

Abnormal Brain Wave Murder Key

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Murder, age, athlete's foot, suicide, and hot weather diets are topics this week with a focus on health.

The Sudden Murderers
The sudden murderers who kill without apparent reason usually have abnormal brain activity, British researchers report.
They charted the electrical activity in the brains of known murderers in English prisons. Among those who murdered while trying to commit some other crime, one in four showed brain abnormalities—roughly the same as other prisoners.

Among those who killed after considerable personal provocation, only 17 per cent showed abnormal. But in those who murdered without motive or provocation except for the stress of sexual excitement, resentment or exhaustion, 73 per cent had brain abnormalities.

Hot Weather Eaters
The hotter it is the more you need to eat, Army researchers report.
Men living in 103 degree desert heat ate some 400 calories more per day than did men living in air-conditioned comfort. They also gained weight, probably due to drinking more water.

The hot weather eaters needed more food for several reasons: increased blood flow to aid the body's adjustment to the heat, greater sweat gland activity and the loss of calories due to sweat loss.

Child Suicides
Under the age of 15, suicide is a minor cause of death. But thereafter it becomes more and more important as a killer, a new study shows.

Discipline, emotional upset, depression, jealousy, school and family problems were the most frequent reasons for attempted suicides. Drug addiction and the birth of an illegitimate child. The highest number of attempts came at the age of 18.
Parents should watch for a sudden change in personality or behavior, anxiety, irritability, depression, insomnia and frequent but unnecessary outbursts of temper.

Climate for Fungus
Athlete's foot—a common fungus infection—is more common and harder to cure among boys than girls. The reason, say British researchers: Boys' footwear is badly ventilated, making their feet a more suitable soil for the growth of the fungus.

RX Daffodils
U.S. studies of a Soviet-discovered drug are yielding a whole family of new compounds that hold hope for persons suffering from nerve-muscle diseases like Myasthenia Gravis.

The drugs stem from the bulbs of a plant related to the daffodil, which grows in abundance all over the world. Doctors may soon try out one of the compounds on human patients.

Plywood's Market Is Slipping

PORTLAND (AP)—The market took a serious turn for the worse last week in plywood sheathing. Crow's Lumber Market News Service said Saturday.
It said the plywood market remained weak despite widespread curtailment on the part of producers.

The big firms reiterated their intention to hold the price at $68 a thousand square feet for 1/4 inch, sanded on one-side stock.
However, smaller mills were reported selling at $64 and $66, still up from a low of $58 earlier this fall.

Last week the price of 3/4-inch CD grade per thousand square feet slipped to near $35 to $36.
This compared with $29 two weeks ago and $32 in mid-October, Crow's said.

It warned that this extremely low level is expected to cause more shutdowns among sheathing producers.

WANTS ELECTION CHANGES
ATLANTA (UPI)—Two-time presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson said Friday he believes the electoral college has outlived its usefulness as a means of electing a president. Stevenson, touring parts of Georgia on behalf of the Field Foundation, brushed aside questions about whether he will be offered a Cabinet post in the administration of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Most of the wood used in the manufacture of pencils comes from Southern Oregon and Northern California.
