Convention Report Made By State President-Elect

Mrs. Phillip Cole of Klamath Falls, president-elect of the Oregon State Dental Auxiliary recently attended the fifth national dental auxiliary convention at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles. Approximately 370 delegates, alternates and officers attended the business meetings and social affairs.

At the business meetings dental health programs in the schools were discussed at length. Colored and sound film and clever puppet shows were used to illustrate the various phases of the programs.

Some of the high points of the conference were the home tour and tea, which included visits to many lovely homes and area landmarks; a concert by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra with Nadine Connor, Metropolitan opera star, as guest soloist, and luncheon and style show by Bullocks, presented in the Biltmore Bowl of the Biltmore Hotel.

Included in the more than 1,400 guests at the luncheon and style show were many motion picture celebrities, who were introduced for dancing following the dinner.

Many of the lovely gowns modeled had been worn in famous motion pictures by such stars as Clara Bow, Marlene Dietrich, Gloria Swanson, Hedy Lamar and Grace Kelly.

One of the most beautiful gowns was made of green metallic thread and weighed 25 pounds. Designed by Edith Head of Paramount Studios, it will be worn by Juliette Prowse.

Election and installation of national officers was held at a luncheon in the ballroom of the Ambassador Hotel. Guest speaker was Dr. Robert Shira, colonel in the Army and chief of the dental staff at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C. Dr. Shira spoke of the advancement in dental health and oral cancer and of the extreme need of early detection.
