Etna Theta Rho Hosts President

ETNA—Fawn Theta Rho Girls Club No. 63, held a regular meeting, Thursday evening, Nov. 3, at the Odd Fellows Hall. The business meeting was presided over by Pres. Linda Starr.

Guest of honor, Bobbie Vetters, president of Theta Rho Assembly of California, was escorted by Mary Lou Hayden, marshal, to a seat of honor at the right of the president. Lucille Buker, youth committee member of the Rebekah Assembly, was escorted and seated at the left.

Visitors represented Laurel Theta Rho Club of Yreka, Tanda Theta Rho Club of Fort Jones, Ora Rebekah Lodge No. 40, Fort Jones, and Aureola Rebekah Lodge No. 113 of Etna.

Bobbie Vetters gave a very interesting school of instruction to the members.

Gifts were presented to her from Fawn Theta Rho Club and Tanda Theta Rho Club. She also received a gift from Mrs. Lucille Buker.

The club voted to give the Penny March donations to the assembly president for the California Odd Fellow and Rebekah Youth Camp in the Sierra Mountains.

Preceding the meeting a dinner was served in the lower hall. Fawn Club of Etna was hostess for this meeting.

Thanks was given to Claire M. Potter, adviser, and the mothers who furnished the food for the dinner.

DAISY MAE caught her man (Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ritter), and just in time, for the Reames Country Club Sadie Hawkins dance is Saturday, November 19. Getting an idea of how it's done are three Dogpatch belles, left to right, Dorothy Kerns, Pat Bradshaw and Priscilla Card. Members and guests are urged to come early for the social hour which will precede dancing to the music of the Fred Dallas Trio starting at nine. — Photo by Kettler.

Styles Shown To Women's Club

McCLOUD — Thirty one members and five guests attended the October meeting of McCloud Junior Women's Club. The guests were Mrs. Shirley Baldi, Mrs. Teresa Glica, Mrs. Molly Olson, Mrs. Ruth Caswell and Mrs. Jenny Knutson.

A fashion show was presented by the McCloud Mercantile. The models were the officers, Betty Facey, Nickie Alexander, Wilma McArdle, Jeanne Hicklin and Eula Ray. Unusual fall fashions were modeled by Juanita Long, Irene Pederson, Donna McLain and Darlene Prevey.

After the show, games were played and the winners were Leatrice Bambino, Phyllis Reginatto and Margaret Peracchino.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Mabel Gordon, Mrs. Toni Cattani, Mrs. Clara Hanson and Mrs. Lucille Bonneville.

Dinner Party Marks Birthdays

WEED — A dinner party surprising Mary Ann Carrillo on the occasion of her 16th birthday was given Sunday evening, Oct. 24, by Mrs. Guy Ekwall and daugher Susan at the Ekwall home.

The dinner also honored Susan's 16th birthday.

Following the dinner and opening of gifts for the two celebrants the group attended a movie at the Weed Theater.

Party guests were Cindy Gaynor, Nancy Ware, Jeannie Mulvany, Donna Steffenson, Nancy Lemos, Barbara Mazzini, Bonnie Ganim, Brenda Barcaglia, Linda Paulson and Judy Meline. Birthday gifts were sent by Estella Langford, Lani Guilotte, Dianne Still and Nichole Scheberger.

Oldest regular ferry service in the United States was established between Jamestown and Newport, Rhode Island, in 1675.

Theta Rho Club Initiates Two

MERRILL—Two new members were initiated into Merrill Theta Rho Girls on Nov. 3. Patti Burleigh, president, conducted the meeting. Jeannie Laney and Sherry Baker were welcomed into the group. Nomination of officers was closed. Election will be held at the next meeting Nov. 17. Discussion of the group sponsoring a fish pond at the Odd Fellows ham dinner Dec. 10 was held.

MILLIE SHEEHY, library committee chairman, was in charge of the chapter night program of the Klamath Falls Chapter No. 467, Women of the Moose, Nov. 1. — Photo by Miller-Williams.

New Arrival Is Welcomed

Mr. and Mrs. David Montgomery, former residents of Klamath Falls, announce the birth of a son, Stephen Anthony, born October 27 in Corvallis. The Montgomerys have one other son, Donald Arthur.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Carter of Klamath Falls and Mrs. Helen Montgomery of Stuttgart, Germany.

David Montgomery is a student at Oregon State College. Mrs. Montgomery is a registered nurse at Good Samaritan Hospital in Corvallis.

JOB HAZARD

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—A new fireman lasted only three hours on the job. The fellow just couldn't get up the nerve to slide down a fire station pole. He quit.

Moose Women

Chapter Night of the Klamath Falls Chapter No. 467, Women of the Moose, November 1, was in charge of Millie Sheehy, library committee chairman.

Linda Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Robinson, entertained the co-workers with several piano selections.

Mrs. Sheehy presented on behalf of the lodge a book to the children's section of the city library. Accepting the gift was Mrs. Irene Hawkins, assistant city librarian.

The library committee also has ordered books to be sent to the library at Moosehart, Illinois.

Following the program Senior Regent Vannessa Butler conducted enrollment ceremony. Enrolled in honor of the library committee was Margaret (Peggy) Anita Brennan, sponsored by Evelyn Brennan, hospital committee chairman.

A report was made to the chapter by the eight co-workers who attended the state convention of Women of the Moose at Eugene October 30.

Bethel No. 51

Henley Bethel No. 51 honored Dana Reed at their last meeting of Nov. 7 with a poem written by Beulah Balsiger, a crown of sequin studded potatoes and a gift. Dana was chosen from Henley School to represent a princess for the Merrill Potato Festival held this fall. She was selected as runnerup to the queen when the final tally came in. Dana is third messenger in Job's Daughters.

Jack Murphy, past associate guardian of Bethel No. 6, Klamath Falls, pro tem for Bob Dehlinger, presided.

Petitions read for membership into Henley Job's Daughters were Sherry Sherman, Doris Emmrick, Lynn Flagg and Donna Moffitt. They will be initiated in the near future.

The parents of Henley Bethel are invited to attend the next meeting Nov. 21 at the Henley Grange Hall to see the girls exemplify the work in the order. The Junior Bethel will preside. Delicious refreshments will follow a very entertaining evening.
