Williams Says License Plan Would Hike Gas Tax

SALEM (AP)—The Legislative Fiscal Conference was told Thursday that the governor's proposal for permanent license plates would call for an increase in the state's gasoline tax.

In answer to questions from Rep. George Van Hoomissen, D-Portland, Highway Engineer W. C. Williams said this would increase the gasoline tax to 6 1/2 cents a gallon. It now is six cents.

Williams said the proposal was designed so it would not lower Highway Department revenues that now come from license fees.

Sen. Alfred Corbett, D-Portland, said the proposal would allow considerable savings in the Department of Motor Vehicles and would meet legislative objections to electronic data processing equipment.

Corbett said the committee at an earlier hearing raised questions about the equipment.

Corbett said the proposal of Gov. Mark O. Hatfield would eliminate the need for the proposed electronic equipment. This equipment, he said, would require an annual rent of some $500,000.

In addition to this, Corbett said, the permanent licenses would permit less staff, reduce space needs and produce other economies.

Vern L. Hill, director of the Motor Vehicles Department, said in a letter to Sen. Anthony Yurri, R-Ontario, that the permanent license proposal will be presented to the next Legislature.

Williams said it would raise the initial title fee from $2 to $20 and make it a one-time fee unless ownership changed. A transfer of registration would cost $10.

A spokesman for the Department of Motor Vehicles said the plan Williams discussed was only one of several under consideration.

The proposal also would make plates valid for the life of the car, discontinue the need for annual renewal, require the plates and title to be turned back if the car was wrecked or junked. It would not affect trucks, trailers or house trailers.

Hill said that the proposal would—if approved—be implemented in the next biennium.

Truck Plunges Into Kitchen

RAINIER, Ore. (AP)—A truck left the road today and plunged 40 feet over an embankment into the kitchen of a home near here.

Police said George Edward Heron, 42, Kelso, Wash., the driver, was in serious condition. The accident occurred on Fern Hill Road, near U. S. Highway 30.

The accident demolished the kitchen of John Hoffmann's home. Police said the brakes failed on Heron's truck.

Hoffmann was asleep in a bedroom when the truck hit the house. He was unhurt.
