimrock nor to wander upstream on a creek that the beaver have been working on.

PARTNER DINGUSTED
 It happened to me again this year, much to the disgust of my hunting partner. He stalked off through some likely looking cover and started flushing deer like me. Me, I headed up toward the top of a lovely little meadow and promptly found a creek chock-full of beaver dams. I doubtless passed numerous deer as I bulldozed my way up that creek, plowing through brush and sweating my way through thickets of snow brush. Maybe I didn't see the deer, but I saw a lot of beaver dams, found an old flume now rotting away under the years and almost hidden in the forest cover, and had a thoroughly good time. Even better, I found an opening in the trees a mile or so up the creek that allowed me to view of a lovely rimrock not too far off.

RIMROCKS
 So I went over there and clambered all the way to the top. Why I can't explain. I abhor mountain climbers and class them along with the mentally retarded, the motorcycle riders and the long-shot betters. But a rimrock is different. There is, for me, a subtle fascination about them. A sense of peace and fulfillment to be found when I finally achieve the top. Of course there is seldom anything up there but more rock and sometimes a lovely view. But it is yours and you aren't always tripping over old beer cans like you are in the more populous areas of the hunters world. On this occasion I found deer tracks, fresh, that looked like elk. But if a man killed one up there he'd have to stay right there and eat him. You could never pack him out, not even in my little pieces.

Of course getting down is something else again. All the fun is gone out of it then. I solved it this year by falling off. Not intentionally, but a good tumble all the same. The only thing to recommend this mode of descent is that it is fast. You get there in a hurry. Sometime when I can spare the time I must go back and see if I can find some of the pieces that were knocked off my rifle in the descent.

Now I know that all this is sheer folly. I know that when I go deer hunting I am supposed to pussyfoot along looking for deer. But I also know that all this deer-slayer business will last only as long as it takes me to find a rimrock or a beaver dam. Then I'll turn all soft and mushy and start daydreaming again.

I suppose there is a cure for this sort of thing. But I'm not sure I want to discover it. I think perhaps I am happier with my rims and dams. The lingering beauty of them is always there in memory and they don't have to be gutted, skinned and packed out.

If I have forever alienated myself from the hunting clan then so be it. A man can only do what he has to do. And I just can't resist those rugged little mounds of nature.

Maybe I can't lead you to a big buck, but if you're interested I can sure show you some swell rimrocks. And some lovely little beaver dams.

SEATTLE (AP) — Speedy Mel Renfro of Portland got two touchdowns in one minute in a 27-point third quarter as the Oregon freshmen defeated the Washington frosh in football Friday 54-13.

Renfro grabbed the second-half kickoff and raced 90 yards up the middle of the field. Seconds later he intercepted a Washington pass and ran it 45 yards for his second TD.

Lucious Bain of Vancouver, Wash., also tallied twice for the Ducklings, both times on short end runs in the first half.

Oregon left end Buck Corey contributed 12 points, six on after-touchdown placekicks and one on a 47-yard touchdown pass play from Doug Post.

Washington was held scoreless in the first half. The Husky Pups finally tallied on a one-yard plunge by Rick Schmidt in the third and Don Safford plunged over from the two in the final quarter.

Philadelphia, Boston Vie For Crown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 The Eastern Division race in the National Basketball Association shapes up as a dilly between the defending champion Boston Celtics and the Philadelphia Warriors.

The Warriors and the Celts, running 1-2 in the East, knocked off the Western Division's top two teams, the St. Louis Hawks and the Cincinnati Royals, Friday night.

Undeclared Philadelphia downed St. Louis 117-112 for its ninth straight victory and Boston turned back Cincinnati 128-110 for its fourth success in six outings.

In the league's other game, the New York Knickerbockers broke a six-game losing streak with a 112-108 victory over the Syracuse Nationals.

Walt Chamberlain's 37-point out-pit spearheaded the Warriors. The Hawks, Western Division leaders with a 6-2 record, were sparked by Cliff Hagan's 22 points.

In the Boston-Cincinnati game, the expected individual duel between Oscar Robertson, the Royals' heralded rookie, and Bob Cousy of the Celtics, failed to materialize. Robertson was held to 17 points. Cousy, used sparingly because of a thigh muscle injury, scored 6.

Cougars, Tigers Tie, 0-0

DUNSMUIR (Special) — Weed and Dunsmuir, the two undefeated powerhouses of the Siskiyou County League, battled to a scoreless tie here Friday night but Weed won the title with a record of two wins and one tie.

It was the second straight tie for the frustrated Dunsmuir Tigers. They were tied last week by Yreka, 13-13. The Tigers finished with a league record of one win and two ties. The Weed Cougars were 7-0-1 for the season and Dunsmuir was 6-0-2.

Dunsmuir coach Lynn Elliott said "It was a terrific ball game." Both teams threatened several times but couldn't make the crucial yardage over the goal line. The Tigers racked up 12 first downs to five for Weed.

Roger Grant, Tom Simpson and Tom Loney sparked the Tiger offense. In the first minute of the game, the trio led the Tigers to the Cougar 12-yard line, where the drive died.

The final minutes of the game were exciting. Both teams marched into scoring territory. Weed drove to the Dunsmuir 20; but a field goal try failed. The Tigers pushed to the Weed 15 but time ran out at that point.

Jim Reed and Roger Paultello gained consistent yardage for Weed while guard Dave Downey was a standout in the line. Tom Tucker, Ed Fisher and Jim Girard were immovable objects in the Dunsmuir line.

Score by quarters:
 Scoring: None.

Yreka Back Likes Mud; Scores Four

YREKA (Special) — Dan (Butch) McCarthy proved himself to be a good "mudder" here Friday night when he splashed four spectacular touchdowns to lead his Yreka mates to a 39-0 slaughter of Mount Shasta.

McCarthy scored on runs of 68, 51, 48 and 39 yards. The slippery little halfback broke away for several more nice runs. The victory evened Yreka's season record at 4-1-1 and gave them a third place finish in the Siskiyou County League behind Weed and Dunsmuir. The Miners' four losses were by a total of 23 points and two of them were to Oregon Class A1 schools.

Yreka went out to a 12-0 lead at halftime and then poured it in the second half. Mount Shasta was unable to score despite the heroic efforts of quarterback Tom McHugh.

The Miners' dazzling offensive show was surprising since the game was played in a sea of mud. In addition to McCarthy's quartet of touchdowns, fullback John Meamber and end Jackson Laws scored touchdowns. Laws pulled in the mud-covered football on a 25-yard scoring pass from quarterback Dick Kinney.

Miner coach Tom Bice is looking forward to next year. He loses only two starters from this year's squad, Meamber and lineman Tom Broce. McCarthy is a junior and will be back to give opponents fits. Meamber, Broce and five other seniors were introduced in special ceremonies at halftime.

Score by quarters:

Coach Plans 'Shake Up'

BOSTON (AP)—Elated Lou Saban was talking about shaking up both divisions of the American Football League.

"We're really rolling now," the Boston Patriots' coach said after Friday night's convincing 38-21 triumph over New York.

"My guys are talking about two each over Houston and Dallas," Saban said.

Boston's victory in the AFL's only Friday action vaulted it over New York and into second place in the Eastern Division with a 4-3 record. Eastern Division leader Houston, 6-2, is at Los Angeles Sunday, while Buffalo is at Oakland and Denver at Dallas.

Boston has two games each with Houston and Dallas in its remaining five.

Butch Songin turned in his finest performance of the season in leading the Patriots on four long scoring drives and directing Boston's best offensive showing of the season.
