

Trust Provides Funds For Charities

PORTLAND (AP) — Some $20,000 a year will be made available to Oregon charities beginning next year from the trust established by the late John Griffith Edwards of Portland and Crook County.

He died at the age of 90 in 1945. His widow died last year. Her death enabled trustees to make arrangements for distribution of his estate to charity.

The First National Bank, which is trustee of the $400,000 estate, said income from the money, invested mostly in stocks and bonds, will be made available to Crook County, Oregon, and in 1965, he took over full ownership. His holdings included 15,000 acres and 20,000 head of sheep. He sold out in 1910 and moved to Portland where he spent the remainder of his life.

Girl 'Run Over' By Train Worries About Torn Coat

CHENOA, Ill. (UPI)—Margaret Cleary nursed a sprained ankle today and worried about her new coat, shredded by the undercarriage of 35 freight cars.

For what "seemed like an eternity," Margaret, a 15-year-old high school student, Wednesday lay fear-stricken under a Gulf Mobile & Ohio freight as it gathered speed out of this north central Illinois town.

Margaret's older sister, Catherine, 17, and two younger brothers were on their way to catch the school bus and the train stood in their way.

They waited, Catherine said, "about 25 minutes" for it to start. Then the two boys and Catherine crawled under, "just like we've had to several times before." Margaret was last in line.

Butler Claims Sentence Harsh

SALEM (AP)—Carl H. Butler, serving a life term in the Oregon State Penitentiary following his conviction in Klamath County Circuit Court May 25, 1959, for assault and robbery while armed with a dangerous weapon, filed suit for post-conviction relief in circuit court here today.

Butler pleaded guilty to the charges in court at Klamath Falls. He claims his life prison sentence was unusually harsh and was cruel and inhuman punishment, alleges he has no prior felony convictions and seeks new sentencing.

JCs Sponsor Light Contest

LAKEVIEW—Lake County Junior Chamber of Commerce is again sponsoring a Christmas lighting contest, said Bruce Whitmarsh, chairman of the committee in charge.

The contest this year will cover both indoor and outdoor lighting. Prize money for winners in six categories will be donated by a local utility company.

Judging will take place Friday night, Dec. 23.

Party Friday

The county library's annual Christmas party for employees, librarians and guests will be conducted in the library workroom Friday from 2 to 5 p.m., said Mrs. Betty Cote, librarian.

The library will remain open to the public during festivities, she said.

Kidnap Is 'More Fun Than School!'

SULTAN, Wash. (AP)—A spunky blonde teen-ager told police she was kidnaped at knife-point Wednesday but managed to skip out on her abductor in his car.

Hazel Irene Oelrich, 17, a high school senior, said, "It was much more fun that going to school." Hazel told police a man came to the door of her home before school, asked if her father were home, and when he learned Oelrich had gone to work, followed her inside saying he wanted to leave a note.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Oelrich, had left a few minutes earlier for the bank

Tax Collecting Good In County

LAKEVIEW—Tax collections to date in Lake County have been good, according to figures compiled by Mrs. Dorothy Brown, chief deputy tax collector in the sheriff's office.

Approximately 78 per cent of the total to be collected has been received. The total on tax rolls amounted to $965,163. The collections have totaled $770,384, less discounts of $21,963, plus interest of $9, leaving a net amount of $748,429.

An older brother, Patric, heard the children's screams. He ran to the tracks and picked up Margaret.

Catherine said her sister "didn't begin to talk about it until we got home from the doctor's. Then she worried about her good coat—it was all torn up—and said she probably wouldn't get to go to the next ball game. They put her to bed."

Henry Ford II Resumes Post

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. announced Wednesday that Henry Ford II, board chairman, will resume the company presidency Jan. 1.

The company said in a statement that Ford will act as both board chairman and president "for at least the next several months."

The announcement came a day after the designation of Robert S. McNamara, Ford president, as secretary of defense by President-elect John F. Kennedy.

McNamara had been named president of Ford—as successor to Henry Ford II—only a few weeks ago.

Wednesday's action came as the board of directors met following McNamara's Cabinet appointment.
