

Crosswalks Are Okayed

MALIN—Acting on recommendation of local high school students, Malin city councilmen, during a recent meeting, approved painting crosswalks at the Third Street intersection with Lakeview and Railroad streets here.

Malin High School students previously had elected youngsters to fill positions of city officials for one day—Nov. 22. The painting recommendation was among several others submitted.

Other recommendations will be acted on during future meetings.

Councilmen also endorsed application to the state Liquor Control Commission by Cy McColgin of Malin C&E Market for a package store Class A liquor license.

And they voted to ask Klamath Irrigation District (KID) to replace the city's irrigation turnout in the canal at the north side of Block 31.

In other action, councilmen voted to build a fence along the east boundary of the sewage disposal property, heard a report from Ival Taylor concerning a traffic court conference in Medford, during which bail schedules and uniform traffic ticket systems and other laws affecting motor vehicles were discussed, and talked over requirements concerning the city's trailer house ordinance.

Massachusetts established the first state board of health in the U.S. in 1869.

PVT. RICHARD C. EHRlich JR., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ehrlich, 4634 Cannon Avenue, will complete six months of active National Guard training February 6 at Fort Ord. He has attended artillery and field communications school and will instruct field communications students.

TOO MUCH LOVE EHRHARDT, S.C. (AP)—Jody Morris, 10, of Augusta, Ga., was so delighted to see his grandmother, Mrs. Roy Morris, that he vowed he'd hug her with all his strength.

He did. Mrs. Morris was sent to bed with a broken rib and strained muscles.

Young Women Jailed After Theft Is Reported

Two young women were in the city jail Friday morning after a local student reported that $84 was stolen from his apartment late Thursday night.

Police charged Linda Joyce David, 20, with grand larceny and Rebecca Peggy Barrera, 22, with receiving and concealing stolen property. Both are from Klamath Falls.

The victim was Norman Priest, 33, 134 North Third Street. He told officers he was walking at Seventh and Pine streets Thursday night and was asked by two women in a car parked nearby to buy some beer and have a party with them.

ABYSS OR OVER

BERLIN (UPI)—The West Berlin newspaper "B.Z." today printed the following joke it said was circulating in Poland.

A student was asked what stage of development the United States was in. He answered "The United States stand on the brink of the abyss."

The next question was in what stage the Soviet Union is. He answered "The Soviet Union soon will succeed in catching up to the United States and overtaking it."

LIFT THAT BALE

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—Mrs. H. R. Hand harvested cotton from a plant on her front lawn late this summer.

Priest said he complied and they stopped at his apartment. He scanned an address book there to try to find a date for one of the women, he added.

The book contained $84 in cash, and two bills dropped while he thumbed through it, Priest said. He stated he doubted the women saw the money, so closed the book and stepped out of the room briefly.

But, said Priest, he then decided that the women perhaps did see the money, so returned, thumbed through the book and discovered the money was missing.

The women denied taking the money, so he let them go and went back to town to call police.

Officers soon found a car on Main Street answering the description Priest furnished and found the suspects inside a cafe. Priest identified them and officers took them into custody for questioning.

Police who interrogated them said the women admitted the charges. They were booked to await prosecution.
