of the majority land owners in opposition, and Hoyt moved the second. The council's vote was unanimously in favor.

Another sewer project, the construction of a sewer link for the far end of Conger Avenue, received the green light, also, when a second call for bids brought figures more agreeably in line with the estimate.

Several weeks ago, the call for bids brought only one bidder and his figure was almost $6,000 over the estimate.

Last night, five bidders offered figures on the project which has been estimated at $14,385.50. Low bidder was Trio Construction Company of Creswell, Ore., at $14,382.50. Other bidders were: N. R. Kimes Plumbing and Heating, Klamath Falls, $14,537; Friesen-Welman Company, Klamath Falls, $15,824; P. J. Bush and Sons, Klamath Falls, $18,948.80, and Ellis B. Beeson, Talent, $23,-002.60. The city engineer's office was checking out the bids for quantities and other factors, and were empowered to let the bid if it went to the Trio Construction Company, and otherwise to report back to the council.

J. W. Kerns was the only bidder on a tractor for the Klamath Memorial Park. Their bid was $1,815. City Manager G. S. Vergeer indicated this figure was about in line with estimates.

Steel for the Memorial Park was also bid last night. Low bidder was Woodbury and Company, Portland, at $1,315.33, and J. E. Hazeltine Company, Portland, at $1,353.29, but there was a question about quantities. Other bidders were: Sixth Street Steel, Klamath Falls, $1,611.53; Far West Steel, Eugene, $1,674.58, and Portland Wire and Steel, $1,821.-26. Vergeer reported later that South Sixth Street Steel proved to be low bidder.

The council also moved to call for bids for the paving of Pershing Way and a portion of Washburn Way; moved to proceed on condemnation proceedings against a house on lot 687, block 107, Mills Addition, owned by the estate of Bertha Duke.

They also moved to call for bids on a compact model car for the building inspector.

Following a study of the plan submitted by Safeway Stores, the council moved to waive a portion of the zoning requirement on parking spaces to permit Safeway Stores to construct a new store on Ninth Street adjacent to the First Christian Church, tear down their present building as well as the other buildings on that half block facing Eighth Street and convert it into an 81-car parking area.

The council was also informed that a damage suit was pending against the city from injuries suffered by Ethel Richey on July 15, 1960, at the Municipal Swimming Pool. Her attorney informed the council by letter of the pending claim, and the council referred the matter to City Attorney Henry Perkins who in turn referred it to the city's insurance company.

Youth Admits Loosing Cars

GRANTS PASS (AP)—State police arrested a teenage boy Monday and said he later admitted releasing four railroad flatcars that sped down Southern Pacific tracks and cracked up in the little town of Merlin Sunday.

Police said Fred Charles Tompkins, 19, of Provolt was charged with releasing the cars, waived a preliminary hearing and then was held on $1,500 bond awaiting grand jury action.

Tompkins signed a statement admitting the release of the cars and named three other teenagers who helped him, police said. Juvenile officials started proceedings against the others.

Incidents Dot Blotter

A Chiloquin man, Darrell James Wilson, 20, forfeited $25 Tuesday morning in municipal court on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Wilson was arrested Monday at the Waldorf Billiard Parlor, 610 Main Street, after a disturbance. Burton Brouillard signed the complaint against Wilson.

City police also investigated these incidents Monday:

A four-car accident occurred at 12:45 p.m. at the intersection of South Sixth and Owens streets. The cars were driven by Charles J. Smith, 55, 1632 Arthur Street; Wilma B. Edwards, 28, Route 1, Klamath Falls; Robert D. Jones, 43, 2530 Gettle Street, and Edna Mae Hauk, 31, 2814 Bisbee Street. Officers said the first three cars were stopped. No citations were issued. Eugene Watson, 2312 Orchard Avenue, said someone was prowling around his house.

Two reports canceled each other. Mrs. Charles Ramp, 500 Martin Street, said someone had taken some Christmas packages from her car. At the same time, Mrs. Dick Reeder, 1105 Pacific Terrace, came to the police station and said some packages were left in her car. The gifts were returned to Mrs. Ramp.

REPUBLIC EXEC RESIGNS

CHICAGO (UPI) — Charles M. White resigned Monday as board chairman and chief executive officer of Republic Steel Corp.

White, 69, Cleveland, Ohio, will stay on as a director and as honorary chairman of the board. He has been with Republic for 30 years and has been its chief executive officer since 1955.

Thomas F. Patton, president of Republic, will also assume White's post as chief executive officer.

MIKE MURPHY, a local handyman, is glad, now, that he postponed his trip to Ireland.

Klamath Man Canceled Passage On Fatal Flight

Mike Murphy, 818 Walnut Avenue, is thanking his lucky stars that he canceled passage on a jet flight from Portland last week.

For the plane on which he was booked for the first leg of his trip to Ireland crashed at Brooklyn and took 83 passengers to their deaths.

Murphy's good fortune came because he was asked by Veterans Administration to take a physical examination in Portland. The date interfered with Murphy's Ireland journey.

More extraordinary, the narrow squeak was the second involving airplanes for Murphy. He spent the war years in the Army Air Force Combat Cargo Corps, kicking materiel from C-46's flying "The Hump" from Burma to India and China.

Once, Japanese Zeros shot down Murphy's plane. The craft came down in rough country in Kutka, Burma — the fabled Mandalay. Two of 11 crewmen survived and Murphy was one. He spent months in a hospital at Calcutta.

Murphy is undaunted by his narrow escape. He still plans to fly to Ireland, probably at the end of January, and to spend three months there with his mother, who lives at Kilarney.

During the 31 years that he has been in the U.S., Murphy has returned to his homeland four times, the last time in 1953. He is a handyman.

Land Board Will Ask Legislature For Authority To Lease Tidelands

SALEM (AP)—The State Land Board agreed today to follow an opinion by Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton and ask the legislature for specific authority to lease Oregon's tidelands.

The decision grew out of a recent opinion by the attorney general that the board lacked authority to grant a lease to Shell Oil Co. for oil and gas exploration on Oregon lands.

A spokesman for the company, Durland E. Clark Jr. of Los Angeles, said company legal counsel disagreed with the Thornton opinion.

Clark said that if Shell had felt the land board lacked authority to grant the lease it would not have submitted the proposal to the board.

In the proposed lease, Shell offered to pay $150,000 annually for the right to explore exclusively 541,000 acres of coastal submerged lands and 59,000 acres of submerged land in the bed of the Columbia River — the whole of Oregon's tidelands.

This would have given the company the exclusive right to oil exploration along the entire Oregon coast extending from the beach three miles out into the ocean. The lease also contained a provision so that state would get a 12 per cent royalty if any oil was discovered.

Clark said that Oregon law says that "the power granted . . . is vested severally in the state of Oregon. . . . " He added that the law says that "the power is self operating without any subsequent legislation."

Thornton said that this point was considered and evaluated in the formation of his opinion. He said the history of the Oregon attorney general's office has been to consider tidelands separate from on shore property.

He pointed out that the board is not compelled to follow his advice but that by following the advice the members—Gov. Mark Hatfield, Secretary of State Howell Appling and State Treasurer Howard Belton — are protected from any liability should the court overturn the opinion later. He said that conversely they are not protected from liability if they do not follow the ruling.

Appling said that in an Oct. 15, 1953, letter to the board Thornton said the right to use, develop and lease submerged state lands was under the jurisdiction of the State Land Board.

Thornton said that in the final paragraph of his most recent opinion he said that it modified any previous opinions. He said that if the board had acted under the Oct. 15, 1953, opinion it would have been safe from any liability.

Hatfield asked Thornton to prepare specific data for a recommended measure that the legislature could be asked to approve and that the board then would make any policy decision needed on the matter.

Hatfield also said that after hearing engineering reports he was convinced that any oil development would not impair the beauty of the Oregon coast or prevent the use of its beaches.

He said that any lease granted by the state would contain built into it protection of the beaches, which he described as one of Oregon's most precious resources. Clark said that the lease proposed by Shell contained a requirement that any drilling be approved by the Department of Geology which he said would have assured such protection.

Find Woman In Trunk

VALE, Ore. (AP) — A woman police said was locked in the trunk of an automobile for three days was recovering in an Ontario hospital today.

Mrs. Lucille Schoonover left home in the family car Friday. Her husband a little time later reported to police that she was missing and said he was concerned because she had been under a physician's care.

Monday evening, state police game officer Chester Hostick came upon an apparently abandoned car on a rarely used road north of Vale. There were no tracks in the snow, he said, so it appeared it had been there for a few days. As he was inspecting it, he heard a woman's muffled voice cry for help. It came from the locked trunk.

Unable to open the trunk, he ripped out the back of the seat, freed Mrs. Schoonover and took her to a hospital where she was reported today to be in satisfactory condition. She said she had been in the trunk three days.

There was no clear explanation for her plight. The keys to the car trunk were in her pocket. Her husband said she had not been well.

Three Boys Are Cleared

PORTLAND (AP)—Three teenage boys had no connection with the slaying of a college student and the disappearance and probable abduction of his girl friend, police said today.

The teenagers all were questioned Monday and police found all were at home at the time authorities believe Larry Ralph Peyton, 19, of Portland, was knifed to death in a lovers' lane in Portland's West Hills, said sheriff's Capt. Gordon Auborn.

Police thus have no new or promising leads in the killing of Peyton and the disappearance of Beverly Ann Allan, 19, of Port Townsend, Wash., a student at Washington State University.

Auborn said earlier that an all-points bulletin had been issued for the teenage boys because they disappeared shortly after the killing. They were brought back to Portland after being located in California.

Checks disclosed, Auborn said, that the alibis given by the boys were true. Two had been held in custody, and they were released today. Auborn said the third boy is at a hospital here.

Smoke Damage

Suburban firemen said nothing but a little smoke damage resulted from an overheated pan of grease at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Moore, 2636 Gettle Street, Monday afternoon.

No other activity was reported since Monday noon by local fire departments.

Boy, 10, Hit By Automobile

James Daulton, 10, was struck by a car while riding his bike to school on Altamont Drive Tuesday morning.

The boy was taken by Peace Ambulance to Klamath Valley Hospital for treatment of a minor ankle injury.

State police said the car was driven by Ronald Bouchard, 3204 Altamont. Bouchard told them he didn't see the boy, who was riding on the road's shoulder near state police headquarters, officers said. Investigation is continuing.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Daulton, 4331 Bisbee Street.
