DA Says State Welfare Department Aiding Immorality By Need Program

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Tulare district attorney told a Senate fact-finding committee on Labor and Welfare today that the state Social Welfare Department was encouraging immorality in its $130 million a year aid to needy children program.

Jay Ballantyne said police and department were alarmed because the department is "sanctioning and even encouraging the unmarried male" in the home of a mother receiving needy children aid.

"This is a completely immoral situation which is encouraging the illegitimate problem which now constitutes almost one-third of the children of the program," Ballantyne charged.

The department provides aid to legitimate or illegitimate children alike, even if the mother is living with a man who is not her husband.

He proposed legislation to cut off funds where there is an "adult unrelated male" living with a mother receiving aid.

William MacDougall, general counsel of the County Supervisors Association asked that present welfare regulations be tightened. He told the committee this would eliminate abuses, reduce costs and provide better service to the children involved.

Members will look at a Tulare County law that bans sexual intercourse with a person to whom one is not married. County officials admitted the law was directed in part to limit putative children claims and thus put a lighter burden on the taxpayer.

There have been about 15 cases under the Tulare ordinance all ending in guilty pleas or convictions with fines and jail sentences.

Social service workers are expected to oppose such laws.

Marjorie Montelius, representing the Golden Gate Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers said in a prepared statement that aid should be given to needy children regardless of their parents' marital status.

"We might find out what it is like to live in the Fillmore District in San Francisco, for instance, where there is a community toilet, cockroaches and rodents infesting apartments, not enough bedding or beds, close neighbors who may be prostitutes or alcoholics," she said.

Others called by the committee were John Wedemeyer, state director of social welfare; San Mateo County Dist Atty. Keith Sorenson; William MacDougall, Sacramento, general counsel for the California Supervisors Association and Rev. James Flynn, San Francisco, of Catholic Social Service.

The committee is headed by Sen. James A. Cobey, D-Merced.

"BULL IN A CHINA SHOP," three-act mystery-comedy, will be presented by the senior class of the Tulalake High School on Dec. 2. Much of the action centers around Hildegard, a spinster landlady, to be played by Donna McBride, left, and Faye Adams, center, as Jean Rodgers, a lady newspaper reporter who has set her heart on Detective Denis O'Finn played by Ron Long. This is scene from the play. Curtain time in the school gymnasium will be 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Controversy Involves Star

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Television cowboy Steve McQueen, 30, and a neighbor who has complained about the actor's sports cars and dog quarreled Monday night, police reported.

McQueen claimed the neighbor, Edmund W. George, 58, knocked the actor's 18-month-old daughter from his arms when he went to George's home on a truce mission.

George claimed McQueen, star of the TV series "Wanted Dead or Alive," struck him.

Police emphasized that neither man was arrested and that neither appeared to have been injured.

Officers said George earlier had complained about Steve racing his three sports cars in the neighborhood and allowing his dog to roam freely.

McQueen's home officers he went to George's home to tell him they should be friends and that George to stop calling the police about his racing and dog.

The actor said he had his daughter in his arms and that George and his wife, Loreta, 60, began screaming and calling him a "coward" for holding the child in his arms.

George then rushed at McQueen with outstretched arms and ordered him to "get off my land," the actor told officers. George struck McQueen in the chest, knocking the child from his arms, McQueen said.

George, however, claimed that McQueen asked him to step into the street, then hit him.

"I just came down here to make friends, but if you want trouble I'll give you trouble," George told McQueen as saying.

"Is that a promise or a threat?" George told officers he replied. He said McQueen answered, "That's a threat."

Final Figures On Cal Ballot

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Complete, unofficial California election returns have given Vice President Richard M. Nixon a 21,906 vote edge over President-elect John F. Kennedy for the state's 32 electoral votes.

The completion of the count in two counties Monday wound up the vote tallying.

The grand total vote was: Nixon, 3,241,757; Kennedy, 3,219,651.

The vice president got 50.17 per cent of the vote in his home state and Kennedy got 49.83 at the end of the regular election vote counting. Kennedy had 50.2 per cent of the total, a lead of 35,455 votes.

But when 230,227 absentee and new resident votes and corrections by county election officials were tallied, Nixon pulled ahead. He got 153,339 of the late-counted votes and Kennedy 96,888 — a margin of 61.3 per cent for Nixon.

The United Press International count included semi-official returns from many of the 38 counties. The official election result will be certified by the secretary of state Nov. 28.

Council Studies Ambulance Aid

DUNSMUIR — Possible financial assistance to Dunsuir Ambulance Service will be considered at the next meeting of Dunsuir City Council.

H. L. "Frenchy" Rubidoux and Gwen Rubidoux, owners of the service, appeared at the last meeting announcing they are faced with service stoppage unless assured of adequate return.

Mrs. Rubidoux said they cannot refuse a call even when they have no assurance they will be paid. The Rubidoux are also asking Shasta County, Siskiyou County and Mount Shasta to consider value of the service to the area.

They have two fully equipped ambulances, Mrs. Rubidoux said. Supervisor W. A. Barr also appeared in their behalf. He said some policy will be adopted by the board of supervisors assuring local ambulance service will be used by the county where possible.

City Attorney Howard Jones told councilmen he knows of no legal barrier to a city subsidy of the ambulance service. It is a public service, he commented.

Annexation Strikes Snarl

MOUNT SHASTA — Annexation of a new subdivision south of the city limits, long delayed, ran into more complications during a recent meeting of interested residents.

Attorney Dan Carlton, Redding, has been retained to straighten out details.

During the meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, eight residents objected to the incorporation movement. They have withdrawn and so far, no other delays are foreseen.

Street Move Asked

DUNSMUIR — City councilmen are favoring acceptance of Florence Avenue as a city street upon receiving a relinquishment notice from the state Division of Highways.

The council voted to write the state asking that Florence Avenue continue to be designated as Highway 99 Alternate, a business route, and that the state properly light the north exit from the city before the relinquishment takes effect.

Mayor Favors Use Of Meters

DUNSMUIR — A return to the use of downtown parking meters is favored by Mayor Dave McClintock. The mayor made this announcement at the last city council meeting.

The meters were bagged at the request of the Merchants Association early in the fall and later stickers were placed on the meters inviting "free parking—two hour limit."

McClintock said he will not advocate action until he hears from the merchants and citizens. He said if the meters are not to go back into use, he favors selling them to get some return from the city's investment.

Last year's parking meter revenue was over $5,000, the mayor noted, which helped the police department budget. Patrolling of the parked cars has continued this fall with nothing but outgo for the police department, he concluded.

City Attorney Howard Jones commented that local merchants and their employees fill most parking spaces. Councilman Dave Anderson concurred.

Police Chief Lee Clark stated that as long as an automobile is moved every two hours, it is safe from receiving a violation ticket even though police are aware it may have been moved only one parking space.

DUNSMUIR — Cash prizes will be given for Christmas decorations again this year, Ted Fay, president of Dunsuir Chamber of Commerce, announced this week.

Three categories have been decided upon. They are "residential porch and/or door," "residential yard and/or house," and "church or other non-residential entry."

There will be a $25 first prize, a $15 second prize and a $10 third prize in each category.

Money for the prizes has been donated by a local power company. Kappa Phi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority has been asked to judge the decorations. Peggy Walsh has been selected to serve as chamber of commerce coordinator.

Householders will be notified later where to phone so as to be on the judges' itinerary, and of the date of the judging.

Park Okayed By Council

DUNSMUIR — Creation of a Little League park pool of the Dunsuir swimming pool was endorsed by the city council last week.

The city has leased state-owned land for an indefinite period and gave approval for its use by Dunsuir Little League.

The area will eventually be an interchange when Highway 99 is converted from an expressway to a freeway through north Dunsuir.

Sid Fischer, Little League director, said the organization, desperate for its own park, is willing to gamble that the interchange is sufficiently far in the future to make the park development worthwhile. Elmer Dains has been named to take charge of the project.

Red Meeting Continuing

LONDON (UPI) — The most important Communist summit conference since the war was still in session today and was preparing a major manifesto on the future course of international communism, according to diplomatic dispatches from Moscow.

These reports that the manifesto, expected to be issued at the end of this week, would proclaim the unity of the Communist camp without resolving the bitter and basic ideological differences between Russia and Communist China.

The manifesto was understood to be worded broadly enough to give the outside world the impression that unity has been restored.

Another report said that the two documents were under study, one of them dealing with Communist ideology including the controversial issue of the inevitability of war, and the other on how to build world communism.

Most of the top Communist leaders gathered for the conferences, which was reported to have opened on Nov. 11, were still in Moscow today.

One of the difficulties in keeping up with the reports of the summit meeting has been the virtual silence of the Communist press both in Moscow and Peking.

LA Traffic Strike Ends

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The transit strike that jammed Los Angeles traffic and jammed Los Angeles' freeways is over, but the commuters' worries aren't.

The 400,000 persons who daily ride the Metropolitan Transit Authority's buses and streetcars may have to pick up the tab—in the form of increased fares—as a result of the settlement.

For five days the commuters—spread over a four-county area—the size of Maryland and Delaware—had no bus or streetcar transportation because of a strike by 100 MTA mechanics.

Sunday both sides—the MTA, a public agency, and the Amalgamated Transportation Union—agreed to a new 15-month contract which provides higher wages, improved working conditions and prospects for a pension plan.

The union voted 451 to 73 to accept the agreement. It will raise the pay of top-scale mechanics from $2.61 an hour to $3 an hour by July 2. The union said the raises will range from 46 cents to 64 cents an hour in wages and other benefits.
