

Army Brass Sets Appeal To Women

LONDON (AP) — The British army's top brass was drafting plans at the War Office today for an intriguing campaign — to win over the women.

Army recruiters are going all out to prove that life could not be better in the ranks. But they know they have to convince the women first.

In the House of Commons, War Secretary John Profumo rose with an announcement that sent shudders through former colonels sitting along the austere benches. The army of the future, said Profumo, must become a sort of "housewives' choice."

Britain has abolished the draft and is now entirely dependent on volunteers to reach the desired army strength of 165,000 men.

The war secretary told Parliament: "At the War Office we are engaged in a large-scale exercise to see what can be done to eliminate some things which are still making some families discourage their sons and their daughters' boy friends from going in the army."

A War Office spokesman said the army is planning to spend 135,000 pounds — $380,800 — next year on advertising and public relations in the recruiting campaign.

Soviet Sub Eyes Herring

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union sent out a submarine Saturday to study the habits of herrings — and how to catch more of them.

Task said the Soviet research submarine Severyanka sailed for Atlantic herring fishing grounds north of the Faroe Islands, which lie north of Britain. An automatic camera will be used in the study, the Soviet news agency said.

In addition, the submarine will make a study of the illumination in the deep parts of the Norwegian Sea and its relation to the movements of herrings. A new and more powerful system of submarine lights has been installed on the submarine for its 4,000-mile research trip, to last 20 to 25 days.

The Norwegian Sea is the big stretch of water between the Arctic Ocean and the Atlantic Ocean. It lies northwest of Norway.

State Opposes Ban On Pears

SALEM (AP) — The Oregon Department of Agriculture Friday said it will oppose a possible quarantine on pears and pear seedling tree shipments into Northern California.

The State of California has scheduled a hearing Nov. 29 on a possible quarantine after a wave of pear decline was reported in the area.

Hugh Taylor, chief of Oregon's Division of Plant Industry, said the quarantine would serve no beneficial purpose because it is not known how pear decline is transmitted.

Pear decline is a pest, and Taylor said it may be the result of cultural practices.

He said the possible quarantine would work an economic hardship on Oregon's pear industry, which ships a major portion of its crop into the plagued area.

Pear decline also has been noted in Washington and Oregon.

NAMES CAN BE SICK

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Several years ago Judy Ampacher was looking over some dolls and was impressed by one named Scarlett O'Hara. She commented she would like to name her first daughter Scarlett. Now she is wavering. She is engaged to Douglas Feaver.
