

Thriller, Upset Mark B Cage Action

A pair of ball teams added to their unbeaten strings in County B basketball action Tuesday night and another scored an amazing upset to gain revenge for an earlier defeat, but two of them had problems before they made the grade.

The Malin Mustangs caught the Henley Hornets, a member of the

AL KECK ... string stretches

A-2 Rogue League, short on the backboards, and defeated them 45-42, but they had to come hard from behind to do it.

The second squad, the Klamath Union Jayvees, finally shaded the Merrill varsity 68-60, but they too had to go full-bore before it was over. KU Coach Al Keck, former Merrill pilot, saw his club waste early leads and nearly get caught.

The KU frosh cagers of coach Wade Patterson breezed out to a 47-17 victory over the Merrill Junior Varsity and everybody got into the act. The young Pels have yet to taste defeat in six starts.

In the only other game of the night the league-leading Chiloquin Panthers swarmed over the Bly Bobcats 70-35.

KU Frosh 47, Merrill JV 17
The baby Pelicans got off to a slow start, earning only seven points in the first quarter, but they also set the trend for the host club in the same period. They gave up only three points in the first stanza, four in the second, four in the third and six in the final frame.

Sparked by Hal Holman in the first half and Jan Gippo in the second, the frosh led 7-3, 23-7 and 38-11 at the quarter rests. Holman and Gippo shared high point honors with nine each, although Gippo played a major portion of the final period with four fouls charged him.

Coach Patterson used every man on his bench and all but three of them cracked the score column.

The victory was the sixth straight for the energetic young KU cagers. They have yet to lose a game.

The scoring summary: Merrill JV 17:1 — Stora 3, Kurtz 2, Saunders 1, Long 1, West 2, Hill 2, Northington 2, Thompson 4.

KU Frosh 68, Merrill 60
The Jayvees felt the hot breath of the Huskies, up close, in the closing stages of the feature at Merrill.

After sprinting out to leads of as many as 15 points, the KU quint found themselves just three points ahead, 61-58, with a bare minute left to go, as the scrappy Huskies, paced by driving Bucky Wilson, who topped all the shooters with 18 points, slapped the pressure on.

Added to the KU discomfiture was the fact that four of their front liners were packing four fouls each at this time. Big Rich Bogatay saved the KU. Bogatay, who didn't play the first quarter, scored only two points in the second and two in the third, but then came through with a brilliant 11 points in the late stages for a team high of 15. His rebounding and layups were the chief factors in the win.

Bob Dearing crowded Bogatay with 14, while Dana Ash and Sperm Allen were next with 13 each and Kent Hunsaker, who had his four fouls early, collected 10.

Merrill's Ed Parnell had a perfect 6-6 at the foul line and scored four field goals for a total of 14 points. Big Dick Carleton, playing with a bandaged hand, was next with 11.

The quarter counts were 14-11, 34-24 and 47-43, all for KU.

The scoring summary: Merrill (68)—Parnell 14, Chance 7, Carleton 11, Wilson 18, Salvadori 6, Smith 4, KU Jayvees (60)—Hunsaker 10, Dearing 14, Ash 13, Stippich 3, Allen 13, Kelley, Bogatay 15.

Malin 45, Henley 42
Coach Bob Graham's admonition that his ball club would be a tough one when it "jelled" took on added meaning Tuesday night when the Mustangs, after trailing most of the first three quarters, caught the Hornets 30-29 on a jumper by 6-4 junior center Dick Clark.

A slow but steady chopping away of the Henley nine point edge was credited chiefly to an overall team surge sparked by the rebounding of Larry Rick, Nick Johnson and Clark who pulled down 17, 13 and 10 respectively.

The Hornets, paced by Ray Brown's high of 12 points, led 11-7 at the close of the first period, 19-17 at the half and 33-30 at the end of the third frame. Brown's total came off six driving layups after some interceptions.

Johnson hit four field goals and 5-3 at the foul line to lead the Malin scorers while Greg Prescott was next with 19.

The scoring summary: Henley (42)—Chapman 3, Gooding 2, Brown 12, Kendall 8, Albritton 9, Thompson 2, Herringshaw 4, Tacchini 2.

Malin (45)—N. Johnson 11, Rick 4, Clark 9, Brown 9, Prescott 10, Steyskal, Cox.

WADE PATTERSON ... still unbeaten

Chiloquin 70, Bly 35
The powerful Panthers, with the advantage of height and experience, used all 10 players, the reserves serving equal time, in counting their embarrassing victory.

They led 20-10 at the quarter, 40-14 at the half, and 57-28 at the end of the third.

Butch Crume added 20 points to his already big total but even so he only shaded Bly's little Jim Hall by 1. Hall collected 19.

The game was the only league counting action on the evening's slate.

The scoring summary: Chiloquin (70)—Heglund 8, Case 9, Nygren 4, Crume 20, Cunningham 2, A. Wilder 4, Jackson 2, DeBartoli 2, Eggman 4.

Bly (35)—Hall 19, Clemens 2, Washburn 5, Hathaway 4, Thompson 3, Watts.

Scrimmage Not So Tough After All

By OSCAR FRALEY

MILAMI, Fla. (UPI)—The husky, robust young men with the smiling faces looked strangely out of place as they filed through the doorway of the sprawling building which gleamed a dazzling white in the sunshine.

They laughed and joked, as young men will. Few of them noticed the message carved over the arch through which they passed.

"A little child shall lead them." This was but an interlude in a

UW Huskies Toughen Up, Shed Weight

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—With the temperature in the 80's, Washington's Huskies continued Wednesday to toughen up and take off excess weight for the Jan. 2 football game with Minnesota in the Rose Bowl.

Coach Jim Owens said the first scrimmage would come later in the week, perhaps Thursday, and that a two-a-day contact drills are to continue through next week.

It was 81 degrees as the Huskies went through their paces Tuesday at Veterans Memorial Stadium. Before the day was over everyone was dog-tired and it was a stiff and sore group of athletes that trudged into their hotel rooms for rest.

"This was the first hard practice we've had," said Owens. "The first since our last game Nov. 19. Quite naturally, the boys are stiff and sore, but the weather is ideal for working off excess weight and we hope to be fit and ready for Minnesota."

Quarterbacks Bob Hivner and Bob Schloredt did a lot of passing Tuesday and the entire squad was on the run most of the time. There was more of the same Wednesday and the really hard contact starts Thursday.

"We'll work on our passing in every drill from now on," said Owens. "I just hope this great weather continues through the day of the game. I know Minnesota feels the same. A wet or sloppy field never helps anyone."

While Minnesota is known as a running team, it has used an average of 11.5 passes a game. Washington's average is 10. Minnesota will hold an edge in weight, but Owens, a stickler for conditioning and fitness, expresses no concern for that disadvantage, if such it is.

Humboldt State Shades Raiders

ARCATA, Calif. (AP)—Humboldt State evened the score with Southern Oregon in its basketball series here by capturing a 59-56 decision Tuesday night.

Southern Oregon had won the previous night 66-62. Gordon Carrigan of Southern Oregon led scoring with 22 points. George Milonis tallied 19 for Humboldt.

breathless, fast-paced holiday. They were here to play in a football game, the North-South Shrine game at the Orange Bowl on Dec. 26. They had just posed for photographs. Now, en route to practice, they had stopped to visit the Variety Children's Hospital.

They were light-hearted and merry in manner, and mien. Outside, in the glittering sunshine, the world was bright and beautiful. Strength and health scintillated lustily in their own bodies. These were young men hard and tanned and fit and they walked tall and proud and unfraid.

Know About Pain
Until, in the darkly cool corridors within, they entered a Lilliputian world where the wide-eyed innocents who greeted them shyly knew more about pain than all the gridirons of the world.

Now, suddenly, the merriment was gone; a mist burned away by the hot Florida sun, a thing loomed off as if by the merciless brutality of a cleaver.

There were a dozen children in one ward: A doll-like 10-year-old in a wheel chair with a leg dwarfed by polio propped lifelessly in front of her. A freckled seven-year-old looking up wonderingly from the flat of his iron-rilled bed, sighting over a hip to toe cast. A curly-haired tyke whose livid, twisted chin massaged a piece of bubble gum as he hopped toward them on fire-scattered legs.

"Hello," twinkled the one in the wheel chair. "My name's Maria. How are you?"

"They were stopped cold, the huge, healthy ones. Even if you know about these kind of things, you have a way of forgetting them outside in the sunshine.

"Well I'll be dawg," softly breathed Monte Lee, a massive guard from Texas, bending down from his six feet, four inches to say softly: "Hi, Sweetie. My name's Monte." There was no point in asking how she was. The smile told you things were getting better.

"Elephants" Treaded Softly
It broke the ice. Now the big ones moved carefully around the ward, treading cautiously like elephants in a field of mice. Ron Kostelnik, a 238-pound tackle from Cincinnati, hoisted a little girl high above the floor while she squealed with delight. Georgia Tech's Bill Shaw, eye to eye with him, and, at that moment, shoulder to shoulder come what may next Monday night, carefully lofted a smiling little boy. The cast didn't get in the way at all.

Another little girl raised her arms and, while he handled her with uncertainty, you knew that this was one time fullback Bill Brown of Illinois wasn't going to fumble.

They stayed longer than they should have, taking time from the practice toward which they had been headed until those in charge shepherded them away. Shrill little voices called goodbyes and the big ones, lumbering out, paused solemnly in the doorway to wave and swallow hastily and head toward the sunshine.

"Daw-gone," breathed one, "I thought scrimmage was tough."

That was all. For they were strangely quiet as they left.

Olympic Ace To Compete In Big Meet

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Otis Davis, the Los Angeles athlete who got away to the University of Oregon and later became the Olympic 400 meters champion at Rome, will race in the Jan. 21 Los Angeles Invitational track meet, it was announced today.

Davis won his gold medal at Rome last summer by outspringing Germany's speedy Carl Kaufman. He was timed in :44.9 in the photo finish duel.

The lanky Negro, who hopes to enter public relations or advertising after his track career is over, won another gold medal by anchoring the United States' victorious 1600-meter relay team.

Los Angeles Invitational officials are hoping to sign Eddie Southern, the former University of Texas and Olympic star, and Dickie Howard, another Olympic 400-meter hurdler, to race against Davis.

Also entered in the meet are sprinter Wilma Rudolph, the great girl athlete; shot putter Parry O'Brien and Olympic pole vault champion Don Bragg.

49er Coach Inks Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers got a new three-year contract Wednesday at a boost in salary for doing what a pro football coach should: win games.

Owner Vic Morabito signed Hickey to a pact at an undisclosed salary figure, the terms extending through the 1963 National Football League season.

Hickey had identical 7-5 records in his two seasons as 49ers head man and his team this year finished tied for second in the Western Division with Detroit.

His original 1959 contract still had a year on it.

USC Mentor To Keep Post

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—John McKay, personable West Virginian who had a 4-6 record at the University of Southern California in his first season as a head football coach, will continue to coach the Trojans at least for three more years.

Dr. Norman Topping, president of the university, announced the new contract, which will become effective March 1, when McKay's original one-year pact ends.

"We have always been solidly behind Johnny McKay since we first appointed him last year," Topping said. "And we have been assured of widespread support of the USC family of this contract."

National 'Softness' Problem Says JFK

NEW YORK (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today called the growing physical softness of Americans a "national problem" and said his incoming administration has a plan to combat it.

In a copyrighted article written for Sports Illustrated, Kennedy said that he is disturbed by the lack of improvement in the "physical well-being of students in our schools" despite urging during the past five years.

"This is a national problem," he charged, "and it requires national action."

Kennedy outlined a four-step plan of action to combat this

"menace to our security" and said Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, the new secretary of health, education and welfare, will have the responsibility for implementing the program.

The president-elect plans to: — Establish a White House committee on health and fitness to formulate and carry out a program to improve the physical condition of the nation.

— Make physical fitness of our youth the direct responsibility of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

— Invite the governor of each state to attend an annual National Youth Fitness Congress.

— Proclaim through all departments of government that the promotion of sports participation and physical fitness is a basic and continuing policy of the United States.

Jack Salmon Runs Heavy

PORTLAND (AP)—Jack salmon ran particularly heavy in the coast streams this fall, perhaps presaging better runs of fall silverside salmon in the future, the state Fish Commission said Tuesday.

Commission biologists said the pellet form of feeding at state hatcheries provides a balanced diet for young fish and helps the prospect of better runs.

The commission also said that surplus jacks were taken from the water at hatcheries and used for such things as school lunch programs and state institutions.

Mountaineers Nab 3rd Win Over Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Larry Applegate sank two free throws with six seconds left in the game to give Eastern Oregon College a 75-73 basketball decision over the University of Alaska here Tuesday night. The victory gave the Mountaineers the four-game series, 3 to 1.

Applegate's shots broke a 73-73 deadlock created by Alaska's Bill Ackiss with 55 seconds left in the contest.

Despite the close finish the two teams were widely separated during portions of the game. Alaska built up an early 13-point lead and was in front 36-26 at the intermission.

But the Mountaineers, with Don Shore, Applegate and Tom Neel pacing the second half attack and using a full-court press effectively, forced the Polar Bears into many mistakes and stole the ball on numerous occasions.

Forty-Niner Crowds Big

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—There were two professional football teams operating in San Francisco in 1960—but you couldn't tell it by the attendance figures.

Statistics released today by the San Francisco Park and Recreation Board showed that the new Oakland Raiders of the American Football League played to only 65,736 fans. And of these, only 49,235 were paid for the seven games played. Four of these were at Kezar Stadium, the rest at Candlestick Park.

On the other hand, the Forty Niners, in their 14th season in pro ball, drew a total attendance of 312,382—only 3,000 below their all-time high. Their paid attendance was 298,369. All their games were played at Kezar.

Bronc Pilot Hired By A's

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—Catcher-Manager John McNamara is assured of a third season as manager of the Lewiston Broncs in the Northwest baseball league under a full working agreement with the Kansas City Athletics.

The Athletics want him, directors of the club said Tuesday. The directors accepted the new agreement, replacing a partial one they had last season. Kansas City will name the manager and pay his salary.
