

Udall Has Record For Public Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stewart L. Udall, designated by President-elect Kennedy Wednesday to be Secretary of Interior, has a legislative record of support for public power development.

As a member of the reclamation subcommittee of the House Interior Committee, Udall voted this year in favor of authorizing federal construction of the $45 million Burns Creek project on the Snake River in Idaho. The Burns Creek project would have the effect of doubling the power output of the federal Palt-sades reclamation project and is opposed by the privately-owned electric companies serving the area.

Two years ago, Udall sided with the victorious advocates of federal construction of power facilities for the Trinity River project in Douglas, Deschutes, Marion, Polk and Wasco counties will be considered by the state Board of Education next Tuesday.
