GRANGE NEWS

POMONA
State Grange Deputy and Lecturer Victor Croston, Central Point, was special guest of Klamath County Pomona Grange during a meeting here recently.

Other guests were Bernard Lewin, of North Lincoln Grange, Lincoln County, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Youngren, Riverside Grange, Douglas County.

Lewin plans to move to Klamath Falls and to transfer membership to one of the county's grange units.

Master Francis Flowers and his staff of Pomona officers presided. Assistant Steward Bill Novotny and Mildred Novotny, lady assistant steward, presented the flag and opening drills. The Bible was placed on the altar and a prayer read by Lucile Gray, chaplain.

Officer reports all were favorable. Pomona Grange Home Economics Club Chairman Zetta Sullivan reported the recent public dinner netted $87. Delegates from all county grange units reported and reports were deemed favorable. Granges represented were Lost River, Poe Valley, Shasta View, Henley, Fort Klamath, Bly, Merrill, Malin and Midland.

Charlene Reiling submitted resignation as Pomona ceres and Verda Urbach was nominated to replace her for 1961.

Myron Taylor was nominated to fill a position on the Executive Committee to replace Duncan Stewart, who is moving to New York.

Overseer Alex Cammock presented a coffee-maker, a gift of a local market, to Henley Grange Home Economics Chairman Mabel Dixon, spokesman for the grange. Henley Grange hosted the Pomona session.

Several members were reported ill. Mrs. Myron Taylor thanked the grange for thoughtfulness during the death of her parents recently.

The session recessed at noon for a banquet served by members of Henley and Midland Granges. The entertainment program was presented by Pomona Lecturer Mayme Cammock after lunch. She opened the program with a prayer dedicated to success in office of the president-elect.

Mary Lou Crapo and Mary Lou Lindsay presented their version of a radio script. All present sang "The Birthday Song" in honor of those present whose birthdays fell within that period.

Mary Lou Crapo presented a Thanksgiving quiz. Each granger was asked to tell of his Thanksgiving holiday last year. Community singing followed. Verda Urbach won a gift contest.

Croston spoke of growth of the grange and the factors that influence growth. He introduced Mildred Largent of Midland Grange, county deputy replacing Newt Barleen who resigned.

Croston stated a mass installation of all officers in Klamath County will be conducted Thursday, Dec. 8 or 15, at Midland Grange Hall. An installation team from Jackson County will conduct ceremonies. The date will be announced later.

J. D. Vertrees, assistant county agent, delivered the agricultural report in the absence of Charley Henderson, agricultural chairman, who is ill. Master Flowers announced a dramatics club is being formed. He introduced its leader, Ada Barleen. She asked for volunteers.

Next meeting will be conducted the second Saturday in February. Poe Valley Grangers will be hosts and Lost River Grangers, co-hosts.

The Bible was closed, the flag retired and closing exercises performed by Pomona officers.

Veteran Loans On Way Back

SALEM (AP) — The veterans loan program will get back into full gear in mid-February, H. C. Saalfeld, state veterans director, said today.

The voters approved $135 million in bonds for the program, which had been stalled for a year because the old limit on bonds had been reached.

Saalfeld said 1,400 veterans now are waiting for $15 million in loans for purchase of farms and homes. He said it would take at least three months to sell the first of the new bonds.
